HERO OF SEA ROMANCE STRUCK BY SQUALL IN SHAPE OF AN ORDER FOR HIS ARREST.

JASPER E. OGLESBY.

Jasper E. Oglesby's brother, Colonel John D. Oglesby, telegraphed from Springfield to New York yesterday an order to arrest Jasper and prevent a marriage to Miss Ida Rogers of New York, to whom he became engaged after a two days' acquaintance on the liner St. Paul en route to this country. Colonel Oglesby said he had no objections to the marriage if Miss Rogers proves to be of standing claimed for her, but as his brother's guardian he desired to assure himself of this before permitting the marriage to take place. After sending the order of arrest Colonel Oglesby learned his brother had left New York and was en route to the family home at Elkhart, Ill.

OGLESBY SOUGHT BY THE POLICE.

Brother and Guardian of Hero of Ocean Romance Asks Arrest, but Man Is Not Found.

BELIEVED ON WAY HOME.

Reports of Secret Marriage and of Opposition to Engagement by Family of Miss Rogers Denied.

WEDDING MAY BE DELAYED.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Jasper E. Oglesby, hero of an ocean romance in which he became engaged to Miss Ida Rogers on a two days' acquaintance, was sought today by the police, as the result of a request for his arrest by his brother and guardian, Colonel John D. G. Oglesby of Illinois.

No warrant was issued for Oglesby, the police being asked to locate the youth and have him communicate with his family.

Young Oglesby was not found. He has left the Waldorf-Astoria, where he had been boarding, and friends say he is on his way to his home in Elkhart, Ill.

Secret Marriage Is Denied.

Statements that Oglesby and Miss Rogers had been married secretly are denied by friends of both. Members of the Rogers family say the marriage cannot take place for a year, but they admit that the engagement exists.

Reported opposition in the Rogers family to the marriage was denied today by Thomas Rogers of 1086 Boston road, father of the young woman. Mr. Rogers added that he had heard nothing of any objections from the young man's relatives.

Colonel Oglesby, who is private secretary to Governor Yates, explained in his request for his brother's arrest that he wanted Jasper held until the family could learn details concerning the engagement.

Meeting on Ocean Liner.

Jasper E. Oglesby is the youngest son of the late Governor Oglesby of Illinois. He had made a tour of Europe in company with William A. Birge of Chicago, and was returning home on the steamer St. Paul when he met Miss Rogers, who was traveling with her aunt, Mrs. George A. Wheelock.

The St. Paul reached this port last Sunday. Oglesby and Birge brought with them an atmosphere of good-fellowship when they boarded the St. Paul at Southampton, and were quickly on good terms with every one. Their hospitality was unbounded. Mr. Oglesby, who is dark, well knit, and jolly, sought an introduction to Miss Rogers, whose beauty and vivacity had attracted him. Her chaperon gave permission, and the introduction took place on the second day out.

He was not seen again in the smoking-room after that. He passed his time on the promenade deck with the New York girl. On the fourth day of the trip their acquaintance had progressed at twenty-knot speed through the stages of friendship, attachment, and love into an engagement of marriage.

Dinner in Honor of Engagement.

The betrothal was made public at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock in honor of the betrothal in the saloon of the St. Paul on Saturday night. There were present as guests T. W. Adams, General McCockry Butt, who made a speech; Mrs. E. E. Colby, John D. Loud, and Mrs. F. J. Upper, all of New York; Mr. Birge of Chicago, Mrs. A. F. Boultbee, Alfred Carroll of Montreal, Mrs. C. Dellwik of London, J. T. Lodge of Boston, Miss A. M. Mitchell of Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. E. Y. Mitchell of Paris.

In brimming glasses the health of the couple was drunk with cheerful repetition. The news was soon all over the ship, and every one wished them good luck.

Early Wedding Is Arranged.

It was agreed that the wedding should take place within thirty days, providing the parents of Miss Rogers should approve.

The announcement of the engagement when the passengers were landed on Sunday was a general surprise to the friends of both. The romantic feature of the love affair was considered especially interesting.

At first it was feared there might be opposition to the match, but Miss Rogers' family seemed satisfied with the girl's choice.

No opposition is expected from Mr. Oglesby's family when the young man makes his explanations.

Miss Rogers is about 21, tall, and well formed. Her eyes are dark brown and her hair is wavy and brown. She admitted that the engagement was somewhat unconventional.

Rogers Family Is Wealthy.

Miss Rogers is a granddaughter of the late Jason Rogers, inventor and millionaire member of the Rogers Locomotive Building company of Paterson, N. J. Her maternal grandfather, Colonel William Cauldwell, was owner of the New York Mercury, real estate operator, owner of the Hotel Empire, Wall street speculator, trustee of the Jason Rogers estate, and Senator. Thomas Rogers, her father, is a wealthy man. The Rogers family has figured largely in the newspapers for years. Thomas Rogers and his father-in-law, Colonel William Cauldwell, as trustee of the Jason Rogers estate, were alleged to have wasted a part of the millions of the engine builder. Thomas was once held by the Surrogate to be liable to the estate for $60,000. The fight over the Rogers millions has gone on for more than thirty years.

The sisters of Thomas Rogers two years ago obtained judgment against the estate for $398,837. Then Jacob S. Rogers, surviving brother of Jason, threatened to close down the great locomotive works at Paterson. Again, after Jacob S. Rogers died, Thomas Rogers was one of four heirs to file a caveat, but the executors won and were appointed administrators of the estate.

Brother May Give Consent.

Springfield, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—Colonel John D. G. Oglesby admitted today that he had requested his brother's arrest. He said he had become weary of waiting for some definite information concerning the engagement. Colonel Oglesby said he has no objection to his brother's marriage provided the engagement was straight and the young woman what she is reported to be.

"I am his guardian," he said, "and have no information on which I could give my consent to this marriage. I want to look out for my brother's welfare and will give my consent if the engagement is all right."

JUSTICES BREAK THE LAW

ADMINISTRATION OF IT IN POLICE COURTS HELD ILLEGAL.

Magistrates Admit Rule Against Sitting in More than One Place—Keeping of Brief and Defective Records Also Contrary to Requirements of the Statute—Hard Problem Confronts the Mayor in Naming a Successor to M. R. M. Wallace.

Chicago's police court system may be a piece of legal machinery with no legal power. Lawbreakers who are tried before these courts by the scores every day are sentenced by magistrates who, if present conditions are not altered, may be found to have no legal right to adjudicate cases. Should enforcement of the law bring this result the 1,200 prisoners in the bridewell would stand in the light of serving sentences illegally imposed and nothing could bar their release.

Statements to this effect were made yesterday by justices of the peace who have studied the legal tangle closely as a result of the problem Mayor Harrison is facing in appointing a successor as police justice to the late Justice M. R. M. Wallace.

Violations of Law Practiced.

Prevailing violations of the law on which the Supreme and Appellate Courts have declared and which may overthrow the present system are held to be:

The maintaining of private courts by justices who sit as police judges during the morning and then gather in many fees with a grist of civil cases. It is contended that a justice cannot hold court in two or three places; in other words, that "he cannot carry his court under his hat."

No records whatever, as required by law, are kept by the justices at the various police courts. They use any kind of a book to jot down memoranda which make no pretense at being formal records as required by law.

Where He Keeps Docket.

The court of a justice of the peace is where that justice keeps the docket which he is directed to keep. In the case of all present police justices they keep dockets at their private offices. Hence, it is contended, they are not lawfully sitting in a court when they are in police stations with the makeshift records that in no way comply with the law. In proof of this the higher courts' records show many releases when prisoners have pressed their claims on this point.

Big Saving to City Possible.

Thorough enforcement of the law, it is said, would save $25,000 to the city annually. It is held that each justice serving in police courts should, according to the terms of the law, be allowed to hold court in no other place than the police station to which he is assigned by the Mayor. In this way, it is contended, one justice would do the work that now requires two at several stations. Such a change, it is claimed, would cut the city's annual expenditure of $72,300 for justices' salaries to $49,000.

The Supreme Court, in a case reported in the Sixty-ninth Illinois, held that a justice of the peace "must perform all judicial acts in his office, which must be at a known place." The Appellate Court of Cook County in a recent case held that a "justice is not a court carrying the judicial function wherever he goes. It is not a personal characteristic like the odor of sanctity."

Where Is a Justice's Office?

On the question of "Where is a justice's office?" the justices themselves cite the section of the Illinois Statutes—section 160, chapter 79—which says:

"It shall be the duty of every justice, whenever an action shall be commenced before him, to record, in a well-bound book, to be furnished by the County Clerk at the expense of the county, for that purpose, the names of the parties and the amount and nature of the debt sued for, the date and description of the process issued, and the name of the officer to whom such process shall be delivered, and throughout the whole proceedings in any action, it shall be the duty, whenever any process shall be issued or returned, or any order made, or judgment rendered, to make a written memorandum of the same, in the same book."

Effect of the Constitution.

"Now, the constitution of 1870," said a justice of the peace, "practically sets aside police magistrates in Chicago. The justices who sit in police courts sit there as justices of the peace. The Mayor of the city merely asks them to sit at such or such a police station, promising that thus they will get the city's business, and, of course, greatly convenience the city."

CHICAGO MAN IS DROWNED WHILE HUNTING ON FOX LAKE.

Body of Achilles A. Naissence Is Recovered from the Water and Taken to the Nippersink Club.

The body of a man who is believed to have been Achilles A. Naissence of Chicago was recovered from the waters of Fox Lake, Ill., yesterday afternoon and taken to the Nippersink club to await the action of the Coroner. Identification of the body was effected through a pocketbook on which the name was printed. Mr. Naissence was out on the lake in a rowboat hunting ducks, and it is supposed that in arising to shoot he capsized the boat. No person witnessed the accident, but a few minutes before his disappearance he was seen by several persons.

The Chicago Police department was notified of the accident, and an effort was made last evening to find where Mr. Naissence lived. At 3861 Lake avenue the police were informed that he had left the city several weeks ago. He was formerly a teacher in the Cambridge School at 99 Forty-seventh street.

Floating near the shore at Barry avenue, the body of an unidentified man was discovered yesterday morning by Gus Anderson, a fisherman, and brought to the water's edge. The man was about 40 years old, and poorly dressed. Two pawn tickets, one issued to John Blair, were found in the man's clothes. Apparently the body had been in the water two weeks at least.

BARBER'S CHURCH GETS $3,000

John B. Duke Pays Off Debt as the Price of a Sunday Morning Shave.

Richmond, Va., April 1.—[Special.]—J. B. Duke, President of the American Tobacco company, arrived in Durham, N. C., Sunday from New York on a visit to his father, Washington Duke. Sunday morning he sent for a colored barber to come up and shave him. The barber is a prominent member of St. Joseph's Methodist Church (colored), which had an indebtedness of some $3,000. During the shave this fact became known to Mr. Duke, and when the operation was concluded he tendered his check to cover the indebtedness. John Myrick, the barber, says it is the largest price he ever received for a single shave.

BUTLER MURDERS WOMAN AND CHILD

Negro at Philadelphia Kills Employer and One Daughter and Mortally Wounds the Other.

REVENGE OBJECT OF DEED

Man Detected in Thefts Learns Warrant Has Been Sworn Out and Determines to Slay Entire Family.

FOOLS POLICE, BUT IS CAUGHT

Philadelphia, Pa., April 1.—[Special.]—Detected in thefts and knowing a warrant for his arrest had been issued, William H. Lane, a negro butler, this morning killed his employer, Mrs. Ella J. Furbush, her 12-year-old daughter, Madeline, and mortally wounded Eloise, another daughter, aged 7 years.

His desire for revenge sated, the negro looted the handsome house, secured the money and jewelry belonging to Mrs. Furbush, and started to escape. At that point two policemen, sent to arrest him, rang the door bell. Lane admitted them, said he would call his mistress, and escaped through the back door. Purchasing a new suit of clothes and a box of cigars, he fled to Camden, but the police, who had discovered the crime, headed him off there. He was arrested, and, after a struggle with the Camden police, was thrown on board a ferry boat and brought back to the city without the ceremony of a requisition. He admitted his crime and said he was sorry. He stole, he said, in order to play policy, and determined to murder the family out of revenge when he discovered he was to be arrested.

Lived in Handsome House.

Mrs. Furbush lived with her two daughters in a handsomely furnished four-story house at 552 North Fifteenth street. She kept several servants, dressed strikingly, and lived a life of luxury. She had little to do with her neighbors. Coroner Dugan, when he took charge of the bodies, telegraphed Charles A. Furbush, a wealthy manufacturer of mill machinery, asking him what disposition should be made of the remains, but no reply was received. Mr. Furbush has offices in New York and in this city. He is a married man living on Spring Garden street, a short distance from the house in which today's tragedy took place.

Lane was engaged just before Christmas as butler by Mrs. Furbush. One of the other servants, a negro woman named Agnes, was in the house today when Lane committed the murders. Recently Mrs. Furbush missed small sums of money. She informed the police, who watched Lane and found he was playing policy heavily every day, and posing as the leader of negro society.

Sees Woman Counting Money.

On Monday night Lane saw Mrs. Furbush counting a large roll of bills. He watched her and saw her place the money in a drawer in her apartments, and, waiting until she was down-stairs, Lane went to her room and stole $70. This morning Mrs. Furbush missed the money. She questioned Lane, but he denied all knowledge of the theft. Mrs. Furbush said nothing more, but, driving to the police station, swore out a warrant for the arrest of the negro. Lane suspected he would be arrested and determined to kill the entire family, rob the house, and escape.

Kills the Mother First.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Lane crept up the stairs to the third floor and found Mrs. Furbush dressing in her room. Pushing open the door he fired twice. One bullet went through Mrs. Furbush's heart and she fell dead in front of her dressing table.

Eloise, who was in an adjoining room, heard the shots and rushed to her mother's room. As she ran into the room Lane shot her and she fell. Thinking her dead Lane went down-stairs and called to Madeline, the other daughter, who was roller skating on the sidewalk, saying her mother wanted her. The other servant, who was ironing in the laundry, did not hear him nor did she hear the shots.

Entices Child to Her Death.

Madeline climbed the stairs without even stopping to remove her roller skates. Lane followed her. The little girl skated across the third floor hallway towards her mother's room, calling to ask what was wanted. As she entered the door and saw the bodies of her mother and sister she turned and the negro shot her, killing her instantly.

Flees While Police Wait.

Lane then proceeded to rob the house. He found $130 in currency, two watches, and a pocketbook. He descended to the lower floor and was searching for the rest of the jewelry, when the door bell rang. Answering the bell, the murderer met two policemen, who had been sent to arrest him. They asked to see Mrs. Furbush. Lane told them to be seated, saying he would call his mistress. He ran up the stairs, grabbed his overcoat, went down the back stairs and out through the laundry, speaking to the servant, who was ironing there.

The two policemen waited for twenty minutes for Lane to return. Then one of them, thinking he heard groans, started an investigation. The groans led them to the third floor. There, in the hallway, they found little Eloise, who had crawled from her mother's room to the head of the stairs. She said: "William shot my mamma and my sister and tried to kill me." Then she fainted.

An ambulance was called, and the wounded girl was sent to the hospital. The entire police force of this city and Camden was started in search of the murderer. He was traced to a clothing store, across town to the Reading station, and down to the ferry. Two detectives learned he was trying to reach Bridgeton, N. J., and, making a rapid run, they reached the Pennsylvania station in Camden before the train was due to start.

One of the detectives knew Lane by sight.

Taken from Camden Police.

The negro was walking calmly up and down the waiting-room, attired in new clothes. The two detectives overpowered him before he could move. Camden policemen attempted to keep the local detectives from taking the prisoner out of New Jersey, but Lane was dragged hurriedly to the ferry, thrown on board despite the protests of the New Jersey officers, and brought to this city.

Lane said he was sorry for what he had done. He was surprised to hear Eloise was alive and said he always liked her and hesitated to kill her, but "it was necessary to do so."

A GLIMPSE AT NEXT SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE.

A new series of stories by Will Levington Comfort begins Sunday. They deal with the romance of the promoter's business, a new but fascinating field for the short-story writer. The first story is called "The Man from Three Pines."

LYNCHES NEGRO AND FIRES 1,000 BALLS INTO HIS BODY.

Mob at Rome, Ga., Wreaks Swift Vengeance on Man Who Had Attacked a White Girl.

Rome, Ga., April 1.—Walter Allen, a negro charged with attacking Miss Blossom Adamson, a 15-year-old girl, in this city yesterday afternoon, was taken from the jail tonight by 4,000 men, who battered down the prison doors, and hanged him to an electric light pole in the principal portion of the city.

A volley was fired afterward and fully a thousand bullets entered the negro's body.

Miss Adamson was on her way to a dressmaker's late yesterday afternoon when she was met by Allen, who told her that a dressmaker at a designated residence was waiting to see her. The young girl went to the house mentioned by the negro, who followed her into the house, which Miss Adamson found was vacant.

A woman on a near-by porch, attracted by the noise of the struggle, succeeded in frightening Allen away and he escaped. Late this afternoon he was captured and brought to this city and placed in jail.

As soon as the news of his capture was learned a mob formed tonight and marched to the jail, demanding the negro. The Sheriff refused to deliver the keys and pleaded that the law should be allowed to take its course.

Upon the Sheriff's refusal of the keys the jail door was forced open with sledge hammers and the steel cage of Allen's cell broken in. The negro was carried a square and a half away and allowed to make a statement. Allen declared that he was innocent and prayed that the guilty party would be found, All the men who took part in the hanging were unmasked.

Miss Adamson belongs to one of the most prominent families in Rome.

FATHER AND FIVE CHILDREN PERISH IN BURNING HOUSE.

Johnstown Man Meets Death in Attempt to Rescue Little Ones—Mother and Three Babes Escape.

Johnstown, Pa., April 1.—[Special.]—Philip P. Mitchell, aged 53 years, and five of his children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home in Prosser Hollow, a mile outside the city limits, tonight. The mother and three other children escaped. A son was away from home at the time.

Mitchell could have escaped, but went up-stairs in an attempt to rescue the children. Mrs. Mitchell was burned seriously in getting three of the children out of the house. The little ones who perished ranged in age from 14 to 6 years.

Mrs. Mitchell and her daughter Sophia were the first to be awakened by the smoke. They woke the father and ran outside and screamed for help. Neighbors were aroused, but they could do nothing but stand helplessly by and watch the house burn.

Mrs. Mitchell endeavored to save the children and gathered them in a room above the kitchen. They were frightened, and as fast as she got them into this room they ran out. Finally she was compelled to abandon her efforts to save all of them.

Mitchell had rushed down to the kitchen to get water to extinguish the fire. He did not realize the extent of the flames when he left his room, but when he reached the first floor he saw it was impossible to save the house. Then he returned up-stairs and was not seen alive again.

SHUN DEATHTRAP AND PAY OF THE FORESTERS.

Residents of Brighton Park Refuse to Aid in the Search for Patrick O'Neill's Body—Fear a Hoodoo.

The clay hole which is supposed to have swallowed the body of Patrick J. O'Neill is viewed with such superstitious dread by residents of Brighton Park that the Catholic Order of Foresters has been unable to hire men to carry on the work of pumping the pit free of water. It was said last night by Assistant City Prosecutor Carmichael that Italians would be imported into the district to work the pumps.

"I cannot understand why the Brighton Park laborers are so fearful," said Mr. Carmichael last night, "but for some reason they have become convinced that the death hole is hoodooed. Money will not tempt them to go near it."

Eight Italians were hired last evening and today more will be engaged. It is hoped that the pumping can be resumed this afternoon.

GOV. DOLE OF HAWAII ARRIVES.

Is on His Way to Confer with President Roosevelt Over Affairs in the Island.

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—Governor S. B. Dole of Hawaii arrived here tonight on the steamer Sierra en route to Washington to discuss with President Roosevelt Hawaiian affairs.

Secretary Henry E. Cooper will be Acting Governor of Hawaii during Governor Dole's absence.

The anti-missionary and anti-Dole element of Honolulu contend that Governor Dole goes to Washington on the defensive.

Governor Dole's supporters say that his conference with the President will clear away all danger of any act adverse to Dole's policy.

*Stanley H. Kunz,	John J. Brennan,
*Michael Conlon,	James T. Roach,
*John Powers.	Frederick A. Hart,
	Michael McInerney.

*Reélected.

The Aldermanic election yesterday had results shown in the table at the head of this column. A total of 204,379 votes was cast. The vote cast in Chicago at the national election in 1900 was 364,545.

In the newly elected City Council the Republicans have a majority of eight over all, counting Roach, the only Independent, as a Democrat.

A remarkable feature of the election was the sweeping victory achieved by the Municipal Voters' league. Of the thirty-six Aldermen elected yesterday, twenty-eight were indorsed by the league, and only eight candidates condemned by it were successful.

Of these eight there was no possible chance to defeat six, and in the two fights the league lost, in the Fourth and Ninth wards, the contests were extremely close. In the Ninth Ward the official count may change the result.

Offensive Ones Turned Down.

To offset its few defeats the league scored against "Charley" Martin in the Fifth Ward, Rohde in the Eleventh, Oberndorf in the Seventeenth, and Henry Wulff in the Twenty-seventh. It also succeeded in electing three Democratic candidates in Republican wards, where it had no special objection to the Republican candidates but urged the return of the Democrats on the plea of rewarding good service. These were Maypole in the Fourteenth, Finn in the Twentieth, and Minwegen in the Twenty-first.

In the Twenty-eighth the league's candidate, George K. Schmidt, the Republican, was successful, although the ward is Democratic.

All of the winning candidates condemned by the league were Democrats, and, as stated, most of them were sure of election the day they were nominated. There never was any chance of defeating Coughlin in the First Ward, as his 2,600 plurality shows. Conlon in the Eighteenth was opposed only by a Prohibitionist, and the only one running against Powers in the Nineteenth was a Single Taxer.

Novak Plays in Luck.

In the Tenth there might have been a chance to defeat Novak had not Senator Mahoney and other enemies of City Clerk Loeffler attempted to even scores. Loeffler, who might otherwise have kept out of the fight, consequently was compelled to make Novak's cause his own. The result was the election of Novak by the largest majority he ever had.

Stanley Kunz's election was conceded from the start, and in the Twelfth the independent candidacy of W. F. Brennan made Cerveny's election practically certain. Had Brennan, who ran third, kept out of the race his votes undoubtedly would have gone to Fetzner, the Republican candidate, and he could have been elected.

Of the other two candidates who won over the protests of the league W. E. Kent had only a little over 200 plurality in the Fourth Ward and Fick was only 80 votes ahead in the Ninth.

Martin's Overthrow Notable.

The victory over Martin in the Fifth Ward was the most notable one the league achieved. It selected Robert K. Sloan, a Democrat, as its candidate, and persuaded the Republicans to indorse him. The result was that the regular Democratic candidate was beaten in the strongest Democratic ward in the city.

In the Twenty-seventh Ward also the league scored heavily. It made its first fight at the Republican primaries, securing the nomination of ex-Alderman Butler. The independent candidacy of Henry Wulff then was opposed, and Wulff was turned down. His defeat is particularly gratifying to the league, as one of the incidents of the campaign was a $100,000 libel suit brought against the league by Wulff.

The defeat of Rohde in the Eleventh Ward, however, was the surprise of the campaign. Moertel, the Republican candidate indorsed by the league, made a still hunt of it, and the friends of Rohde never knew he had any serious opposition until the votes were counted last evening. Then they found that Rohde was beaten.

Party Lines Are Reversed.

The defeat of Fletcher Dobyns, the Republican candidate in the Twenty-first Ward, was due entirely to Republican votes. The Democrats in the southern end of the ward practically repudiated Minwegen, and had Dobyns received anything like the straight Republican vote in the north end of the ward he would have been elected. He failed to get it, however, and last evening City Sealer Quinn was jubilant.

The defection of the Democrats in the southern end of the ward was generally ascribed to the work of Robert E. Burke, who undoubtedly did all he could to defeat Minwegen. Of this Quinn remarked:

"There was a lot of dirty work done in the ward to beat Minwegen, but, as I predicted at the start, the same class of voters, irrespective of party, who returned Charlie Walker to the Council for a second term have done the same thing for Minwegen. It is a reward of merit and he is entitled to it."

Better Council, Mayor Says.

Mayor Harrison remained at his home after dinner and heard the returns there. After the results were known he said:

"It is apparent that the new Council will be as good and probably better than the old. And, of course, that is really what good citizens are interested in. Nearly all the retiring Aldermen were good men, and practically all have been reëlected. Added to those, several Aldermen have been elected throughout the city who are improvements on their predecessors. On the whole, I think Chicago is to be congratulated on the result. The standard of Chicago Aldermen has been gradually raised for the last six years, and this year has been no exception to that rule.

"I think the new Council will be safe on the traction question. I have no fault to find with the result."

Mayor Harrison inquired the result in the Twenty-fourth Ward, but had no comment to make on Alderman Raymer's reëlection.

Means an Honest Council.

Officials of the Municipal Voters' league say that three-fourths of the members of the new Council will stand firmly for the cause of good government. The "honest men" of the Council, they assert, will organize the new body on non-partisan lines and the solution of the traction franchise extension problem, they declare, is in safe hands.

"The citizens of Chicago may be assured," said Secretary Walter L. Fisher of the league, "that the next City Council will be the best Chicago has known in its history."

It is declared fifty-three members of the new Council can be depended on to fight for the city's interests. In this number are classed two or three men who have gone out of line somewhat on a number of minor problems. It is contended, however, that they can be depended on to stand for the city's interests in the settling of franchises or other crucial problems. In any event there will be a margin of three or four over the two-thirds vote necessary to sustain vetoes of the Mayor.

Of the thirty-six new members elected twenty-eight are pledged to the league's platform. Of this pledged number fifteen are men who have been tried by two or four years of service.

Of the thirty-four "hold-overs" twenty-five are counted on to stand for the city's interests. Nine are classed as "gray wolves," or "not to be depended on."

Three Contests Promised.

Contests are to be entered at once by the league in three of the wards. Alderman Coughlin's election in the First Ward will be attacked and arrests are promised. A recount will be insisted on, warrants charging bribery and the buying of votes.

Alderman Kent's defeat of Crowley in the Fourth Ward by 191 votes is also to be contested, and a recount will be demanded. Fick's defeat of Miller in the Ninth Ward by 80, as the returns show, is to be the issue for another fight.

Ye Old-Time Poets' Corner.

My Heart Is Dreary.

My heart, my heart is dreary,
In the rioting month of May,
And I lean me against the linden
That grows on the ramparts gray.

The blue moat slides beneath me,
Like a blue moat in a dream;
A boy in a boat rows whistling,
And trails a line in the stream.

Beyond in a rising terrace
Glitters the world—and its goods,
Houses and gardens and people,
Oxen and meadows and woods.

Young maids are bleaching linen,
And move in the grass like deer;
The mill churns powdered diamonds,
And its far-off hum is clear.

A sentry box is standing
By the city old and brown;
And a scarlet-coated lad there
Is pacing up and down.

Idly he plays with his musket;
On its barrel the sun shines red;
He shoulders it, he presents it—
I wish he would shoot me dead.

For Benefit of Moving Library.

There will be an illustrated lecture under the auspices of the Chicago Library club tonight at Handel Hall. The object is to benefit the moving library movement. Professor Zeublin of Chicago University will be the lecturer, and to better show what has been accomplished in the movement he will use a stereopticon.

HOODOO IN TOWN MEETING

THIRTEEN CITIZENS OF THE SOUTH TOWN PRESENT.

They Vote to Pass Bills After Hearing the Report of Supervisor Norris—Justices Fail to Keep Word About $50 a Week Salary Limit—West Board Adjourns Until Today—Tangle in Lake Affairs and Two Suits Result.

Thirteen citizens of the South Town were present at the town meeting yesterday and voted to pass the yearly bill for the maintenance of the town government. The citizens were nearly all employés of the South Town, and assembled in the private offices before they entered the Collector's office at 2 o'clock.

There was no interference, and the town meeting lasted fifteen minutes. Martin Emerich was chosen moderator. The report of Supervisor Hugh Norris was made in the shape of a typewritten statement of items and amounts, but there was no signature and nothing to indicate the official nature of the paper. It showed a total pay roll for the year of $30,677 out of a total expenditure of $43,692.

It developed that the justices failed to keep their word when they passed a resolution limiting the salary of any one man to $50 a week. At the last meeting, held Friday, bills for overtime for Chief Clerk J. W. Dunne, Cashier C. S. Gurney, and Head Bookkeeper J. S. Thompson were allowed, and these men will receive compensation as follows:

J. W. Dunne, 14½ weeks' work, at $50	$ 725
J. W. Dunne, 14 weeks' overtime, at $20	280
Total	$1,005
C. S. Gurney, 11 weeks' work, at $30	$ 330
C. S. Gurney, 10½ weeks' overtime, at $20	210
Total	$ 540
J. S. Thompson, 10½ weeks' work, at $30	$ 315
J. S. Thompson, 10½ weeks' overtime, at $20	210
Total	$ 525

The overtime for Dunne came up in the form of a resolution at the [illegible]st meeting of the board, and was for $7[illegible]. This was cut down to $20 a week before it was passed. Justices Martin, Richardson, and Everett voted against it.

Supervisor Norris prided himself that he could report a balance of $24,391, with all bills against the town paid. This is nearly $20,000 more than was received from Supervisor Lawler. He was able to make a report of a large reduction of expenditures.

LIVELY MEETING IN EVANSTON.

"Liar" and "Coward" Are Retorts When Mayor Patten Talks of "Graft"—Reformers Beaten.

Indirect charges of "graft" were made by Mayor James A. Patten of Evanston at the annual meeting of the Town of Evanston yesterday, and in the uproar that ensued the speaker was called a liar and coward. Then the meeting killed the reform measures that were advocated by Mr. Patten and passed resolutions denouncing the authors of the charges that were made two weeks ago against Wesley L. Knox, ex-Town Collector.

The annual appropriations and reports of the town officers were under consideration, when Mayor Patten, supported by Professors Coe and Gray of Northwestern University began an attack on what they termed the illegal allowances made to town officers. Patten moved that $700 be cut off the amount asked by Fred B. Kappelman, Supervisor, and the motion carried. Then he attacked the system by which the Supervisor retains the interest on the money in his possession.

"The retention of this money," he said, "is nearly akin to 'graft.'"

A dozen men of the opposite party jumped to their feet.

"You're a liar," shouted one.

In the confusion the identity of the speaker was lost sight of, but Patten stood firm, and an animated debate followed.

Friends of the town government then arrayed themselves against the Mayor, and on a reconsideration defeated his motion to cut $700 from the allowance to the Supervisor, and passed a resolution denouncing the attack on Knox.

SALOONS OPEN: ARRESTS MADE

Police Invade a Number of Establishments Which Ignore Mayor's Order to Close.

Mayor Harrison's order to close all saloons while the polls were open was not generally obeyed throughout the city. Violations were numerous on the South and West Sides in particular. The Mayor is said to have instructed the Police department to furnish him a list of all saloons which failed to close, and it is expected that a number of licenses may be revoked.

During the day arrests were made for alleged failure to close the following places:

William Jacobson, 196 Madison street.
A. J. Thomas, 198 Madison street.
G. M. Whitmeyer, 190 Randolph street.
M. A. McDonald, 36 Fifth avenue.

VOTE ABOLISHES TOWN OFFICES.

Majority in Each Ward for Doing Away with Antique System in City.

EMPTY HONOR BESTOWED

Supervisors, Assessors, Clerks, and Collectors Have Now No Places to Occupy.

BEGINNING OF BIG REFORM.

Town officers were elected in the seven towns inside of Chicago yesterday, but they will never qualify. The citizens, by an overwhelming vote, adopted the proposition to abolish these now useless offices, and what is believed by many to be the first step toward a consolidation of all the various taxing and other governments inside the city, was successfully accomplished.

Although but 69,281 of the 204,879 citizens who voted for Aldermanic candidates marked their ballots on the town proposition, the majority in favor of abolishing these governments was 50,315 the vote standing 59,798 for and but 9,483 against. The vote by wards is given herewith:

As a result of this election the work of collecting the taxes, formerly partly done by the Town Collectors, will be transferred entirely to the County Collector, who is the County Treasurer. The small duties performed by the town clerks will devolve on the city and county clerks. The Supervisors never had anything to do that any one in recent years could discover. It is computed the change will save the taxpayers $500,000 a year, as well as do away with the numerous scandals which have constantly come up in connection with the town governments.

Work of Citizens' Association.

"This is just the first step in consolidation," said George E. Cole, President of the Citizens' association. "With the town governments gone the people have got to get after the rest of the taxing bodies and bring them together.

"There will be several questions yet to determine. The township officials will go with this vote. The position of the constables must be determined yet. They are elected in the towns. The township lines will stand until they have been removed by a constitutional convention."

Empty Honors in Towns.

Town elections were held as usual yesterday, but, as stated, the officers chosen will never be able to qualify. The results of these elections were:

ALWAYS A GOOD STYLE TO THE BARNES HAT Wabash & Monroe

Tired Feelings, Weariness, Lack of Energy, Despondency, and Moroseness in Spring, are Signs of Ill Health.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Rejuvenates the Fagged-Out System and Restores Perfect Health.

To thousands of people out-of sorts, weary, despondent, morose irritable, with weak, faltering step, pale faces, and dull and sunken eyes, not sick enough to be confined to bed, this is a critical and dangerous season—a time that urgently calls for prompt action, if recuperation and cure are the prime objects.

The past experience of hundreds of thousands, including able medical men, clergymen, judges, lawyers, literary men and women, the rich and those in high social position, points unhesitatingly to Paine's Celery Compound, the great medical prescription of modern times, that gives to the ailing, sick and diseased the true condition of health that insures happiness and true pleasures from day to day.

The virtues peculiar to Paine's Celery Compound quickly manifest their power in the correction of unhealthy nerve action, and supplying the veins with pure, more abundant, more vigorous, and life-giving blood.

Paine's Celery Compound is pre-eminently the best spring medicine known to medical practitioners for thoroughly cleansing and purifying the blood, and banishing the varied ills that result from a poisoned and impure condition of the life stream.

If you have any of the varied symptoms of rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney disease, eczema, or salt rheum, a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound used at this time will rapidly dispel all trouble and danger. We urge every weak, ailing, and sick person to fairly test the medicine that is doing more for suffering humanity than all other combined remedies.

Alderman Re-Elect Interprets the Result of First Ward Balloting.

KNOWS ALL THE VOTERS.

Approved Both by Merchants and Dwellers in Lodging-Houses.

LATTER NOW TO "MOVE ON."

A man carrying a bass drum sneaked out of the Frank headquarters in Dearborn street—First Ward—last night and went home. A cornet player followed him at a safe distance, and the rest of a band, which was not needed, made a stealthy escape.

In Michael Kenna's saloons a dazed set of lodging-house citizens slowly awoke to the fact that they were in the way and that their good friends, Mr. Coughlin and Mr. Kenna, wished they would move on. In South Clark street there was a procession of men who saw zig-zag lamp posts and three full moons to the block.

Alderman Breaks Training.

Alderman-reëlect Coughlin hung up the telephone receiver at 19 Plymouth place and broke training. His seventy precinct Captains also broke training. It was evident to the band, the lodging-house citizens, the precinct captains, and the Alderman-reëlect that the campaign was over. Coughlin got into his slippers and out of his coat and discussed the result at his residence, 1804 Michigan avenue.

"My friends who knew me best appreciated me," he said. "The First Ward is a city and I know all the people in it. You see I don't have to be introduced to any one and that is something. I had the business interests with me. Because why? Because whenever any one wants anything done I do it courteously. Marshall Field & Co., Mandel Bros., the First National Bank, and all of them were with me.

"A kind word and a favor is my way to reach the people of the First Ward. We have all kinds—both extremes. One extreme is down in Kenna's saloons now. What are you going to do about it? Give them some money to go to bed? Well, I don't see the Municipal Voters' league giving them anything."

How Do Others See Coughlin.

With the result of his campaign pretty well understood, the First Ward statesman fell into a questioning mood as to what the people thought of him.

"Honest now, what do you suppose people think of me?" he asked. "I am pictured half the time as a man who talks Bowery slang. It isn't fair. I don't use Bowery slang. One day I'll be made to talk this stuff and the next maybe there'll be a report of one of my addresses in correct language. Now, what do you suppose the people think of the First Ward Alderman—I mean the people who don't know him? I wonder if they think he is a Bowery tough or an orator.

"The police worked against me today. They chased some of my fellows away. Those college strong-boys didn't do any good. There wasn't anything for them to do. I like a stiff campaign. I never tire, and I'd rather have a fight than not.

"I've always lived in the First Ward, and that counts. I've lived here forty years, and people know that my father was an old settler here. That's why all the people know me, and that's why I get elected."

Voters' Usefulness Past.

While the Alderman-reëlect was discussing his political career the First Ward subjects were waking up to the fact that the election was over. In disconsolate groups they filled Kenna's saloons.

"I'm not going," said a man with no hat, no collar, nothing much in the way of shoes, and little in the way of a coat. "I'm not going until I get my money."

A trembling voter, who was seized at intervals with the "shakes," and who chewed a cigar stump hidden under a yellow mustache, approached one of Coughlin's lieutenants.

"G'wan away from here," said the lieutenant. "Ain't you goin' to git out? G'wan, I tell you."

He slapped the shaky voter across the face, and the man shuffled back a couple of steps, and stood half weeping and half growling.

Another with more success approached another lieutenant. Coughlin's aid pulled out a pocketbook and dug for a small coin. The man stepped to the bar, then changed his mind, and pushed out of the saloon for a lodging-house.

This awakening of the "floaters" and the lodging-house citizens was more or less bitter. Their value was gone temporarily.

Begin Day with Clear Heads.

The day began auspiciously for the Coughlin forces. In one respect the "Bathhouse" method is unique. He did not "make a night of it" as a preliminary to the day's work. His petty chiefs and his judges and clerks-to-be met with him at McCoy's Hotel at 9 p. m. on Monday. Coughlin talked matters over with them briefly, then sent them all to bed in the hotel and went to bed himself, leaving a call for 5 a. m.

Bright and early the whole organization arose, breakfasted with Coughlin in the hotel, and started into the fray at 6 a. m.—sober. What happened to some of them later is not related, but the First Ward Alderman was sure at any rate that his henchmen started with clear heads.

Football Men Hear Threats.

The University of Chicago athletes who went to the polls of the First Ward to learn municipal methods and to guard against brawls and intimidation met with wholesale threats, but no violence.

When the dozen husky warriors of the college gridiron left the Wyoming Hotel, where they had spent the night in order to report early in the morning, they divided their forces and went singly to the different polling places where trouble was expected.

A threatened attack upon John Webb, the champion tackle of 1899, was averted by the prompt action of a friend of the trouble-brewer, who pulled the belligerent heeler away from the college man.

An hour or more later, as Webb was standing near the Nineteenth Precinct polling place, a burly negro tapped him on the shoulder with a heavy cane and said:

"What do you want around here?"

"I'm watching people buy votes," answered Webb. "What do you want, yourself?"

Polling place loafers clustered around "Red" Carey and Marc Bedall, giant guards of the university football team, as they stood around the polling places, but aside from making threats offered no violence.

The football men were pleased with their experience, but were surprised that no trouble was started for their benefit.

It is worth while remembering that the shine on the elbows and shoulders of a gown can be removed by gentle friction with emery cloth.

An easy way to clean lamp chimneys is to hold them for a moment in the steam from a boiling kettle, rub dry with a clean cloth and polish with a soft newspaper.

Use alum to keep out the moths. Wash over the crevices of the boxes with alum water and sprinkle powdered alum wherever it is expected moths may make their appearance.

TYPICAL VESTMENTS FOR METHODIST CHOIR

Leander D. Condee, who, as chairman of the Committee on Music of St. James' Methodist Episcopal Church, has led in the movement for a permanent vested choir, has been collecting photographs showing the vestments used by other Methodist Churches of the country which have adopted the idea. The pictures given above—two singers of the First Methodist Church of Dubuque, Ia.—to Mr. Condee's mind show vestments which are typically Methodist. They are the same as are in use in St. James' Church, Chicago.

VOTE FOR CITY OWNERSHIP

ALL QUESTIONS ON REFERENDUM TICKET GET MAJORITIES.

More Ballots Cast on Traction Matter than on Municipal Lighting Plants or Direct Nomination of Candidates Without Conventions — Less than Three-fourths of Men Who Go to Polls Cast the Extra Ballot, and of Them Fewest Touch Primary Matter

More of the voters who availed themselves of the referendum ballot to express their opinion on the matters there submitted took an interest in the question of municipal ownership of street car lines than in that of lighting companies or the nomination of candidates by direct vote at the primaries.

Of the 204,379 citizens who voted for the Aldermanic candidates 150,591 also voted the referendum ballot on the proposition of the city taking over the traction companies, giving it a majority of 98,607. On the municipal ownership of gas and electric lighting companies 143,637 voted, but the majority here was 104,743. The proposition to do away with delegate conventions and choose party candidates for office by direct vote at the primaries received the least attention of all, the vote cast for it being 140,943, but the majority was the largest, reaching 109,221. The number of voters who did not take the trouble to express themselves at all on these matters ranged from 53,778 on the traction question to 63,336 for the primary vote.

The votes cast for and against the three questions in the thirty-five wards of Chicago are shown in these tables:

Reason for Referendum Ballot.

The referendum ballots were given out at the election in compliance with the law passed by the last Legislature, which requires that such opportunity to vote be given whenever a petition of 25 per cent of the legal voters of the community be presented asking that any given questions be submitted to the people for their approval or disapproval.

The law states that such an election shall not have any binding force, and it does not enact into a law anything which may be thus approved. It is simply intended to allow those voters who care to take advantage of it an opportunity to express themselves on the questions submitted. The members of the Legislature or the City Council can suit themselves as to whether or not they will follow the result of the election.

The ballots supplied were the result of a petition presented by the Referendum league to the Election Commissioners asking that three questions be presented to the people. They were:

Municipal ownership of street car lines.

Municipal ownership of gas and electric lighting companies.

Nomination of candidates by direct vote of the people.

There was considerable discussion as to the sufficiency of the petition, but it was recognized on the ground that as the law does not require a verification of the petition by its projectors, every name on it would be supposed to be genuine until it was shown by the evidence of the owner of the name he had not signed it. This was a practically hopeless task in a petition of over 106,000 names.

ANTI-GAMBLING LOSES IN LAKE.

William F. Hogan, "Czar of Highwood," Elected to Town Office on Poolroom Issue.

William F. Hogan, "Czar of Highwood," was elected Assistant Supervisor of the Town of East Deerfield yesterday. The vote stood: Hogan, 440; Benjamin O. Fritch, 398. Last night there was a Hogan demonstration in Highwood, where the contest has been most bitterly fought. The Lake County Citizens' association was arrayed against Hogan because of his alleged friendliness for the Deerfield poolroom, which was the issue in the campaign. Fritch was the "anti-gambling" candidate. The vote was the largest ever polled in the district. Hogan ran 18 votes ahead of Fritch in Highwood, which is taken as an indication that he will again be elected Mayor at the election to be held in two weeks.

IRVING BACK IN LONDON

SIR HENRY HAS ONLY PRAISE FOR AMERICA.

Says People There Are More Resourceful and More Interested in Theatrical Matters than the English—Treatment in the United States All That He Could Ask—Has Brought Home No New Plays—Loftus Case a Riddle to Him

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 2, 3 a. m.—Sir Henry Irving, with Miss Terry and his company, returned from his successful American tour last night.

A notable delegation of actors, authors, and others met Sir Henry at the station and gave him a hearty welcome.

After reiterating his entire approval of the so-called American invasion of the English stage, Sir Henry said he had not brought any plays from the United States for himself because he had not discovered any that were suitable for his own impersonation, but he added there was no doubt America was making immense strides in dramatic productions and would yet make larger.

Americans Good Auditors.

This was only natural, he said, for no nation was more thoroughly imbued with the theater-going spirit. He was surprised that Londoners were so rarely permitted to see what he might call the American indigenous drama. He instanced "Shore Acres" as an excellent example of what he meant. He said he had watched a performance of this play with intense pleasure and interest. He was inclined to disagree entirely with the customary contention that such plays were too local in atmosphere and environment to find favor in England.

Frequent rehearsals of "Faust" were held in the cabin on the voyage from New York. Sir Henry intends to produce "Rocket" in the spring of 1903.

Loftus Case Beyond Him.

When questioned concerning the claim of the Alhambra Music Hall to the services of Miss Cecilia Loftus, whom Sir Henry has engaged to play Marguerite in "Faust," Sir Henry disclaimed any knowledge of the matter. He said he was delighted by his reception in the United States, adding: "I am blessed with two homes—one here and one across the Atlantic. I am glad to return to each."

Miss Loftus' position is much canvassed in theatrical circles. It is understood that the music hall company bases its claim upon a letter Miss Loftus wrote to the manager in 1899, promising to make her next London appearance at the Alhambra. She did not then foresee that she would abandon the music hall stage. The point is whether her taking up legitimate drama cancels her promise.

SEES CRISIS IN THE BALKANS.

Vienna Correspondent Declares Situation Is Tense and Turks and Bulgarians Are Fighting.

LONDON, April 2.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he believes the Balkan situation has entered a critical stage.

Reports of atrocities committed by Bulgarian bands are received daily, and yesterday the heads of seven Bulgarian brigands were brought to Salonica and hung up in the prison courtyard. The Turkish agent at Ivanco, who was instrumental in capturing a Bulgarian band, has been murdered in revenge.

It is reported M. Sarafoff, the leader of the Macedonian committee, is planning the capture of an influential foreign Consul in Macedonia.

The correspondent says the Turkish Ambassador at Vienna has declared as untrue the reported death of Mohammed Rechad, the brother of the Sultan of Turkey.

TROOPS QUELL PRISON REVOLT.

Russian Convicts Rebel Against Ill-Treatment and Are Shot—Woman Tries to Kill Warsaw Police Chief.

BERLIN, April 1.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Tageblatt says a revolt of the inmates of a prison at Vladikavkaz, capital of the Province of Terek, against ill-treatment, was suppressed by armed troops, and many of the prisoners were severely wounded.

Tries to Kill Police Chief.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MOSCOW, April 1.—While M. Irepoff, the chief of police, was receiving visitors a woman, who is said to be a governess, tried to assassinate him. She drew a revolver and attempted to shoot the police chief, but the weapon missed fire.

BOND FOR RATHBONE $100,000.

Cash Bail Will Be Required of Convicted Man Before He Is Released from Jail.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

HAVANA, April 1.—The Supreme Court ruled today that ex-Director of Posts Rathbone, under sentence of ten years' imprisonment for postal frauds, was entitled by the provisions of the postal code to be admitted to bail pending his appeal. The court fixed the amount of his bail at $100,000 cash, as asked for by the fiscal.

ILLINOIS TOWNS ELECT OFFICERS.

Results Throughout State Show Republican Sentiment Predominates.

PARTY LINES NOT TIGHT.

Mayor Rose of Milwaukee Is Reelected by 10,000 Plurality; Judge Tarrant's Victory.

MINOR ELECTIONS HELD.

Municipal elections were held in many Illinois towns and cities. The result shows the sentiment of Illinois is strongly Republican, although in many cities and towns party lines were wiped out and independent and "citizens'" tickets scored successes over the candidates of the leading parties.

Quincy Republicans cut the Democratic majority heavily and gained two Aldermen. A fight in the Republican ranks at Bloomington let the Democrats gain a little power. Rockford Republicans had a walkover and Rock Island Republicans won easily. The Democrats swept Freeport and the Republicans carried Joliet easily.

Galesburg enjoyed a lively fight, with four tickets in the field, and they divided the honors. Moline also had four sets of candidates, the Republicans and People's parties dividing honors. Clinton returned the normal Republican majority, while at Kankakee the Republicans carried all but one office, F. C. Eprich, against whom a fight was waged, being beaten by an independent candidate.

Springfield Democrats elected four out of seven Aldermen, among them Tom Brewer, a gambler, and cut the Republican majority from 12 to 4. They also elected the Supervisor-at-Large and Assessor. Peoria was carried by the Republicans, who elected every man on the ticket, except one candidate for Assessor.

MILWAUKEE RE-ELECTS ROSE.

Present Mayor of City and Judge Warren D. Tarrant Lead All the Rest in Race.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 1.—[Special.]—The election here was a Democratic landslide. Mayor Rose has been reëlected for a third term by a plurality of over 8,000. There were about 55,000 votes cast in the city. The Social Democrats polled nearly 7,000. Mayor Rose received about 28,000 votes and Major Anson, the Republican nominee, about 20,000. Mayor Rose carried the entire Democratic city ticket with him. The Common Council is also Democratic by a small majority. The Board of Supervisors will also be Democratic.

Judge Warren D. Tarrant, non-partisan, was elected Judge of the Circuit Court by about 13,000 plurality.

There was considerable excitement in the Third Ward today. This is the ward where the Democrats, it is said, stuffed the registration lists and where the members of the Election boards were arrested for violating the law.

With the exception of the trouble in the Third Ward the election passed off quietly.

The Circuit Judges elected in the State are:

Second Circuit—Judge Warren D. Tarrant, Milwaukee.

Third Circuit—Judge George W. Burnell, Oshkosh.

Seventh Circuit—Judge C. M. Webb, Grand Rapids.

Eighth Circuit—Judge Eugene M. Helms, Hudson.

Ninth Circuit—Judge Robert G. Siebecker, Madison.

Nearly every town in the State held municipal elections, and at Kenosha, Racine, and one or two other points women voted for the first time for school directors. Most of the towns elected mixed tickets and in some there were lively contests. At Madison John W. Groves, a Republican, was elected in place of the Democrat in office up to today.

FEW CHANGES IN MINNESOTA.

Elections in Third Class Towns Through the State Result in No Shifting of Party Lines.

St. Paul, Minn., April 1.—Municipal elections were held today in the third class cities of the State, and did not result in any marked political changes. In many of the cities party lines were abandoned entirely, while in others where the party alignment was maintained the contests were made upon local issues only.

NEBRASKA TOWNS PICK MAYORS

License Question and Local Issues Predominate in the Election of City Officers.

Omaha, Neb., April 1.—[Special.]—City elections were held in every town in Nebraska today with the exception of Omaha. Local affairs and license were the only issues, and several towns changed from dry or wet. South Omaha elected a Republican Mayor in a three-cornered fight. In Lincoln the entire Republican ticket, with the exception of one Councilman, was elected.

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN MISSOURI.

Municipal Elections Held in All Third-Class Cities of the State with the Usual Results.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—City elections were held in all the third-class cities of Missouri today. In the more important cities where political lines were closely drawn the Democrats made gains. In Springfield the Republicans made gains of importance. The fiercest fight was made at Joplin. Out of eleven Councilmen the Democrats elected nine. At Jefferson City and Lebanon the Republicans lost control of the Council.

HOPKINS WINS IN FRANKLIN.

Names of Senatorial Aspirants Printed on Tickets at Primaries and Aurora Man Gets Majority.

Benton, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—In the Franklin County primary election today the names of the United States Senators, the Legislative candidates, and delegates to the county convention were placed on the ticket. A. J. Hopkins carried the county over Senator Mason by over 600 majority, carrying every voting precinct in the county. William P. Asa, the Hopkins candidate for the Legislature, carried the county by about the same majority over Oscar C. Smith, the Mason man.

ANTI-ANARCHY BILL IN OHIO.

Measure Providing Extreme Penalty for Killing or Attacking President or High Official Is Passed.

Columbus, O., April 1.—The Brannock bill to punish anarchy and assault upon the President or State officers was passed today by the House. The bill provides that any one who kills a President of the United States or any officer in the line of succession shall be electrocuted and his body be cremated or disposed of in some secret way. Life imprisonment is provided for the assault upon these officers with intent to kill. The bill did not receive a dissenting vote.

"MR. BOGGS" AND FRIENDS IN TABLEAUX.

"Well, it might have been worse," commented Mr. Boggs, the optimist, as the curtain fell at "Uncle Sam's Reception," a musical burlesque given by the members of the Ideal club at the clubhouse, 300 La Salle avenue, last evening. The play, arranged and directed by Mr. Maude Jackson, introduced all the characters familiar to readers of the comic supplement of THE TRIBUNE and other Sunday newspapers.

Uncle Sam, in token of his appreciation of the courtesies shown his late guest, Prince Henry, by the various newspapers, decides to hold a reception, to which all the comic characters are invited. Their introduction presented the opportunity for a number of vaudeville "stunts." Ben Engelhard, who impersonated Mr. Boggs, made a hit when he informed Uncle Sam—Arthur Alschuler—who had just received a cabbage from a friend in the audience, that "it might have been worse." There was no particular plot carried out, the different newspaper characters being introduced individually and all singing in the chorus. Sir Knight was represented by Julius E. Bloom. Miss Mabel Eisendrath took the part of Lady Guinivere, and said she felt out of place in such up-to-date company. Miss Annie Roth, who impersonated Chicago, sang some characteristic songs, used a great deal of slang, and had her troubles with Miss St. Louis, her rival, who for the occasion was Miss Florence Weil.

Among the other characters introduced were: Lady Bountiful, by Miss Minnie Berlizheimer; Boston, by Miss Rose Kingsbaker; New York, by Miss Fannie Goodman; Milwaukee, by Miss Martha Sulzbacher; Athletic Girl, by Miss Edith Kaufman; Foxy Grandpa, by Joseph Goodman; Mrs. Katzenjammer und Hans und Fritz, by Henry Popper, Al Birkenstein, and Camille Waldbott.

BOERS DISCUSS PEACE

ENVOYS IN CONFERENCE WITH STEYN, DELAREY, AND BOTHA.

De Wet Busy in Field with British Cordon Trying to Force Him Into Corner—Operations Proceeding in the Orange River District—Proposal to Be Submitted to Kitchener May Be Drafted—Soldiers Killed in Railway Wreck—Two Battalions to Sail.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PRETORIA, Monday, March 31.—President Steyn and General Delarey have been located, and a meeting between them and Acting President Schalk Burger is expected to be arranged without further delay. It is reported that General Botha will also attend the conference.

Commandant Mears has sent in word that his command will abide by the decision of the Boer government.

Commandant De Villiers, who has been operating in the Kimberley district, has sent in a flag of truce, asking for terms.

De Wet Is Again Surrounded.

The British are again sweeping the northwest districts of the Orange River Colony, where, it is believed, they have about 1,000 of General De Wet's men within a cordon.

Commandant Alberts has called a meeting of the Boers in his district, to take place thirty-five miles east of the Springs station, in order to discuss the proposal for a general surrender. It is said that General Hans Botha has summoned a similar meeting at Amsterdam.

Caught in Boer Ambush.

A party of constabulary and native scouts was ambushed near Heidelburg on March 30. Six of the party were killed. The Boers eluded pursuit.

Soldiers Killed in Wreck.

Thirty-nine British soldiers were killed and forty-five injured in a railroad wreck on March 30, near Barberton, Transvaal Colony. The victims nearly all belonged to the Hampshire regiment.

Keep Up Cry for Independence.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

AMSTERDAM, April 1.—Mr. Kruger and the circle surrounding him are not optimistic as to the conclusion of immediate peace. They believe that England is willing to grant full amnesty and to rescind Lord Kitchener's proclamation of banishment, but that she remains adamant on the question of granting independence to the south African republics. It is claimed that there is complete unison among the Boer leaders in the field and the representatives in Holland that the war will continue unless Great Britain agrees to grant independence.

Two Battalions Ordered Out.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 1.—Orders were issued this morning that every available man of the second and third provisional battalions now being formed as part of the First Army Corps must embark for south Africa by April 15.

ENGLAND ORDERS MORE SHIPS.

Contracts for War Vessels Now Building at Clyde Call for Payment of $16,250,000.

LONDON, April 1.—In addition to the recent orders for three fast cruisers the Admiralty has placed orders with Clyde shipbuilding firms for a battleship of 16,530 tons, with a speed of eighteen and one-half knots and a first-class cruiser. The orders thus far placed with Clyde builders amount in value to $16,250,000. The Laird and Armstrong companies will each build a third-class cruiser.

CHINA MAKES THIRD PAYMENT.

Indemnity Amounting to Million and a Quarter Turned Over to the Agents of Powers.

SHANGHAI, April 1.—The third installment of the indemnity was paid today. It amounts to $1,250,000.

New Plan for Using Money.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PEKIN, April 1.—The Bankers' commission at Shanghai will accept the March payment on account of the indemnity under a new arrangement by which it will be divided into six equal parts instead of five, because of the international banking corporation which has been established.

The February indemnity was withheld from circulation and this caused complaint from business-men. The new arrangements will permit bankers to utilize the money, but it is effective only for the present installment.

The Ministers are hopeful that the question of the final division of the indemnity will be settled by their home governments sending direct instructions to the bankers' commission.

Russia to Quit New Chwang.

LONDON, April 2, 3 a. m.—Cabling from Pekin, the correspondent of the Times says that Russia now undertakes to withdraw from New Chwang within eight months from the signing of the Manchurian convention, irrespective of the continuance or not of the Tien Tsin provisional government.

GERMAN DEALERS FAVOR BORAX

American Meat Trade Has Active Support Among Merchants Who Handle Product.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, April 1.—The German dealers in preserved meat, the strenuous allies of the American packers in opposing the prohibition against introducing meats prepared with borax into Germany, are organizing in their efforts to influence the German government not to enforce the proposed regulations.

In Frankfort the evidence of Chicago medical men will be brought forward to show that the use of borax is not injurious.

Influential newspapers here disagree as to the reason for the statement, made by the government, that sanitary conditions alone had dictated the exclusion from the German markets of meats prepared with borax.

The Vossische Zeitung says that the crews of German war vessels have for a long time been fed on meat prepared with borax and with no harmful effects. This paper also points out that the public health in the United States and Germany has not been injured by the consumption of borax in meat. The paper concludes with saying:

"Our industries must foot the bill and receive severe blows as a result of American reprisals for the exclusion of borax-prepared meats."

ELEVEN GO DOWN WITH SHIP.

Steamer Cambrian Princess Sunk in Collision with the Alma Off Nab Light, Near Southampton.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

SOUTHAMPTON, April 1.—The London and Southwestern railway steamship Alma ran down and sunk the British ship Cambrian Princess in Southampton water this morning. Eleven of the crew of twenty-two of the Cambrian Princess were drowned.

The Alma left Southampton at midnight for Havre. When off the Nab light at 2 o'clock this morning the Captain claims that the Cambrian Princess suddenly crossed his bows. The Alma ripped the sides of the other vessel open. The Cambrian Princess heeled over and sank within four minutes.

The Alma managed to save the chief officer and Captain of the Cambrian Princess, but many of the crew were lost. The Cambrian Princess was bound for Pernambuco. The Alma returned to Southampton in a badly damaged condition.

RUMORED PLOT AGAINST KING.

Roman Journal Says English Sovereign Abandoned Visit to Riviera When It Was Discovered.

ROME, April 1.—The Corrier Della Sera asserts that King Edward abandoned his proposed visit to the Riviera because of the discovery of an Anarchist plot against his life. The Anarchists purposed to give the appearance of Boer revenge to their operations.

SWISS OPEN NEW BUILDINGS.

Parliament Houses, Constructed at a Cost of $1,600,000, Dedicated at Berne.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 1.—The new Parliament Buildings, constructed at a cost of $1,600,000, were opened today with ceremony by the Federal Council and Federal Assembly. Addresses were made by President Zeemp and others.

CHILDREN CARRIED FROM FIRE.

Police Enter Burning House at 6148 Wabash Avenue and Rescue the Occupants.

Police of the Englewood and Woodlawn stations broke into a dwelling house at 6148 Wabash avenue last night when fire had broken out and rescued the families of Otto Hacker and George Connelly. Hacker, his wife and two children, were asleep in the rear of the first floor, and Mr. and Mrs. George Connelly and a baby were asleep on the second floor. Sergeant Finn and Patrolman Dudley of the Englewood Station and Patrolmen Castle and Curtin of the Woodlawn Station broke into the house, and though almost overcome by smoke awakened the sleeping occupants and assisted in carrying the children out.

BRITISH AWAIT END OF THE WAR

Attitude of the Ministry Indicates Confidence in the Final Outcome.

BOER RESOURCES RUN LOW

Budget Estimates of Hicks-Beach May Be Submitted During This Week.

MISS STONE EXTENDS VISIT.

[Copyright: 1902: By the New York Tribune.]

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 2, 3 a. m.—The Ministers remain in holiday retirement and General Kitchener continues to organize fresh drives and report progress once a week.

Nobody on the British side seems deeply concerned in the peace conference among the Boers and the hostile operations are not suspended in any quarter nor are there any preparations for sending out reinforcements this month. Yet peace is without doubt nearer than the superficial observers suppose.

The British government, after rejecting the scheme of the Dutch government for enabling the Boer leaders to confer, is virtually carrying it out. Leyds remains uncompromising in his talk, but there is indubitable evidence that the Boer agents in Europe have run short of money and are anxious to have the curtain rung down upon the melodrama of hopeless warfare. If Botha and Delarey are disposed to make peace, as is generally believed by Dutch sympathizers in Holland, Steyn and De Wet will be obstinate and may persist in holding out. South Africans, however, always describe Steyn as the most self-willed and irreconcilable Boer in Africa.

Budget Plan Almost Ready.

The budget forecasts are plentiful, and it is admitted that more money must be raised in order to meet the cost of war, and Hicks-Beach daily receives numerous letters advising him how to act.

A committee of the Cobden club has issued a pamphlet urging the extension of the income tax to all incomes over £100, and recommending that any further revenue required should be raised by increasing the rate of income tax or increasing the death duties upon larger estates, or by adding to the taxation of tobacco and intoxicants. British taxpayers will not have to wait long before they know the worst, as the Chancellor of the Exchequer will probably make his annual financial statement in the House of Commons before the end of next week.

Miss Stone May Delay Sailing.

Miss Stone returned here yesterday afternoon from Bournemouth and took up her residence with friends in Torrington square, Bloomsbury. Efforts are being made to induce the famous American missionary to deliver an address in London on her experiences during captivity. Her original intention was to leave England for America on Saturday, but from inquiries made last night it is not improbable that she will delay her departure.

Doubt Rumors About White.

Reports from America that Henry White is a candidate for Ambassador to Italy are not credited by his embassy colleagues here. He is now in Florence on a short holiday journey, but will soon be back at his residence at Whitehall Gardens. His friends, while admitting his fitness for any diplomatic post, smile incredulously over the idea that he will ever leave London.

Sir Henry Irving's position as the leading English actor was acknowledged when a company comprising Charles Wyndham, George Alexander, Forbes Robertson, and many other stage celebrities went down to Tilbury to meet him and offer congratulations on his American tour. Irving showed no signs of fatigue from his arduous labors, and had a bright smile and cheery word for every one. I. N. F.

PRESIDENT OF COLOMBIA DEAD.

Manuel San Clemente, Who Had Been Practically Deposed, at Age of 90 Dies in Villeta.

PANAMA, Colombia, April 1.—The death has been officially announced on March 19, at Villeta, a few miles from Bogota, of former President Manuel San Clemente.

The death of San Clemente, who was about 90 years old, legitimizes the government of Vice President Marroquin, the acting President.

Governor Salazar has issued a decree honoring the memory of the late President.

Dr. Manuel A. San Clemente was elected President of Colombia in November, 1898 and Dr. J. M. Marroquin was elected Vice President. In August, 1900, it was officially announced from Bogota that Dr. San Clemente being physically and mentally unable to exercise the duties of President, the people of Bogota publicly demanded that Dr. Marroquin, the Vice President, should assume the reins of government. Stories of the kidnaping and enforced retirement of San Clemente were many during the last year, and it is generally understood that his stay at Villeta was not voluntary.

REBELS SEEKING EASY TERMS.

Santo Domingo Insurgents Make Proposals to the Government, but Get No Promises.

SAN DOMINGO, Republic of Santo Domingo, April 1.—The rebels in the Barahona district, on the south coast, already are seeking assurances that they will not be severely dealt with if they surrender, but the government officials have refused to make any guarantees. The rebellion is limited to Barahona and its vicinity, where many important arrests have been made. Confidence in the power of the government to crush the rebellion is reëstablished.

Warship Ordered to Island.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—The State department having been advised by cable of the revolutionary movement in Santo Domingo, has requested the Navy department to send a warship there, and the Machias, now at San Juan, Porto Rico, probably will start across at once. The trouble is not believed serious, but it is deemed well to have a ship there as a matter of precaution.

Ye Corner for Ye Cook.

An enjoyable English dinner menu consists of chestnut soup, lobster cutlets, stewed kidneys, roast fillet of beef, claret sauce, skeakle, new potatos, vanilla souffle, and celery cheese cream.

For lemon dumplings take half a pound of bread clumbs, half a pound of finely chopped suet, a quarter of a pound of dried flour, the rind and the juice of one lemon, and two eggs. Mix all together well, form into dumplings, tie in cloths, and boil two hours.

An omelet called the Celestine is made in the usual way, after which, before folding, it should be covered with a thin layer of peach marmalade and sprinkled with chopped candied fruits. Fold and slip to a hot dish, spreading over the top a few almonds that have been blanched and chopped, covering finally lightly with whipped cream.

The claret sauce for the fillet of beef in the above is made with one tablespoonful white vinegar, one dessertspoonful tarragon vinegar, one bay leaf, one tablespoonful red currant jelly, a few drops carmine, one dessert spoonful corn flour, and three-fourths pint claret. Put vinegar into small saucepan and reduce over slow fire until but two teaspoonfuls are left; then add jelly and claret. When hot, stir in the corn flour, mixed in with a little cold water, add carmine to make sauce brilliant red, and serve. The fillet should be larded with strips of fat bacon.

Unfit to Run a Street Railroad.

If it takes a municipal corporation fifteen days or more to make bridge repairs which ought to be made in three days, how long would it take a municipal corporation operating a street railroad to make repairs which a traction company rushes through in from one to three hours? Doubtless, the municipal corporation would be as dilatory in the one case as in the other. Chicagoans need the unobstructed use of the bridges. Quite indifferent to that fact, city employés have been puttering and dawdling about Clark street bridge, and have managed to put the people who wish to use it to an extraordinary amount of inconvenience. No regard whatever has been shown for the rights of the public. There never is where public works are concerned. The object is to make the job last as long as possible. Chicagoans, who have the ever-present spectacle of the slothful ways of city employés, are not in favor of the proposed extension of the sphere of municipal inefficiency so as to take in street railroads. The service on the Chicago lines is bad enough, but it would be infinitely worse if these lines were operated by the city. So, whenever an accident stopped the working of a line, the fact that tens of thousands of people would be incommoded while necessary repairs were being made would not hasten the motions of the city employés sent to attend to the matter. They would go about their work in their customary slouching, easy-going way, and whistle while the people walked. The servant who was faithful over a few things was made ruler over many things. When a municipal corporation shall have shown its ability to do well the things now given it to do there will be a good reason for assigning additional duties to it. A municipal corporation which never is able to make bridge repairs promptly is not to be trusted with the operation of an electric street railway.

DEATH OF THOMAS DUNN ENGLISH.

Thomas Dunn English, who for several years was prominent as an American author, has passed away at the age of 83. He had had a varied career. He began his active life as a lawyer, then drifted into journalism, afterwards took part in politics and represented his district in the New Jersey Legislature, and finally settled down to the practice of medicine in Newark.

The career of Mr. English was peculiar in that at its close he had outlived all that he had done, and was himself comparatively forgotten. In his day he was a prolific writer for newspapers and magazines. He was the author of several novels. Two of them, "Walter Woolfe" and "Ambrose Fecit," made some success when first issued, but who of the present day remembers even their titles? He wrote more than twenty successful dramas, but not one of them is on the stage today. He also wrote a large number of poems, only one of which, "Ben Bolt," outlasted its making, and this because it was set to a catchy tune and written in the sentimental "Stilly Night," "Silver Moon," and "Bright Alfarata" period. "Ben Bolt" had a considerable vogue, and numerous were the young persons who asked him whether he did not remember "Sweet Alice, whose hair was so brown," and—

And trembled with fear at your frown.

"Ben Bolt's" day, however, was not long. Apparently it was shelved for good, when suddenly "Trilby" appeared and the old song was galvanized into a show of life again, but now the illusion had disappeared even for those who had once enjoyed it. How "stale, flat, and unprofitable" it appeared!

AN INDIGNANT PRINCE.

Prince George of Bavaria has formally disclaimed any connection with the assumed simian ancestors of the common people. The doctrine of biological evolution may hold true, says the Prince, for the Schmidts. The Wittelbachers, however, were especially designed by Providence for their present position, and their official genealogist, on consulting the family records, finds no mention of any ancestor of the kind Professor Ranke hinted at.

On this side of the Atlantic, at any rate, people will be inclined to think that Prince George has almost succeeded in proving the thing he denied and that probably the Wittelbachers are descended from an exceptionally unintelligent species of the prehuman man. No one, of course, is fond of dwelling on his possible brute ancestry. Man prefers to feel that as he is only a little bit lower than the angels his lineage should be divine rather than bestial. Once grant the evolutionary hypothesis, however, and even the Wittelbachers are liable to the operation of its laws. One Highland chieftain insisted at the time of the flood his ancestors somehow chartered a special vessel for themselves instead of jostling Noah and the animals on that vulgar excursion boat, the Ark. Prince George's theory is of the same kind. If he were ever convinced that Adam delved and Eve span he would probably become a convert to the belief in pre-Adamites and would hold that chief among the pre-Adamites were the Wittelbachers. It must be a grief to him, moreover, that the writer of the genealogies of the book of Genesis neglected even to mention the existence of Wittelbachers and leaves one with the impression that there were no such persons in the ancient world.

The question arises now: Since there seems to be insubordination when a professor assumes that a Wittelbacher is a specimen on the genus humanum, what would there be if he should make the same assumption with regard to a Hohenzollern or a Hapsburg? Would not lese majesty be an inadequate description of his crime?

THE CITY ELECTION.

The Council has received no detriment through yesterday's election. There are some good candidates whose defeat is to be regretted. Some unworthy men are returned from wards whose citizens have not yet learned that the election of honest Aldermen is the best policy. But no seat held by an Alderman on whom the public could depend has been lost, while some highly objectionable members of the Council have been replaced by men who, while they have not been tested, will be true, it is confidently believed, to the pledges they have made.

There is cause for congratulation in the removal from the Council of Aldermen Martin of the Fifth Ward and Oberndorff of the Seventeenth and the defeat of Rhode in the Eleventh. Aldermen Kent and Novak remain, but two years hence it may be possible to oust them. The city will continue to enjoy the services of such trained and trustworthy men as Mayor, Jackson, Dixon, Herrmann, Finn, Minwegen, Kuester, Butler, and Raymer, while the Council will be strengthened by the entry of some new men of ability, like L. P. Friestedt in the Thirteenth Ward and George K. Schmidt in the Twenty-fourth.

Yesterday's vote was a light one. Ten years ago such a vote would have been disastrous. It would have meant a Council full of boodlers. Today in spite of the light vote the personnel of the Council is improved. Chicagoans have come to take pride in having a reputable legislative body. First-class men are willing to serve the city. Better nominations are made and good men are elected with little difficulty now in wards where a few years ago they could have been elected only after a desperate struggle, if at all.

All things considered, the Council which will have to pass on the traction question is a stronger Council than its predecessors. It is well, therefore, that the disposition of that question has been delayed so long.

The proposition that the town governments shall be wiped out has received a majority in every town. At last after years of tolerance these expensive and useless petty offices have been got rid of. They ought to have been abolished twenty years ago. Their long survival illustrates the popular indifference regarding governmental abuses. The town officers elected today will be the last of their kind in Chicago. As they will have no duties to perform they will be harmless during their empty year of office.

The three referendum propositions concerning the municipal ownership of street railroads and of gas and electric light plants and the direct nomination of city officers at the primaries have received a heavy majority of the votes cast on them. Evidently the men who signed the petitions for the submission of these municipal ownership questions took sufficient interest in the matter to go to the polls to vote for them. The vote cast is unexpectedly large. Two hundred and four thousand men marked their ballots for Aldermen, and a majority of these marked their ballots for municipal ownership. This is a strong expression of opinion, although it must be borne in mind that only about half the voters went to the polls. Nevertheless municipal ownership is not yet a practical question and will not be for an undetermined length of time.

THE TREND OF UNIVERSITY EDUCATION.

President Harper of the University of Chicago, who has been so successful in procuring the "sinews of war" for the upbuilding of his great institution, thereby demonstrating extraordinary executive ability, has contributed to the North American Review for April his views of the trend of university and college education in the United States. He does this in a strong, clear, concise article, which shows that he keeps abreast of the time. His views will command wide attention among public educators and all who are interested in education.

At the outset of his discussion President Harper recognizes the commanding importance of the library and laboratory upon the outside of educational work and concedes that they have revolutionized the methods of higher education. He looks forward to the time when each group of studies will have its departmental library and every well equipped institution its professors of bibliography and methodology to teach books and how to use them. He also is of opinion that the future will witness a closer identification of professional schools with the university, uplifting and broadening their work, and giving them the advantage of university management and ideals; and that the higher educational institutions maintained by the State and those conducted on private foundations, largely the denominational, will go on with their work side by side, each supplying something the other cannot furnish and doing a work which neither can do without the other.

The final point made by President Harper is one which has of late been much discussed by educational leaders and has been brought forward with remarkable clearness and emphasis by Professor Münsterberg of Harvard in his recent educational essays. It may perhaps be most simply stated as the differentiation between the university and the college, and between the college and the academy, and the development of the high school into a more efficient feeder for the college. Professor Münsterberg has worked out the idea more in detail than President Harper and believes that the time will come when the American college will reach the standard of the German gymnasium and the American University that of the German university, in which scholarship is expected to be productive and to add to the world's general stock of knowledge. President Harper states the result of the new classification more generally as a higher standard of work. The road by which that result will be reached in his opinion is that of association. He predicts, indeed, the close association of the smaller colleges not only with each other but in every case with a university in sympathy with their work, even though the college and university may be situated far apart. In brief, President Harper believes in the American system of "coördination, specialization, and association," which is now operating in the business world with such remarkable results. To what extent other educators believe in these three "ations" will be seen ere long, for the paper is one which will provoke much discussion.

REASONS FOR CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

Two observations may properly be made concerning the report of the Committee on Ways and Means which accompanies its Cuban reciprocity bill. One is that the report is a concise and cogent statement of the reasons why duties on Cuban products should be lowered. The reasons justify a much greater reduction than the committee recommends. The other is that these reasons were as much in evidence two months ago—when this report ought to have been made—as they are now.

The report says that there is danger of an industrial crisis in Cuba, threatening serious consequences. General Wood and prominent Cubans so notified Congress months ago. The report says a small reduction in the duty on Cuban sugar will not benefit the "trust," will not harm American sugar producers, and will be of great service to the Cuban planters. That was as clear a proposition in January as it is in April. The report says that Cuba offers a good trade in return for better treatment in American markets. There never has been any doubt on that point. The report says also that—

Aside from the exceptional case that Cuba presents the action of the committee is in entire accord with the reciprocity doctrine of the Republican platform and the declarations of President McKinley and President Roosevelt. It involves no proposed revision of the tariff or anything not entirely in harmony with the maintenance of the protective system.

This was as self-evident a proposition in midwinter as at the beginning of spring. The report of the Ways and Means committee is emphatically a belated report, but its arguments are unanswerable. There is no beet sugar Republican who can refute them either in Congress or on the stump, where if renominated he will be called on to explain his immoral and unbusinesslike opposition to Cuban reciprocity. When a party minority has reason and justice on its side it deserves praise for standing up for its convictions, but this beet sugar minority is in no such case. It is utterly and inexcusably in the wrong.

OBEY THE DECISION.

The Illinois Supreme Court has decided that in certain parts of Hyde Park licenses shall not be granted to saloons without the consent of a majority of the entire frontage of the block in which the saloon is situated. A rehearing has been asked for in the case in which this decision was made, but the application has not been granted. Therefore the decision is the law and must be respected as such by the municipal authorities.

The Mayor is quoted as saying that "we shall not adopt the court's construction now except in four cases." There are four saloons against which the Hyde Park Protective association has been making a special fight. The Mayor says that as to them he will give the association "the benefit of the decision" by forcing the keepers of these saloons to file majority petitions embracing the whole block. This course will not be pursued with other saloons for two reasons. They are, according to the Mayor, that "the court has been asked to grant a rehearing, and that the decision is tantamount to a new statutory enactment. It is something that no one ever dreamed of in the past."

A refusal to yield obedience to the decision of a court is censurable under all circumstances. It is specially censurable when the offenders are municipal officers whose sworn duty it is to execute the laws as interpreted by the courts. A lower court has decided that certain traction companies should give transfers. These companies have appealed the case and profess to believe the final decision will be in their favor. In the meanwhile, the city authorities demand that the companies obey this decision, although if they do and the court of last resort shall accept their view of the case they will be out all the money represented by these transfers.

The municipal authorities have no right to say that decisions of courts shall be binding on traction companies but shall not be binding on them or on saloonkeepers. If traction companies should obey the law as laid down by a lower court, although a higher court may reverse the lower one, then the municipal authorities should yield obedience to the Supreme Court of the State, even though it has been asked to grant a rehearing and may grant it and may reverse its decision.

The position of the municipal authorities that they are not obliged to adopt the court's construction of the law is untenable. Even more untenable is the position that they will adopt that construction in a few cases but not in the majority of the cases. When the authorities believe laws should be disobeyed there should at least be uniformity in disobedience. The laws should not be obeyed in a few instances as a special favor to those who are asking for its enforcement and be disobeyed in other instances.

THE PEOPLE CHOOSE A SENATOR.

The Arkansas Legislature which is to meet next January will go through the form of electing a United States Senator. Practically that Senator has already been elected. He was chosen at the Democratic primaries held last week. At these primaries the Democrats, who will elect all but a handful of the members of the Legislature, put on record their preferences for United States Senator as well as other officers. The voters in counties electing a majority of the members of the Legislature expressed themselves to the effect that they preferred James P. Clark to James K. Jones, the present Senator. This expression of opinion in conclusive. When the Legislature meets it will feel in honor bound to elect ex-Governor Clark even as Presidential electors are in honor bound to vote for a particular Presidential candidate.

This Arkansas method of electing a United States Senator is not the method which the framers of the constitution had in mind. It was their idea that the members of a Legislature, unbiased and untrammeled, should select, after deliberate investigation, one among the best men in the State to be the Senator. The Arkansas Legislature will not investigate or deliberate. It will obey the mandate of the primaries. Senator Hoar must view with great disfavor this perversion of the constitution by which in a round-about fashion the election of a Senator is handed over to the voters of the majority party.

This Arkansas method of election has its defects. A successful candidate gets a majority of the votes in counties electing a majority of the Legislature, but that candidate may fail to receive a majority of the votes of all the Democrats. It would be better to let the choice fall on the man receiving a majority of the total vote. In this case probably the result would not have been changed. The Democrats of Arkansas have wearied of Senator Jones. They could not reconcile his professed hostility to trusts with his ownership of stock in a trust.

Senator Jones will have served eighteen years in the Senate at the end of his present term. Although not a man of commanding ability he has acquired great influence in the Senate, partly because he has been there so long and partly because he has been for some years chairman of the Democratic National committee. Once the man at the head of a national committee counted for little except during a campaign. He counts for a good deal now all the time. But influential Senator as James K. Jones is the Democratic voters of his State are able to reach him and put an end to his Senatorial career. There are several States the people of which would discard their Senators if given an opportunity to express effective opinions on the subject.

April Folly.

A loose package fell off the top of the express wagon.

The man in the seat, apparently unconscious of his loss, drove on.

The crowd on the street, however, was too wise to bite, and the bundle lay where it fell until an old fellow from beyond the suburbs, who had forgotten the day of the month, picked it up and carried it away.

The crowd gave him the hoarse hoot, but he held on to it.

Half an hour later a wild-eyed driver of an express wagon was asking everybody anxiously about a package he had lost which contained merchandise valued at $37.50.

Perhaps this is only a dream; others may call it a premonition; at any rate it adds one more to the long list of incidents which indicate that wireless telegraphy is not the most mysterious method of communication.

At about 7:10 o'clock last Friday morning a collision occurred on the Chicago and Joliet Electric road, half a mile south of Sag Bridge. In this collision Grant R. Hurley, conductor of one of the cars in collision, was fatally injured. He died as a result of his injuries at noon in a Joliet hospital.

Grant Hurley lived with his young wife and two children in a small three-story frame house in the little Village of Rockdale, a suburb of Joliet. John Ferguson, father of Mrs. Hurley, lived with them. On the day of the accident it also happened that Bert Mogle, a cousin of the family from Ohio, was a guest in the house.

Grant Hurley, the ill-fated conductor, got up at 4 o'clock on Friday morning to go to the barn and take out his car, leaving all the other members of the family still in bed.

About 7 o'clockor a few minutes before Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Mogle arose and dressed themselves. The two men went into the front room of the house and sat down to wait for Mrs. Hurley, who had not yet begun to prepare breakfast.

At 7:15 o'clock, within a few minutes of the time of the fatal collision, Mrs. Hurley came running into the room in a state of great excitement. She had slipped on a wrapper over her night clothing and had not stopped even to complete her toilet.

"I've had a dreadful dream," she told her father. "I dreamed that you and I and all of us were standing around a coffin in this room and that in the coffin were the remains of a member of the family. I had just stooped over to see who it was when I waked up, all in a tremble. I'm terribly frightened. I'm sure something terrible has happened to Grant."

"I'VE HAD A DREADFUL DREAM."

Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Mogle did their best to quiet her. They took it for granted that it was merely a nightmare and rather laughed at her fears. But Mrs. Hurley was not reassured. She was excited and nervous during breakfast and about 9 o'clock when a trolley car on the Bush Park line, which runs by the Hurley house, went by she ran out and stopped it.

Not wishing to make herself an object of further ridicule, she did not tell the motorman, Lewis Kahler, her fears, but asked him some apparently innocent questions with the idea of finding out whether he knew anything in the way of an accident.

"When you saw Grant," she said, "did he say anything about my sending his lunch down to him this noon?"

As a matter of fact Kahler, the motorman, had heard at the barns that the work car of which Hurley was conductor had been in a collision, but he knew none of the details, and, not wishing unnecessarily to alarm Mrs. Hurley, he simply answered her question in the negative. At the time he thought she must have heard at least some rumor of the accident, for never before had she come out of the house to stop him on any pretext.

Not for some time afterward did the telephone message announcing that her husband had been hurt reach Mrs. Hurley. There was no apparent reason why Mrs. Hurley should have been alarmed in the least on Friday morning. Her father and cousin had no feeling of alarm, but, in some occult way, it is certain that she was made aware that her husband's life was in danger. It is especially to be remarked that the time of Mrs. Hurley's dream and of the accident almost exactly coincide.

On Saturday morning last at 11 o'clock a man went to a telephone in a business-house on Market street and called for a number in the Monadnock Building. When the answer came he called for a certain man.

"This is he," was the reply. "Who is talking?"

"It is Henry Jones."

"Well," said the man at the other end of the wire, "this is one of the most remarkable coincidences I ever heard of. A moment ago I was sitting at my desk reading the morning paper. Suddenly, without the slightest reason in the world so far as I know, your face came before me. I saw you plainly and was thinking that this afternoon I would run in and call on you. Then the telephone bell rang. As a rule I send the boy to answer the 'phone. But again for no reason which I know of I went to the 'phone myself and here you are."

What makes this coincidence the more remarkable is the fact that the two men involved are by no means intimate and do not, on the average, see or communicate with each other once in a month.

"The other afternoon," said an attorney, "I went to the telephone to call up my wife. I got the number and was a little surprised to hear her voice answer me, as her sitting-room is on the second floor, while the 'phone is on the first floor.

"'Is that you, John?' she said. 'I had just gone to the 'phone to call you up when your call came. I wanted to see you about that Danville matter.'

"Now, the Danville matter was exactly the thing I wanted to talk to her about, which made the coincidence seem a little bit stranger. I shouldn't think anything of the coincidence if it had happened only once, but as a matter of fact it has happened more than twenty times within my recollection. Therefore, I'm forced to think there is something queer about it."

LETTER OF THE MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright, 1902, by the Marquise de Fontenoy.]

THE Spanish government has issued a semi-official denial of the stories according to which the regency is to be prolonged for a couple of years, or that an advisory council, composed of the Queen mother, the Prince and Princess of the Asturias, the Primate, the Presidents of the two chambers, and other great dignitaries of the realm is about to be created for the purpose of assisting the young King in his duties during the first two years that follow the attainment of his majority on his sixteenth birthday this May.

It is pointed out that either of these projects would involve a modification of the national constitution and that the latter cannot be changed except by a Cortes specially elected for the purpose, which is, of course, out of the question, since anything of the kind would take months to accomplish. Moreover, it is doubtful whether there is any necessity for such arrangements even if they were feasible.

The young King is mature even far beyond his years, both intellectually and physically, and has enjoyed the advantages of a training from early childhood infinitely superior in every respect to that of his father, the late Alfonso XII., who was barely 17 years of age when he was restored to the throne of Spain more than a quarter of a century ago under conditions far more critical than those by which the Spanish government is now confronted. For at that time all the northern portion of the kingdom was in the throes of a Carlist insurrection.

Revolutionary agitation in favor of a republic or full fledged anarchy was seething in the southeastern provinces, everything was at sixes and sevens at Madrid, and before the young monarch had been a few months on his throne he was forced to take the field in person against Don Carlos.

There is no reason, therefore, why the present King of Spain should not, in spite of his youth, do just as well, and even far better, as full fledged sovereign, than his father, who at the time of his restoration had the advantage of him only by a few months in point of age.

Comment has been frequently made in this country of the fact that in all the projects that have been discussed for the reconstruction of the English Cabinet no mention is ever made by the political wiseacres in London of the name of Lord Curzon, although the ability which he has displayed as Viceroy of India would seem to designate him to public choice as thoroughly well qualified in every respect for a seat of importance in the ministry.

Indeed, people have often expressed wonder in this country why Lord Curzon went to Calcutta, forsaking the scene of his successes at Westminster just when high Cabinet office seemed to be within his grasp.

As the reason for this is not generally known, it may be stated that Lord Curzon is the "bête noire" of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, and that it would be difficult to get the latter to consent to remain in a Cabinet of which Lord Curzon was a member.

The ill-feeling between the two men dates back to the time, when Lord Curzon was Under Secretary of the Foreign office, and when, owing to troubles between the French colonies in western Africa and those of England in the same region, much bad blood was created between the two nations.

Mr. Chamberlain, as Colonial Secretary, naturally considered that it was his duty to voice in the House of Commons the English government's views about the matter. Lord Curzon, as the spokesman of the Foreign office in the House of Commons, insisted that he alone had the right to speak about the matter, and on one memorable evening after Mr. Chamberlain had given his views and declarations to the House on the subject Lord Curzon arose, exclaimed that the question concerned his department, and gave expression to views that were diametrically in conflict with those of the Colonial Secretary.

Chamberlain's influence and prestige were far from being as great then as they are today. Yet it is known that his threat to resign unless it was placed beyond the power of Curzon to speak in the House of Commons on behalf of the administration was sufficient to cause Lord Salisbury to withdraw his young lieutenant from the House of Commons, gilding the pill for his Under Secretary of State by appointing him Viceroy of India and coupling the office with the gift of an Irish peerage. Under the circumstances I imagine that when Lord Curzon completes his present term as Viceroy of India it will either be extended for another term with the offer of a step in rank in the peerage, or else that he will succeed Lord Cadogan as Viceroy of Ireland, with a seat in the House of Lords, which he does not now possess.

Leo XIII. has decided upon changing the uniform of his Noble Guard, and the commander of the latter, Prince Camillo Rospigliosi, already has received the instructions of the Pontiff with regard to the change. The tail coats worn on gala and semi-gala occasions are to be replaced by a tunic, somewhat longer in the skirt than that worn by the United States cavalry, and having a dark blue collar. The white breeches, high boots, and big steel helmet will continue to form part of the uniform as heretofore.

There are only three Cardinals that took part in the election of Leo XIII. who survive today—namely: Oreglia, Parocchi, and Ledochowski, and it is a noteworthy fact that all three are in such a condition of broken health that they have been unable to take part in any state or religious ceremony at the Vatican or at St. Peter's since the beginning of the year.

Cardinal Oreglia is so ill that his recovery is out of the question; Parocchi is only slowly recovering from a complication of maladies due in a large measure to old age, while Ledochowski is stone blind and otherwise infirm, in spite of which he declines to resign his office of Prefect of the Propaganda, which invests him with the spiritual control of the Roman Catholic Church "in partibus infidelium," including the United States.

BIDS $350,000 FOR GAMBLING DEN.

Agent Sails for Europe to Negotiate for Canfield's Saratoga Club.

NEW RIVAL IN NEW YORK.

Rain Stops Circus Parade Planned to Pass Window of Bedridden Child.

GENERAL NEWS OF GOTHAM.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, April 1.

Bid of $350,000 for Canfield's Saratoga Club.

A partner of Frank Farrell will sail tomorrow morning for London to meet Richard A. Canfield. Mr. Farrell is trying to buy the Canfield clubhouse at Saratoga. Recently he asked Mr. Canfield to set a price on it. Mr. Canfield did not name a price. Mr. Farrell then made a cash offer of $350,000 for the clubhouse, furnishings, and good will—the sort of good will that goes with a gambling-house. In this instance it implies that Canfield will not open a rival establishment. This offer has not been accepted or rejected. Farrell's partner goes abroad with authority to advance the bid if a reasonable increase will get the property. He is to meet Canfield in London. Among the gamblers Farrell's offer of $350,000 is not regarded as extravagant. The club is credited with a profit of $200,000 for its seven or eight weeks of activity last summer, and Canfield is now rich enough to retire. Farrell is so eager to get this establishment that he is sending a man to London to tempt Canfield with an offer of a sum in itself a fortune.

Whether Farrell gets the Saratoga place or not he means to have a place in New York which will bid for the exclusive custom Canfield now holds at 5 East Forty-fourth street. Last July a house in West Thirty-third street, close to the Waldorf-Astoria, was bought and turned over to architects, builders, and decorators with instructions to produce the most magnificent gambling palace in America. The location is regarded as exceptionally good and an offer of several thousand dollars above the $90,000 paid for the building has been refused.

"This new club will make Canfield's place look like a flag shanty," said a man familiar with the plans.

In the rear of the reception-room will be the great advertising feature of the house, a marble stairway. It includes a series of figures of women, and if the execution equals the modeling it will deserve to be noticed and told about. For this reason the backers think the $30,000 cost price of the stairway will be a good investment, for they are assured by the sculptor that nothing in a private house in America will compare with it. When the doors open to the exclusive public the plant will represent an investment of $200,000.

Frederick W. Vanderbilt heads the list of wealthy New York men assessed for personal property. His assessment is around $2,000,000, which at the prevailing rate of .0231 on the dollar would make his next tax bill $46,200. Those assessed for $1,000,000 are William K. Vanderbilt, Alice G. Vanderbilt, John D. Rockefeller, and Andrew Carnegie.

Waits Seven Years to See Circus and Fails.

A young girl, sick and pale, caused the route of the Forepaugh & Sells circus parade to be moved five blocks to enable her to see it; and after all she was disappointed, and today there is no unhappier person in New York than she. In the mail that came to Madison Square Garden last Saturday was a letter from Mrs. E. L. Couz, who said that her daughter had been an invalid for seven years and had never seen a circus; and would it be asking too much to have the parade pass her house at 323 East Twentieth street? Peter Sells himself, struck by the pathos in the letter, ordered the line of march across town to be changed from Fifteenth street to Twentieth street. Mrs. Couz was notified that her plea had been granted. She replied that there would be a little flag in the window, and behind it, propped up in bed, would be the sick girl. But the rain came, and everybody and everything in the parade was soaked; so the show was ordered back to the garden and did not reach East Twentieth street at all. The tiny flag still hung, wet and limp, at the window of 323 East Twentieth street at dusk today.

The steamship Batavia of the North German Lloyd line arrived at this port today with 2,606 steerage passengers aboard. That is by far the greatest number of persons who were compelled to come in the hold of a ship that the company has ever brought to this port.

Swift & Co. Defy the Authorities.

The action of Swift & Co. in proceeding with the work of excavating the strip of land on the east side of First avenue, between Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth streets, preparatory to erecting a large slaughter-house, despite the refusal of the Health board to issue a permit, has given rise to the belief among the wholesale butchers in that locality that the company, after completing its plant, will bring suit in the courts to compel the health authorities to issue the necessary permission for operating the plant. The permit was denied in January, after a public hearing covering several days, in which the Women's Health Protective association and the Rev. Dr. David H. courts will compel the health authorities to issue a permit.

Makes $300,000 on Real Estate Sale to City.

Evidence of the possibility of remarkable profit gained in a short time from a real estate transaction is found in the experience of William K. Niver, who sold to the city in 1901 under condemnation proceedings for $580,000 ground for which he had paid $285,000 in December, 1897. The plat in question is the block bounded by Eleventh and Twelfth avenues and Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth streets, property condemned for the DeWitt Clinton Park.

It became known that the city was to buy this property on Dec. 20, 1897. On Dec. 23 the property was purchased by Patrick J. Sweeny, at that time a clerk in the office of John Whalen, and on Dec. 29 the land was sold to William K. Niver. Petition was made to the Supreme Court to condemn the property on Dec. 31; three weeks later the condemnation was ordered and three appraisers appointed.

It is regarded as a remarkable coincidence that the original purchase of this property should have been made by a clerk in the office of Mr. Whalen, who had been designated by Mayor-elect Van Wyck to become Corporation Counsel on Jan. 1 following. Under the Corporation Counsel is the bureau of street openings, through which all condemnation of lands for public purposes must pass. The Corporation Counsel nominates the three appraisers. Mr. Niver is a business-man from Syracuse, N. Y. He is President of the International Contracting company and is a close friend of John B. MacDonald, the Rapid Transit contractor, who is intimate with Mr. Whalen. Mr. Sweeny refused today to discuss his purchase. Mr. Whalen says there was nothing peculiar about any part of the transaction.

William Williams has been tendered and has accepted the position of Commissioner of Immigration of New York. He will succeed Thomas Fitchie.

German Actors Arrive in New York.

Ferdinand Bonn, who is to begin an engagement at the Irving Place Theater on Thursday night, arrived today on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. Other German actors on the same steamer were Adolf von Sonenthal and Mme. Helen Odilon, who are also here to star under Heinrich Conreid's management, but who will go on a brief tour before opening in this city. Herr Bonn's opening part will be that of Franz in Schiller's "Die Raeurber." He comes with a reputation for versatility, and during his stay will have opportunity to prove whether the reports as to his ability are justified, for the répertoire arranged for his New York stay will make strong demands on his adaptability to rôles ranging from light comedy to heavy character parts.

Separation Follows Husband's Return.

When Charles F. Bailey of the Philadelphia firm of Bailey, Banks & Biddle returned from Nice last month with the body of his mother he was met at the steamship pier by a messenger, who told him that his wife, who was Mrs. Chauncey Kerr before her marriage to him, wanted to see him immediately at the home of her mother at 668 Fifth avenue. There was a brief interview between husband and wife, at the end of which Mr. Bailey left for Philadelphia. They have not met since, it is said, and whatever correspondence they have carried on has been through Mrs. Bailey's lawyer.

The marriage of Mr. Bailey and Mrs. Kerr occurred under the most romantic circumstances. In September, 1900, they were in a hunting party at the lodge of E. Halloway Coe, Mrs. Kerr's brother, in the Adirondacks. Mr. Bailey had been attentive to Mrs. Kerr, but there had been no announcement of any engagement.

On Sept. 13, 1900, the entire party went out after deer. Dr. Charles T. Dade, who was a guest in a neighboring camp, was out with another party. Mr. Bailey while seated on a runway with Mrs. Kerr was mistaken for a deer by Dr. Dade, who fired and shot him in the small of the back. The bullet deflected and entered Mrs. Kerr's thigh, smashing a bone, so that she had to have one leg amputated. The engagement and marriage of Mr. Bailey and Mrs. Kerr followed.

Opposition to Marconi Wireless System.

Marconi is not to have exclusive control of the wireless telegraphy as applied to marine work. The American Wireless Telegraph and Telephone company began at the Highlands of Navesink today the construction of a tower for the reception of messages from incoming steamers. In order to build the tower, which will be 130 feet high and is to have a base of forty feet, the company was obliged to purchase eight acres of land from the estate of Edward Hartshorne.

Policemen Resolve to Obey the Law.

The policemen in seven precincts in this city have announced tonight that they intend hereafter to see that the law is obeyed as regards closing the saloons and to report all dives on their posts to those whose special business it is to close them. No one doubts that others will follow suit before Sunday. A double meeting of the Patrolmen's Benevolent association has been called. The Liquor Dealers' association has also summoned its members to consider the situation. District Attorney Jerome is preparing charges of neglect of duty against Captain Michael Foody of the West Thirty-seventh Street Station, specifying 160 violations of law in Captain Foody's precinct. The complaint will be sent to Commissioner Patridge this week and the trial will take place before the Commissioner next week. Charges against Captain Foody's precinct detectives will follow. Foody, however, is not the only precinct commander who will be brought to trial on the complaint of the District Attorney. A plan of action to shatter the blackmail system has been agreed upon between Jerome and Colonel Partridge. It means that two or three Captains will be broken, that guilty precinct detectives will share their fate, and that this procedure will be kept up until the system is destroyed.

Plan National Democratic Reunion.

The Board of Governors of the Democratic club met tonight and decided to have an "at home" Monday evening, April 14, and to invite prominent Democrats of the country to attend. Among those to be invited are ex-President Grover Cleveland, William J. Bryan, William C. Whitney, David B. Hill, John G. Carlisle, Daniel S. Lamont, Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, and all the Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Mexican Congress Opened.

MEXICO CITY, April 1.—President Diaz opened the spring session of Congress this evening.

Ye Spring Gardener's Corner.

Masses of relief or color may be supplied by geraniums, pinks, zinnias, cannas, rudbeckia, coreopsis, cosmos, the Shasta daisy, or brilliant, tall-growing phlox.

"Brush" or poultry wire will protect the sprouting bulbs from marauding canines and from the weight of the blanket or straw covering necessitated by these chilly nights as well.

Dwarf phlox, lobelia, the low-growing daisies, verbena, and sweet alyssum make delightful borders. Nasturtiums, mignonette, heliotrope, and iris are fine for this purpose as well.

Walls, fences, and screens may be swiftly covered with the wild cucumber vine, "Jack-and-the-beanstalk," or scarlet runners. Nasturtiums or morning glories will hide the bare lower portions of these vines.

The winds should be considered when deciding where and how to set flowers. A narrow, draughty place is trying to delicate varieties, and flowers which "lose their heads" easily should never be asked to live in a gale.

Moist, rich earth from the woods will induce profuse bloom in almost all cases. Just as soon as the snow disappears it is in fine condition to secure. Ferns, plants, the iris roots, and violets are particularly fond of this kind of soil.

In shady places plant heliotrope, myosotis, lilies of the valley, violets, and so on. Heliotrope and pansies will thrive admirably at the foot of the rose bushes or around tree trunks. Portulaca and nasturtiums will thrive in sun and sand.

Set aside a small corner for odd, "left-over," or unknown seeds and cuttings. This corner will become satisfactory as the season progresses. Begin by placing in it all the pale and spindling plants which have barely survived the winter.

In planning the garden every inch should be utilized, either for grass or flowers. No corner so dark or poor that ferns and myosotis will not thrive there, and even the "rubbish heap" may be transformed into a charming rockery with small cost or labor.

The winter house plants, rubber trees, umbrella plants, ferns, palms, and foliage plants do better for an outdoors summer. The rubber and umbrella plants will flourish near a leaky hydrant or the place where the hose is attached. Reserve space accordingly.

Arrange the garden space, mentally or on paper, before ordering seeds and plants. Tall cannas, rudbeckia, castor beans, giant phlox, and similar flowers will shut off unsightly places. Pansies, lobelia, sweet alyssum, mignonette, and the smaller daisies are amirable for low beds.

Grocer appeared in opposiaion to the plan. It is understood that the company has consulted counsel and been assured that the

THREE SINGERS IN LAST NIGHT'S CAST OF "TANNHAUSER."

MME. MILKA TERNINA, AS ELISABETH.

ANTON VAN ROOY.

MME. LOUISE REUSS BELCE, AS VENUS. COPYRIGHT A. DUPONT.

TANNHAUSER.
(In German.)
A Grand Opera in Three Acts.
BY RICHARD WAGNER.
Presented at the Auditorium, Chicago, by the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, April 1, 1902. The cast:

Elisabeth	Miss Milka Ternina
Ein Hirt	Miss Carrie Bridewell
Venus	Mme. Reuss-Belce
Tannhäuser	Mr. Dippel
Herman I	Mr. Muhlmann
Walther	Mr. Bars
Heinrich	Mr. Reiss
Biterolf	Mr. Gilibert
Reimar	Mr. Viviani
Wolfram	Mr. Van Rooy

Conductor—Mr. Walter Damrosch.

The hoarseness of the tenor De Marchi necessitated a change of opera last evening at the Auditorium.

Puccini's "Tosca," in which, after "Manru," chief musical interest of the season centered, was announced, with Mr. De Marchi as Cavaradossi. He had "created" the part at the première in Rome, and his addition to the excellent cast heard here in the work a year ago was regarded as subject for satisfaction. The opera being a comparative novelty, none of Mr. De Marchi's tenor colleagues in the Grau company has the character in his repertory. Mr. Dippel, it is understood, has studied it partly, but was unable to get ready for appearance in it last night. The vocal illness of Mr. De Marchi placed the management, therefore, where changing the bill was the only course left open.

Wagner's "Tannhäuser" was substituted, and the change cost Mr. Grau not only considerable anxiety and trouble but a goodly amount of hard cash as well. The sale for "Tosca" had reached quite satisfactory figures, and an audience of good size was assured. More than half of the amount taken in had to be refunded to patrons who wanted to see "Tosca" but did not care for "Tannhäuser," and instead of a good sized audience a discouragingly small one was scattered about over the wide spaces of the Auditorium. Everybody at the big opera-house now is holding his thumbs and hoping that the bad luck is at an end, and that the heavy advance sales for the two performances today and the all-star exhibition tomorrow will bring a good fortune that will endure and know increase until the end of the engagement.

The performance of "Tannhäuser" offered much that was enjoyable and praiseworthy, and at least two of its important factors—the Elizabeth of Mme. Ternina and the Wolfram of Mr. Van Rooy—were of true excellence. To these two might with justice be added perhaps a third—the orchestra, which, under Mr. Damrosch's leadership, gave a reading of the score that was carefully finished, well balanced, and intelligent, even if it was not notably inspired. The noisiness and boisterousness that annoyed in so many of the accompaniments in "Aida" were agreeably absent last night, only the opening scene of the first act being marred somewhat by an instrumental vigor that made the work of the singers inaudible.

Mr. Van Rooy, who unexpectedly made his Chicago début last evening, instead of next Monday, comes with reputation well established throughout Europe and in the Eastern cities of this country, as a baritone of exceptional gifts and powers. While a single performance does not enable exact estimate of an artist's abilities, and especially of an artist as talented as Mr. Van Rooy is said to be, yet the Dutch baritone's work as Wolfram last night established clearly the fact that he is an artist, and one whose appearance in other rôles will be awaited with keenest interest and pleasurable anticipation.

Any singer who can lend compelling personality to the gentle dreamer Wolfram without making him obtrusive and therefore unnatural, and can stay so completely in the character throughout the entire latter half of the second act, and can lend so much of pathos and sincerity to the scene with Elizabeth in the final act, as did Mr. Van Rooy last evening, is worthy of the honor-conferring title of artist. He made Wolfram a character tender yet manly, thoroughly lovable, and intensely sympathetic.

As for the singer's voice and his employment of it, it proved last evening an organ of splendid sonority, of a volume truly startling, and yet possessing a velvety richness and smoothness when used in medium or piano that are a source of unalloyed delight. It is a voice of exceptional natural nobility and splendor, and the schooling it has received has intensified and increased its inherent excellencies, for Mr. Van Rooy sings as a rule unusually well. Only when he endeavors to be extremely impressive or dramatic does he indulge in a tone that is hard and harsh. He produces a big tone—an overpoweringly big one, but it is not a beautiful one. He sang "Blick ich umher" with fine understanding and complete realization into its emotional and poetic import, and the "Abend Stern" he gave with a tonal beauty and purity that are rarely met with in an operatic performance of this Romanza with its trying chromatic first phrase.

Mme. Ternina last season gave proof of the high artistic worth of her presentment of the character of Elisabeth, and at that time willing tribute to the excellence of her powers and of her achievement was paid in these columns. Her reappearance in the same rôle last evening served but to deepen and intensify the admiration felt for her as an artist. The modesty, purity, and loveliness of Elisabeth's nature finds in Mme. Ternina's portrayal a revealment the most complete and most convincing ever noted in the work of any of the prominent sopranos who assume the rôle.

The scene with Tannhäuser preceding the singer contest is acted and sung by her with a suggestion of chasteness and modesty that no other artist has succeeded in bringing to its performance. Vocally, Mme. Ternina is still as admirable as she was a year ago, her voice having lost none of the peculiar brilliancy and none of the warmth that then distinguished it. The "Dich Theure Halle" was a veritable song of gladness, and the Prayer a wonderfully eloquent plea of a breaking heart.

Mme. Reuss-Belce, who made her début in Chicago last evening by assuming the rôle of Venus, proved a singer of the large-voiced, large-figured type abundant on nearly all the opera stages of Germany. She sang better last night than she looked or acted, her voice being powerful even if hard in quality, while her costume and her movements were anything other than goddess-like. Both she and Mr. Dippel, who was the Tannhäuser of the cast, "went at it" in the first scene in the arm-swinging-strutting style popular in Germany and accompanied their calisthenics with the vocal barks considered the acme of dramatic expressiveness since the belief became prevalent that Wagner should not be so much as phrased, let alone sung. Mr. Dippel managed to make his voice endure to the end of the opera, and in the "Recital" in the last act, where he could talk rather than sing, he was effective. Mr. Muhlmann was good-natured as usual as the Landgraf, and Miss Bridewell made a remarkably clean-faced, ring-bedecked Shepherd Boy. The chorus sang some language unknown to modern linguists, but produced a volume of tone that was telling in the ensembles of the second act.

Two performences will be given today—"Lohengrin" at 2 o'clock and "Carmen" at 8 o'clock.

"Lohengrin" will be cast as follows:

Lohengrin	Mr. Van Dyck
Telramund	Mr. Bispham
King Henry	Mr. de Reszke
The Herald	Mr. Muhlmann
Elsa	Mme. Gadski
Ortrud	Mme. Schumann-Heink

Conductor, Mr. Damrosch.

In "Carmen" Mme. Calvé will be the gypsy, Mr. Alvarez the Don José, Miss Scheff the Micaela, and Mr. Journet the Escamillo. Mr. Flon will conduct.

Society showed its appreciation to the furthest extent that could be wished. The upper tiers of boxes were particularly well filled with many parties of young people.

But more and more society people are to be seen in the chairs. Mrs. Potter Palmer, who came with her sons and Mr. Adrian Honoré, sat far up close to the orchestra, and just behind them sat Mrs. Orson Smith and Mrs. Bertram Winston. Mrs. John M. Clark and Mrs. Hugh T. Birch came in together and were seated in the orchestra circle. In Mrs. Mirch's loge her daughter, Miss Helen Birch, had a party of young people, including Miss Gwethlyn Jones and Miss Catherine Eddy. Mrs. Arthur Caton was in her box and had Mrs. Platt Hunt with her. Two boxes away were the Henry Dibblees, and next to them Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, who brought Mrs. Dudley Winston with them.

Mrs. John R. Walsh and Miss Ellen Walsh were in the audience.

Walter Damrosch inaugurated in the morning the series of talks he is to give this week and next in Music Hall on Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung." A goodly number of listeners, largely musical in quality, followed the popular lecturer's discussion of "Das Rheingold" with close attention and unmistakable enjoyment, and rewarded him with a hearty recall at the close.

Mr. Damrosch is so thoroughly informed on the subject he discusses, has made its every detail so completely his own, and is evidently so imbued with the interest, value, and importance of the Wagnerian music-dramas, that his talks on them take on a clearness, a directness, and an earnestness that carry conviction as well as give tangible information to the hearer, and impress as being the product of spontaneous and instant enthusiasm rather than of study and careful preparation.

Especially commendable is the absence from the talks of all occult, religious, or ethical philosophizing. Mr. Damrosch contents himself with telling what exists in the text book and in the score, and does not try to read into either words or music a mighty meaning and stupendous significance of which Wagner's worshipers know far more than did the master himself.

Reciting much of the text and playing on the piano with exceptional skill the motives and the chief moments in the orchestral and vocal scores, Mr. Damrosch gives an unusually clear exposition of the contents of the music dramas.

The "Walküre" will be discussed on Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

FIRES FIVE SHOTS IN HIS SLEEP AND WOUNDS ONE MAN.

Edward Cunningham, in Drunken Slumber, Dreams He Is Attacked and Discharges His Revolver in His Pocket.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 1.—[Special.]—Edward Cunningham, while lying in a drunken sleep in Sutherland's saloon here, fired five shots from his revolver, wounding one man and driving half a dozen others from the saloon. Cunningham came into the saloon drunk, and after drinking a glass of whisky staggered to a table, rested his head on it, and went to sleep. Four men, playing cards at another table, paid no attention to him until ten minutes later, when they were startled by the report of a revolver. Cunningham had not moved. An other shot followed quickly, a third, fourth, and fifth, but Cunningham did not stir. The card players fell over one another getting out of the place. When the bartender finally ventured to arouse Cunningham he sleepily asked for another drink. He had been dreaming that he was defending himself from an attack, and emptied the chambers of a 38-caliber while holding it in his hand in his pocket. John Montgomery, the man who was shot, received three slight flesh wounds in his back. Cunningham is to have a hearing tomorrow.

FINDS BODY OF AGED WOMAN.

Mrs. John Rooney Nearly Stumbles Over Corpse of Unidentified Female in Hallway.

The body of an aged woman was found last evening in the hallway of a building at 375 West Taylor street. Mrs. John Rooney, who lives on the second floor, almost stumbled over the corpse on her way down-stairs. The police believe that the woman fell down the stairway and died from heart failure which followed the shock of the fall. The woman was about 60 years of age and poorly clad in a gray skirt and brown jacket. Though she had often been seen in the neighborhood, no one seemed to know who she was or where she came from.

LOSES $220 TO HOLDUP MEN.

Louis Wolff Attacked and Robbed in Wabash Avenue Early This Morning.

Highwaymen took $220 from Louis Wolff of 1606 Wabash avenue shortly after 2 o'clock this morning at Monroe street and Wabash avenue.

Wolff reported to the police that he was stopped by two men at that corner and robbed, and that after the men got his money he started to follow them, and they fired at him, but he was not hurt.

The police are searching for the robbers.

INDIANA WARDEN ACCUSED OF CRUELTY TO PRISONERS.

J. D. Reid Under Charges Brought by Dr. B. S. Horne, Formerly Physician at Michigan City Penitentiary.

Michigan City, Ind., April 1.—[Special.]—Sensational charges were today filed against Warden James D. Reid and Deputy Warden M. M. Barnard of the Indiana State Prison by Dr. Brose S. Horne, who afterward resigned as prison physician.

Dr. Horne submitted his charges in writing and asked the board to make an investigation. Dr. Horne alleges that the Warden, and more particularly the Deputy Warden, have been guilty of extreme cruelty toward the inmates of the institution, that the conduct of these officials has been malicious toward some of the convicts, and that the Warden and Deputy Warden were in a conspiracy to oust him from his position.

Dr. Horne cites about a dozen cases where severe and alleged brutal punishment has been inflicted contrary to the law governing State institutions.

E. H. Nebecker, President of the board and a director of the prison for seven years, said: "When Director Bundy returns the matter will be taken up and the charges will be thoroughly investigated."

The Warden and Deputy Warden say the charges are untrue and that they will be able to back their statements with evidence that will overshadow any evidence that Dr. Horne may bring before the board.

Congressmen Cannon and Mann Say Delay Is Not Due to Lack of Money.

WANT TO FINE PIERCE.

Secretary Root Will Review Evidence Against Rathbone in Cuban Postal Case.

GOSSIP OF THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE
Washington, D. C., April 1.

Cannon Calls Appropriation Ample.

Representative Mann in a speech on the floor of the House today resented the charges made by Architect Henry Ives Cobb that Congress had been niggardly in its appropriations for the Chicago public building, and the further charge that the delay in completing this structure was due to the negligence of Congress in failing to appropriate the necessary funds.

The House agreed to the item in the sundry civil bill appropriating $1,000,000 for continuing the work on the Chicago building. Before this was done, however, Mr. Mann inquired of Mr. Cannon if the sum under consideration would be sufficient to carry on the work for the ensuing fiscal year, and if the appropriations for the present fiscal year had been ample. Mr. Cannon replied that it would be impossible to expend the $1,000,000 appropriated today during the next year, and that there was still on hand a large unexpended balance from last year's appropriation. The Chicago Congressman then went on to say that the purpose of his inquiry was to refute the charges made by Henry Ives Cobb. These charges were made last summer and were to the effect that he, Cobb, had been unable to do anything towards finishing the interior of the Chicago building because of the insufficiency of the appropriation.

Mr. Cannon replied that the charges were without foundation, as there has always been an unexpended balance on hand and the architect had authority to make contracts in advance and to make his plans whenever he saw fit. The architect was not restricted at all, and there was no justification for the charge that Congress had been negligent and niggardly. Mr. Cannon said that inasmuch as the alleged charges by the architect were old ones, he had summoned Mr. Cobb before his committee and asked if he was authority for them. Mr. Cobb denied that he was in any way responsible for the story and said the delay in the construction of the building was not due to the lack of money.

Promises Penalties for Delays.

As a result of further questioning by Mr. Mann an investigation will be made by the Appropriations committee, of which Mr. Cannon is chairman, as to whether the government is imposing penalties upon Contractor Pierce for failure to complete the work within the time specified in his agreement. Mr. Cannon indulged in some rather sarcastic remarks at the expense of those connected with the Chicago public building by saying, that in his experience he had found whenever any one, whether a regular or special employé, succeeded in getting his head in the public trough it was an extremely difficult matter to dislodge him. These remarks applied to contractors as well as to other classes of government employés, and Mr. Cannon insisted that the penalties imposed upon Contractor Pierce, which amounted to $500 a day, should be enforced. He served notice that if the Treasury officials did not do this of their own accord he would see that an investigation was made for the purpose of disclosing why the penalty provisions of the contract were not carried out.

Root to Review Rathbone's Case.

The President has decided to have Secretary Root review the testimony given in Cuba in the trial of Rathbone, Neely, and Reeves, the postal officials recently sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for alleged frauds while in office. General Wood has been directed to forward to Washington as soon as possible a complete transcript of the record of the trial of these men. Secretary Root will thoroughly examine the record with a view to satisfying himself as to the justice of the Cuban court's decision. He will not only read all the evidence, but will also consider the points of law made by the attorneys for the defense.

This action has been taken as the result of representations made to the President in behalf of Major Rathbone by Senator Hanna. There is considerable doubt in the minds of some officials as to the criminal intent involved in the charges against Rathbone. It is held that the alleged frauds were due more to Rathbone's carelessness and looseness in the administration of the postal service than to any complicity with Neely to defraud the government. Secretary Root doubts whether Rathbone was guilty of anything more than negligence of office. In view of the circumstances it has been thought well to have all the evidence reviewed by the Secretary of War. This will include a review of the trial of Neely and Reeves. Meanwhile the attorneys for the three convicted men will press their appeal before the Supreme Court of Justice of Cuba. The officials here do not see how the cases of Rathbone, Neely, or Reeves can be brought before any United States court, and they are of the opinion that no court in this country has jurisdiction in these cases.

The pardoning of Mr. Thompson, the former postmaster at Havana, who was tried for alleged misuse of postoffice funds, meets with the approval of the Secretary of War and the President. No official report has been received at the War department of General Wood's action in the case, but the order, as issued in Havana, is fully in line with the attitude of the officials here, who consider Thompson's offense a mere technical violation of the law without any criminal intent whatever. The facts are that Thompson had only taken a small sum of money from the cash drawer of the postoffice and had put in its place a slip of paper telling of the amount taken, which was really a voucher.

Hearings on the situation in the Philippine Archipelago, which were interrupted by the direct consideration of the Philippines government bill, will be resumed next Monday with General MacArthur as a witness.

Substitute for Root Bill Suggested.

It is generally conceded that the Root army bill is dead, at least for this session. It is doubtful, indeed, whether the Senate military committee will further consider the measure. It is possible that instead of reporting the bill the committee will take up another law intended to have an ameliorating effect on the military administration which is now accounted to be defective on account of friction which exists between the War department and the headquarters of the army.

The Secretary of War and General Miles are at loggerheads. This is a condition which has periodically obtained and for which there is no legislative remedy. The law gives General Miles no specific duties beyond three insignificant tasks. He may approve all recommendations of brevet for officers who have distinguished themselves in Indian warfare. He is chairman of the Board of Governors of the Soldiers' Home in the District of Columbia, and is head of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications. This is all he is required to do under the statutes. There is no more Indian warfare, so he has no recommendation of brevets to act upon. The Board of Governors of the Soldiers' Home meets annually, so that his work in that direction occupies but an hour or so of his time once a year. The Board of Ordnance and Fortifications meets once a month. Its sessions are sometimes completed in a day. These duties are all purely perfunctory.

Whatever else he does is by custom, which is often interrupted, and he gets his authority under regulations which are made by the Secretary of War or by orders issued by the President. It is possible under the present condition to confine General Miles' duties while he remains on the active list to the three tasks authorized by law. This would make him more of a figurehead than he is even now. He is not consulted in regard to any military operation or as to any plans affecting the personnel of the army or the distribution of its troops. His name appears on general orders simply as a matter of form. He never writes them and rarely sees them until they are in print. His friends are beginning to see that it is possible to minimize the functions of his office until he shall have practically nothing to do, and they are beginning to realize that it would be well in the interest of the army to have the law changed so as to define his duties, as well as to establish the duties of the Secretary of War. In this way the clashing and controversy will be avoided.

America Invited to Send One Ship to Coronation.

Great Britain has invited this government to send but one vessel to join in the naval celebration on the occasion of the coronation. This is something of a surprise to this government, as it must be to the other recipients of similar invitations. It was expected that the British government would invite each of the foreign powers to send a naval contingent, and it was also expected that there would be keen rivalry on the part of the powers invited.

The Illinois will represent the United States as being the best vessels which we can furnish for the occasion. The naval officers have figured out that the limitation of naval representation from foreign powers to one vessel is due to a desire of the British government to permit no unfavorable comparisons to the home squadron, which might be possible if France, Germany, and Russia sent large fleets. The State department people say that the reasons which resulted in the limited invitation comes from economical reasons. It is necessary, of course, to entertain the visiting representatives of foreign nations, including the naval officers, and large fleets with their officers would entail a great deal of expense on the British government and make it difficult to adequately entertain officers properly. The naval officers themselves are satisfied with the limitation in the invitation, since it does not impose the individual expenses which would be forced on them if all the naval nations sent large fleets. There is more or less entertaining between officers, and the presence of a large number of ships would mean a good deal of expense to officers in maintaining the proper social intercourse.

Laboratory for Study of Lake Fish.

Senator McMillan today made a favorable report, by direction of the Committee on Fisheries, on the bill to authorize the establishment of the biological station on the great lakes at some point in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, or New York. The selection of the place where the station will be established is left to the Fish Commissioner. In his report Senator McMillan says: "The important commercial fisheries carried on in these waters warrant the establishment of a laboratory at which the various biologic-economic problems connected with the prosecution and development of the fisheries may be studied. Such a station would be a valuable adjunct to the fish cultural work carried on by the government and the various States."

President Dines with Secretary Hay.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay entertained at a Cabinet dinner tonight in honor of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests present were Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Shaw, Secretary of War and Mrs. Root, Attorney General and Mrs. Knox, Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Long, Postmaster General Payne, Mrs. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. James Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney, Miss Hay and Mr. James Wadsworth Jr.

L. Z. Leiter Leaves for Chicago.

Levi Z. Leiter, accompanied by Miss Leiter, has left Washington for a visit to Chicago. Mrs. Leiter, accompanied by Joseph Leiter, about whose condition the family has been much concerned since his recent illness in New York, and Miss Daisy Leiter have gone to Atlantic City, where they will remain for ten days or longer if the climate proves favorable to Mr. Leiter's recovery.

Family Lunch at the White House.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt had with them at lunch today Mrs. James Roosevelt, aunt of the President, and Mrs. E. Reeves Merritt, both of New York. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt went to the hotel last evening when the arrival of the President's aunt was announced to them, and made her quite a call. Miss Kean and Mrs. Cowles will both entertain Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Merritt.

BIDS FOR INDIAN SUPPLIES.

After This Month Many Contracts Will Be Made in Washington Instead of Chicago.

Washington, April 1.—The Secretary of the Interior has decided that after the awarding of contracts for supplies for the Indian service in Chicago during the present month the annual opening of bids shall be conducted in Washington on the following articles: Boots and shoes, drugs, hats and caps, school supplies, groceries, dry goods, and notions. On hardware, agricultural implements, leather goods, and other articles the awards will be made from Chicago as at present. The matter has been under consideration for some time, and it was decided that it would be for the best interests of the service to open the bids in Washington, as frequently it occurs that many questions arise which could be more promptly and satisfactorily settled here than elsewhere, and it is also believed that the work will be greatly facilitated under the new arrangement.

Pleads Guilty to Murder.

Vienna, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—John Adams, before Judge Vickers today, pleaded guilty to killing Frank Rushing and was sentenced to the penitentiary for thirty years at hard labor. He shot Rushing three times about ten days ago and his victim was buried today. The murder grew out of Adams' jealousy over a girl. He threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The open exhibition of the Royal Institute of Painters in Water Colors is now being held for the eighty-seventh time. The display is an agreeable exposition of the art of water color as practiced in England from the old-fashioned to the most recent impasto methods.

DARK TORCH FOR LIBERTY

HOUSE REFUSES TO GIVE MONEY FOR LIGHT ON STATUE.

Sulzer's Appeal for Appropriation to Provide Illumination Defeated After a Lively Discussion—Formal Ballot Kills Amendment, Which Is Carried on Rising Vote—Good Progress Made with Sundry Civil Bill—Oleo Vote in Senate Tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—The House today made rapid progress with the sundry civil appropriation bill, completing 93 of the 130 pages. A proposition to provide for a light in the torch of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor was defeated.

Mr. Sulzer [N. Y.] offered the amendment to appropriate $50,000 for lighting the torch of Bartholdi's statue in New York harbor. Mr. Sulzer said this light was put out on March 1. Since the statue was erected in 1886 until now, he said, the sundry civil bill always carried an appropriation for this light. He had read a poem written by an anti-imperialist on the extinguishment of the light of liberty's torch.

When Mr. Sulzer concluded Mr. Cannon congratulated him on the speech and the poem, and then asked him if he withdrew his amendment.

Light Is Declared Valueless.

Mr. Sulzer replied in the negative, whereupon Mr. Cannon said that the pending bill carried $1,900,000 for lights, the expenditure of which, he said, was entirely within the discretion of the Lighthouse board. Mr. Cannon said the Appropriation committee had made some investigation and has ascertained that the light on the Bartholdi statue was valueless for commercial purposes.

On a rising vote the amendment was carried—43 to 33. Some New York school teachers in the gallery applauded vociferously.

Mr. Cannon immediately demanded tellers. "You will have to carry this by tellers and an aye and no vote before it is adopted finally," he declared emphatically. Great interest was taken in the vote by tellers. The pages scurried out to the restaurant and committee-rooms to bring in the absentees. When the vote was completed the first vote was reversed, and the amendment stood defeated—61 to 67.

Oleo Vote in Senate on Thursday.

An agreement was reached by the Senate today to vote on the pending oleomargarine bill before adjournment on Thursday.

Debate on the measure was continued throughout today's session. Mr. Heitfeld of Idaho opposed the bill, because he believed that it proposed to drive the oleomargarine industry to the wall. He strongly advocated the adoption of the substitute offered, as he said that would eliminate the possibility of fraud as certainly as the pending measure would, and would do no injustice to anybody.

Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire advocated the bill, because it was a protest against fraud and against an industry "which depended for its success upon duplicity and dishonesty."

Mr. Spooner of Wisconsin made an extended legal and constitutional argument in support of the measure. He said such a tax as it imposed, in his opinion, was in the interest of the whole people.

IS MADE SECRETARY TO SHAW.

Robert B. Armstrong, Who Is Given a Post at the Capital, a Former Iowa Man.

Robert B. Armstrong, the Chicago newspaper man who has just been appointed private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, is a native of Iowa, in which State he was to some extent identified with the political fortunes of Mr. Shaw. Mr. Armstrong came to Chicago in 1896, and in 1898 was sent to New York as representative of a Chicago newspaper. Later he made a tour of Europe, and last year returned to Chicago as correspondent in this city of the New York Herald.

ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

EXPOSITION TO BE POSTPONED.

General Impression Prevails That the Opening of St. Louis Show Will Be Delayed Until 1904.

The St. Louis exposition will be postponed until 1904. At least that is the "general impression" in the Missouri city, according to former Senator Thomas M. Carter, who arrived at the Auditorium Annex last night. Mr. Carter is President of the National commission of the St. Louis fair, and has just attended a meeting of that body.

The directors of the exposition are expected to meet in St. Louis this week and take action on the proposition to delay the opening of the exhibition for one year. After they have voted in favor of the proposition they will request the National commission to formally ask Congress to postpone the event.

"The one topic in St. Louis at the present time is the postponement of the fair," said Mr. Carter. "The people favor the delay, although they are confident they could complete the main buildings in the necessary time to open next spring. The delay will be asked on account of the inability of the various States and foreign exhibiters to be ready for the opening. The St. Louis people are also anxious to eclipse the Chicago fair and want another year in which to do it."

Senator Carter intimated that the St. Louis directors as well as the members of the National commission were practically agreed on the postponement, and that the formal action is assured.

SENTENCE ST. LOUIS ALDERMAN

New Trial Refused Emil A. Meysenberg, Convicted of Accepting Bribe from Street Car Company.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—Councilman Meysenberg, convicted of bribery and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary, was today denied a new trial, and his motion for an arrest of judgment was overruled by Judge Douglas and sentence passed upon the prisoner. The defendant filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Judge Douglas then called the case of John K. Murrell, member of the House of Delegates, who was indicted for bribery in connection with the Suburban railway bill. Murrell forfeited his bond of $5,000 on March 17 and his present whereabouts is unknown.

DANISH INQUIRY BEGUN BY HOUSE

Special Committee Questions Man Who Makes Charges Regarding Deal.

NIELS GRON ON STAND.

Statements in Christmas' Report on Agreement for Commission Are All Denied.

SENATORS URGE A DELAY.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—The investigation of charges made in connection with the Danish West Indies purchase was begun today before the special House committee appointed by Speaker Henderson. Besides the members of the committee there was present Niels Gron, who brought the charges to the attention of Representative Richardson, and quite a number of interested spectators.

Mr. Gron said that in February last persons in Copenhagen who opposed the transfer of the Danish West Indies to the United States conferred with him and brought to his attention the Christmas report.

Chairman Dalzell asked who these persons were. The witness said they were members of the Danish Upper House, but he did not think it proper to give their names. Mr. Gron said he was at present the representative in this country of these men.

Mr. Gron explained how the persons opposing a sale of the islands had persuaded him to come to Washington and place the Christmas report before Congress and the public. He told of having secured a note of introduction to Mr. Grosvenor and of arranging to meet the latter in Washington.

Consults Members of Congress.

The witness then detailed how he had placed the matter before Representatives Richardson and Underwood, who had gone over the papers. He referred to the reports that he had been trying to obtain a commission for the sale of the islands, and that the whole matter was a quarrel between Christmas and himself over the commission. This Gron denied, and in support read a letter stating that an old alliance between certain Danish men and Americans, in the fall of 1897 was declared off eighteen months ago. He mentioned the names of H. H. Rogers, Charles R. Flint, and himself as the Americans interested at that time in negotiating the sale of the islands.

Mr. Gron was closely questioned as to whether a proposition was made for Christmas and Rogers and himself to divide the commission. He replied that there were various propositions. Asked as to the threat attributed to Rogers in the Christmas report (in which Rogers was made to say that he had twenty-six votes in the Senate and could defeat the negotiations), Mr. Gron said he was never present at an interview between Rogers and Christmas. He had never heard Rogers make such a threat. He denied absolutely the statement that he (Gron) had signed a contract with Christmas by which he (Gron) and Rogers were to have two-thirds of the commission.

Disputes Christmas' Story.

As to the Christmas interviews, in which Christmas was made to say that he had negotiations with Abner McKinley, which Christmas in his report declared had been instigated by Gron, the witness said that he had no connection with them.

Representative Grosvenor appeared and spoke of receiving a note introducing Mr. Gron and of going over the papers with him. He conferred with Chairman Cannon of the Appropriations committee, and asked that if an appropriation bill for the Danish purchase came in that action on it be deferred until he had an opportunity to go over the papers. Later Mr. Grosvenor saw Secretary Hay in relation to the matter. It was the view of the Secretary of State that there was nothing in the charges of which cognizance should be taken.

Resuming his testimony, Mr. Gron related his connection with the Scandinavian department of the National Republican committee in 1896, to which place, he said, Senator Hanna had appointed him. Mr. Gron said he was a Republican. He produced a letter in favor of his candidacy as Minister to Siam, signed by Senator Cullom of Illinois and indorsed by the late Senator Davis of Minnesota.

Would Delay Proclamation.

In the executive session of the Senate today Senator Bacon of Georgia offered a resolution requesting the President to defer the issuing of his proclamation announcing the acquisition of the Danish West Indies under the terms of the treaty recently negotiated with Denmark until the pending investigation of the charges of bribery made in connection with that treaty should be concluded by the House of Representatives.

The resolution provoked a smart debate, which was participated in by Senators Bacon and Money, both Democratic members of the Committee on Foreign Relations, on the one side, and by Senators Cullom, Lodge, Hanna, Allison, Nelson, and other Republicans on the other side.

Senator Money said he saw no objection to the passage of the resolutions, as they would only serve to delay the matter for a brief time in case the charges should prove to be without foundation, while, if they were well founded, much good might be accomplished by delay.

Senator Bacon closed the incident by saying that he would not press the resolution in view of the expressions of so many Senators, and in consequence of this announcement the Senate adjourned without taking action.

DEFAULTER IS IN HONDURAS.

William Schreiber, Who Robbed Elizabethport Bank, Seeks Information Regarding Sweetheart's Death.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—[Special.]—William Schreiber, the Elizabethport bank defaulter, who stole upward of $30,000, is not dead. He is in Honduras working a banana farm and shipping the products right into New York.

A letter has been received by a woman friend of Schreiber asking for full details of the death of his sweetheart, Anna Hart, who died in New York of consumption on Feb. 24. Schreiber also asks information regarding the belongings of the dead woman and their disposition. He says he is prospering and if he had a little capital would be able to make enough to repay the stolen money.

Mrs. Anna Hanna Hart, the young and handsome woman upon whom the young bank clerk squandered the money of the Elizabethport Bank, died at the home of a friend in Fifty-fifth street, New York City, on Feb. 24. She was 28 years old and was born in Knoxville, Tenn., and her real name was Anna Jones. After graduating from the Knoxville High School she disappeared with the son of a wealthy brewer and lived in St. Louis and Chicago a year. She finally returned to Knoxville and when her mother learned of the life the girl had been leading she went into decline and died.

A few weeks later the girl eloped with a liquor dealer and went to St. Louis, where she met a bookmaker and went to Chicago. She became a habitue of the race course. She came East in the fall.

Schreiber met the woman at the opening day of the Aqueduct meeting, and from this time on he was not away from her a day. Up to the time he met the woman he was a Sunday school boy and was seen every Sunday with his mother and sister going to church. He furnished an elaborate flat in New York and bought thousands of dollars' worth of diamonds and other jewelry, besides a fine turnout and gowns. In all $28,000 is what the woman was worth after the exposure of Schreiber on Oct. 10, 1900.

The officials of the bank levied on her belongings, but could not prove that Schreiber bought them.

The newspapers gave only brief space to the story of the Western man who fought a pack of wolves to save his wife. Even then the story dwelt more on the peril of the woman than the courage of the man. It is natural that a man should stand between his wife and peril. It is to be expected that if he sees her in danger he will hazard life to save her. And yet the man who would rush into a burning building at his wife's cry of need, or face a horde of wolves in her defense will see her scorched and torn by disease without a thought of giving her help. As a fact it is not because a man is careless or unsympathetic that he makes no effort to spare his wife the suffering of disease, but because no man can ever understand the awful misery which can be produced by womanly diseases. Then again the diseases that undermine the woman's strength and health progress gradually. To-day is compared with yesterday, and the comparison does not show any particular change. But if side by side the husband could see the face and form of the bride of a few years back and the face and form of the worn wife of to-day, the change would shock and alarm him. He would not let her drift along another day at the mercy of disease. If she told him that she had "doctored" and taken medicine but without any benefit, he would begin to inquire what medicine there was which could be relied on as a safe cure for womanly ills, and he would listen eagerly to such an experience as is here related by Mr. Lewis A. Miller:

"My wife commenced to complain twenty years ago," writes Mr. Lewis A. Miller (Ex-Chief-of-Police), of 33 Prospect Street, Weissport, Pa. "We have tried the skill of twelve different doctors. She took gallons of medicine during the time she was ill, until I wrote you and you told us what to do. She has taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She can do her own work now and can walk around again and is quite smart. She is still continuing the use of the medicines, and will do so, for there is nothing better on earth.

"You can publish this letter if you wish. We have received such benefit that we wish every sufferer could derive the same amount of good. My wife's complaint seemed to be a complication of diseases—so the doctors said. We will ever remain your friends. May God bless you and your Institute."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may be relied on as a safe and reliable remedy for the cure of womanly diseases. It contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It establishes perfect regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other results of a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism.

"My wife was afflicted with uterine trouble for several years," writes Mr. J. C. Day, of Little Britain, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and in November, 1898, the doctor said she had a mishap. He treated her for about two months or so, but there was but little improvement. I wrote you after she had commenced to take 'Favorite Prescription' and you told us to get 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took six or seven bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and was cured and able to attend to her household work once more."

Mr. Miller and Mr. Day both wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice, and freely received it, to the lasting help and benefit of the wives who were sick.

Any sick woman has the same privilege of consultation by letter, free, with Dr. Pierce. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If your case is peculiar; if you have "doctored" for years without permanent benefit; even if your condition has been pronounced incurable, write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the benefit of his wise medical advice and kind, fatherly counsel.

"My wife was sick for eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read in one of your Memorandum Books which you sent me, about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles, and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has worked wonders for weak and sick women. It has cured womanly diseases when all other means of cure had been tried in vain. Its cures are thorough and lasting. Sick women are cured and stay cured. Weak women are made strong and kept strong by this great woman's medicine.

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious preparations, will offer a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" as "just as good." Judged by its record of cures of womanly ills, there is no other medicine just as good as "Favorite Prescription."

AS A MEDICAL GUIDE for home and family use there is no work superior to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It contains more than a thousand large pages, full of advice and instruction, and the text is illustrated by over 700 pictures. This great work is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. STRONG POINTS About Our Window Shades

QUALITY and price have brought to this section the supplying of almost all the large office and apartment buildings in Chicago. We make shades to wear and make them at much lower prices than the same grades can be bought for elsewhere. Our samples and estimates will prove these claims.

Our equipment for the manufacture of shades is unequaled in Chicago. The eyelets in our shades (for holding the cords) are a great improvement over the old style screw ring.

King's Scotch, Bancroft's Sun Fast, and Imported Hollands in fancy stripes and brocade patterns are carried in stock. Of unsurpassed merit is our own make, "Field" Opaques, made in the best of the popular tints.

For the trimming of these shades, we have a great variety of laces and edgings.

Special, low prices made to tenants of office buildings and to owners and agents of apartment houses.

COURT UPHOLDS RIGHT TO STRIKE.

Decision at Albany Says Men Can Stand by Labor Organizations.

MAY QUIT TO WIN POINT

Refusal to Work with Non-Union Employes Also Declared to Be Legal.

COAL MINERS WILL GO OUT.

Albany, N. Y., April 1.—The question of whether or not members of a labor union have the right to decline to work with non-union men and to order a strike to have such right respected was decided in the affirmative by the Court of Appeals today in a decision handed down in the case of the National Protective Association of Steamfitters and Helpers and Charles McQueed, appellant, against James M. Cummin and Patrick J. Duff, as treasurer of the Enterprise association.

The court was divided in its decision, the prevailing opinion being written by Chief Judge Parker and concurred in by Judges Gray, O'Brien, and Caight. It is dissented from by Judges Bartlett, Martin, and Vann. In his opinion Judge Parker holds:

"It is not the duty of one man to work for another unless he has agreed to a fixed period, but if he has not so agreed either party may end a contract whenever he chooses. The one may work or refuse to work at will, and the other may hire or discharge at will.

Workers' Right to Organize.

"Workingmen have the right to organize for the purpose of securing higher wages, shorter hours of labor, or improving their relations with their employers. They have the right to strike, provided the object is not to gratify malice or inflict injury upon others, but to secure better terms of employment for themselves. A peaceful and orderly strike is not in violation of the law.

"Men having organized for purposes deemed beneficial to themselves have the right, when they feel it is detrimental to the interest of their organization, to refuse to work. Their reasons may seem inadequate to others, but if it seems to be in their interest as members of an organization to refuse longer to work it is their legal right to do so.

Can Oppose Non-Union Men.

"I am unable to see how it is possible to deny the right of the defendant organization and its members to refuse to work with non-members, when in the event of injury by the carelessness of such coemployés the burden would have to be borne by the injured without compensation from the employer and with no financial responsibility on the part of those causing the injury.

"The defendant association, as appears from the findings, wanted to put its men in the place of certain men at work who were non-members working for smaller pay and set about doing it in a perfectly lawful manner.

"A labor organization is endowed with precisely the same legal right as is an individual to threaten to do that which it may lawfully do."

Strike at a Pennsylvania Mine.

Altoona, Pa., April 1.—The Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Iron company's miners today decided on a strike. It involves 10,000 miners, and will have the effect of curtailing the employment of nearly as many more railroad men. Not a mineworker employed by the company will be at work tomorrow except the pumpers and tracklayers, it being agreed to keep these men at work to protect the mines. It was decided that if there is an attempt to evict the strikers from their homes, many of which are owned by the company, the pumpers and tracklayers will be called out and the mines allowed to flood. Any attempt to import other miners will be resisted.

No Agreement at Brazil.

Brazil, Ind., April 1.—[Special.]—The delegates of the block coal operators and miners held a lengthy session here today, but failed to accomplish anything towards a settlement.

Coal Men Out in Michigan.

Saginaw, Mich., April 1.—The strike of the Michigan coal miners, ordered several days ago after the conference between the operators and miners failed to agree on a scale, began today, and 1,100 miners are out in this county. Almost the same number of men have quit the mines at Bay City and in the St. Charles district.

Galesburg Building Stopped.

Galesburg, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—The threatened strike by the building trades workers came today, the carpenters and bricklayers going out, and building operations are at a standstill. The men want an eight-hour day and an increase of 5 per cent in wages.

Aid for Sterling Carpenters.

Sterling, Ill., April 1.—A strike of all allied building trades of Sterling and Rock Falls has been called to assist the Carpenters' union in getting its scale signed.

Niagara Falls Men Quit.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 1.—One thousand men, representing the building trades of this city, struck today for an advance of wages and an eight-hour day.

Many Strikes in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—Indianapolis painters went out today. Their demand for 35 cents an hour has been ignored. Structural iron and steel workers today reaffirmed their demand for 40 cents, beginning May 1.

At South Bend the bricklayers and plasterers went out for an eight-hour day and 50-cent rate, and all building stopped.

At Marion the carpenters went out for an eight hour day and 35 cents an hour. The plumbers also are out. The teamsters and shovelers on the Indianapolis and Martinsville road struck against a proposed reduction.

Former Chicagoan a Suicide.

Harbor Springs, Mich., April 1.—[Special.]—George Getze, aged 85, committed suicide by jumping into the bay early this morning. Previous to the Chicago fire Mr. Getze was a well-to-do business-man in Chicago. For some years past he has acted as yardman for the manager of the Wequetonsing Hotel.

Ye Fashion Corner.

Colored linens of delicate tints are delightful for spring and summer costumes and cycle skirts.

One of the prettiest of the new sleeves is of plain liberty silk with front and blouse enriched by [illegible] stitched in white silk.

Chameleon effects that have been out of favor for several years are seen again in some of the most fetching of the imported gowns.

English silks and Irish poplin promise to be used a great deal. The latter is a mixture of silk and wool, and when well made up falls gracefully.

A stylish new collar and belt are of black taffeta and red and gold Persian bands. Narrow vertical strips of black ribbon are caught down at regular intervals with tiny buttons. The belt is wide, with long ends of Persian ribbon hanging down the back.

Another gown is in light cloth, both skirt and coat being set into box plaits, held into place by bands of black and silver braid, each band ending in a motif also formed of the braid. The vest is of chiffon, while the costume is finished by a dainty lace collar.

A smart walking costume is made up in dark cloth, collar and cuffs of velvet. The little coat opens over a lace front; the design on the coat and skirt is carried out in dull silver braid, with charming effect. The hat is a round shape of rough straw trimmed with satin ribbon.

Lace is ubiquitous now. The milliner is getting more and more lacy; blouse slips are either all or lace inserted waistcoats and chemisettes are always of lace; frocks are lace applied, and, even if tailored, have probably lace somewhere or other; lingerie goes without saying, and daintier stockings are lace-flounced.

BENHAM ANALYZES WOE.

DISTINGUISHES BETWEEN "TROUBLE" AND A "DIFFICULTY."

Defendant in Divorce Suit Grows Philosophical During Session of Judge Brown's Court—Says He Never Swore at His Wife, but May Have Sworn to Her—Witness Says Mrs. Benham Was Fond of "Good Times" and Cheering Drinks.

The distinction between "trouble" and "a difficulty" were defined on the witness stand in Judge Brown's court yesterday by Raymond S. Benham.

Mr. Benham also sought to show that he never had sworn at his wife, although he may have sworn soulfully in her presence. For example, he never said "D—n you!" although he may have said, "D—n it."

During the day's session of the divorce suit testimony was introduced in an attempt to show that the plaintiff, Mrs. Benham, was fond of drinks that cheer, and often made excursions to the down-town district to procure the same.

The discussion as to "trouble" arose when Mr. Benham explained that the first serious disagreement between himself and wife occurred on Oct. 25, 1899, when Mrs. Benham sued him for separate maintenance.

Mr. Benham on "Trouble."

"When did the next trouble occur?" was asked.

"What do you mean by 'trouble'?" inquired the witness, evasively.

"O, anything you call trouble."

"It is a pretty hard knock that I call trouble. There's a difference between trouble and a difficulty. Trouble is the more serious of the two."

Then the swearing incident was taken up.

"Did you swear at your wife?" was asked.

"I used to swear a good deal, but not at her," replied Benham. "A person can swear without swearing at any one in particular. I may have sworn and said 'it.'"

"Do you say 'it' when you are angry?"

"When I get good and mad I don't swear at all," answered Mr. Benham, reflectively.

Servant Warned by Letter.

An anonymous letter which Mr. Benham says he found in the mail box in his house also caused trouble in the family. The letter, which was purported to have been written to a servant in the Benham household, said in part:

Do you know who you are slaving for? I will tell you—for a woman who will cheat and lie; and if you are a fool will give you lies instead of your wages. She will borrow her servants' change and never pay it back. More than one dressmaker has been terribly cheated by her. She lives to dress and show herself. . . . O, that stingy old husband won't give her a cent, but in a minute her brats can have $3 to go to the theater, and furs and jewelry and rings, but you who work so hard have to wait weeks and then be cheated. The fortune teller told her that she had diamonds and jewels, but no brains to understand anything. You are warned by one who knows what she says.

Mr. Benham testified that on one occasion his wife threatened to kill him, then admitted that he also had threatened to kill her.

Drinks and a "Good Time."

Mrs. George E. Trumbull, 251 Dearborn avenue, testified she had met Mrs. Benham at the residence of Dr. Julia Howe, 679 Wells street, in the spring of 1895.

"On certain occasions she acted in a peculiar manner, and I judged that she had been drinking," said the witness. "I formed this opinion also when I smelled of her breath. On one occasion she told me that she had been down-town having a good time. She said she wanted to get home before her husband came. Dr. Howe told her one time that she ought to be more careful about drinking. One time she gave me a Trilby heart not to tell what I knew about her affairs."

The witness testified that at one time she saw Mrs. Benham in company with a woman whom she described as a "bleached blond."

Mrs. Annie Sonderman, 144 Mohawk street, testified that she worked for Mrs. Benham in March, 1894. Mrs. Benham, she said, called her husband "an old fool," and would stay away from home all day, at times. Mrs. Benham sent a note to a down-town hotel on one occasion, the witness said, and another time told her that she had had a "hell of a time."

Mrs. Augusta Burleson of Cleveland, O., testified that Mrs. Benham's children by her former husband are older than they were represented to be when the divorce trial began.

THOMBS ACCUSED BY KIESSIG.

Story of the Alleged Murder of Carrie Larson Related by State's Witness.

The story of the alleged murder of Carrie Larson by Lewis G. Thombs was told in Judge Ball's court yesterday by Robert Kiessig, the "river rat," who was aboard the steamer Peerless in the Burlington slip on the night of Nov. 30, when the girl is supposed to have been strangled to death.

Thombs kept his eyes fastened on his accuser during the entire recital. For the most part Kiessig stared at Assistant State's Attorney Barnes and rarely looked toward Thombs.

Among those present was Mrs. Thombs, who, despite her collapse at the close of Monday's session, heard from Kiessig's lips the story of her husband's alleged brutality. She seemed to suffer again all the anguish which she had experienced on the previous day and sat with her face buried in her hands. Another woman, who sat on the opposite of the room and cared for a fretful baby, was Anna Berndt, who is alleged to have lived with Thombs as his wife on the Peerless during a part of the fall and early winter. The defense contended that her presence in the room with her baby was prejudicial to Thombs, and when the baby cried Attorney Grove E. Walter demanded of the court that the woman and child be ordered from the room. The woman left of her own accord.

In his narrative Kiessig followed the lines laid down by Assistant State's Attorney Barnes in the opening statement, but went into details which the prosecuting attorney had avoided. The defense, in the cross-examination, showed the boy to have a weak mind and poor memory. Kiessig explained that when an infant his mother was not able to nourish and care for him properly, and had told him that he was "not as bright as other boys, and would have to be more careful of himself." The cross-examination had not been completed when court adjourned for the day.

FIRE DESTROYS VIRGINIA TOWN.

Newport, Giles County, Wiped Out of Existence—Three Big Warehouses Burn at Louisville.

Roanoke, Va., April 1.—The Village of Newport, Giles County, was destroyed by fire today. Two hotels and a number of dwellings are among the buildings burned. The town is five miles from a railroad.

Louisville Warehouses Burned.

Louisville, Ky., April 1.—Fire this afternoon destroyed the three large warehouses of the Peaselee-Gaulbert Paint and Varnish company at Fifteenth and Portland avenue, causing a loss of $200,000.

The building is a five-story structure, the first two floors of which are occupied by the Voss Manufacturing company, which makes wire goods. Armstrong Brothers' Tool Manufacturing company occupies the the third floor, the Faultless Range company the fourth floor, and the National Mirror company the fifth floor. The building was erected in 1892 at a cost of $50,000, and is owned by Frederick Voss, President of the Voss Manufacturing company.

The damage to the building was $30,000 and is covered by insurance. The damage to the Voss Manufacturing company's machinery and stock was $19,000, and the loss is partly covered by insurance. The damage to the other occupants was as follows: Armstrong Brothers' Tool Manufacturing company, $40,000; Faultless Range company, $15,000; National Mirror company, $60,000. A damage estimated at $1,000 was done to tools of workmen which were stored in the building.

PUT COLOR LINE IN NEW PLACE.

Women of African Race Say They Are Seeking Industrial Justice Only.

IGNORE SOCIAL EQUALITY

Mrs. J. S. Yates, Head of National Organization, Addresses Economics Club.

LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR HER.

Not social equality but economic justice is what the colored women of the country are asking at the hands of the white women, according to Mrs. J. Silone Yates, national President of the Association of Colored Women's Clubs. Mrs. Yates spoke yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Social Economics club. Earlier in the day she was given that social recognition which she says colored women are not demanding. Mrs. George W. Plummer of 2039 Kenmore avenue gave a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Yates.

Several women are said to have refused invitations to this luncheon. Mrs. Celia Parker Woolley was there, and Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett accompanied Mrs. Yates. There were six women present at the luncheon.

Colored waiters to serve for the occasion were engaged from a La Salle avenue residence. Because of the present agitation of the color question among women's clubs the luncheon was made a quiet affair.

Addreses by Colored Women.

There were many colored women in attendance on the Social Economics meeting and several of them spoke, all emphasizing the point that they did not want social equality, but wished only the same opportunity with white women to secure their economic independence. Among those who spoke were Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett, Mrs. Frank Waring, and Miss Minnie Barber.

Mrs. Yates in her address pointed to the national organizations of women which have recognized colored women and admitted them to membership. She said the W. C. T. U. had shown itself broad enough for the work it had undertaken by inviting in women of all races.

"The colored women of the country are in a most difficult position," said Mrs. Yates. "They are assailed from all sides and sometimes even by unscrupulous members of their own race. But women's clubs can do much to counteract this mistaken idea that one race holds of another and we should work in harmony. It is more important that we should all work together for our children than that we should argue about social recognition."

Children of Most Importance.

Mrs. Frank Waring, a colored woman who was visiting the club, took up this point about the children. "The future of the country," she said, "depends on what you white women do for your children and what we do for ours. Both are interdependent. It is so much more imperative that we use our efforts in changing these children for the better than to worry ourselves about changing the amount of pigment in the skin."

Miss Barber spoke with more feeling than either of the other colored women had done. She explained that she sometimes had been accused of standing against a union of the clubs. "This is all I have asked," said Miss Barber, "that if you see colored women in their clubs struggling upward to the highest intellectual and moral ideals do not stand in the way of their progress. It is a little thing whether you recognize us socially or not, but let us have chances to attain our ideals equal to those enjoyed by white women."

Previous to the address by Mrs. Yates the Social Economics club elected officers for the ensuing year. Dr. Frances Dickinson was reëlected to the Presidency, Mrs. Corinne Brown was made First Vice President, Mrs. John R. Thompson Second Vice President, and Mrs. J. B. Herron Recording Secretary.

The announcement that Mrs. Joseph Pfirshing will read a paper on Mendelssohn before the Englewood Woman's club on Wednesday is incorrect. Mrs. Pfirshing is still ill.

PLAN FOR BIG INDOOR GARDEN.

Interior of Coliseum Soon to Be Transformed Into a Summer Theater and Concert Hall.

Plans for the transformation of the interior of the Coliseum during the coming summer are practically completed, according to the statement of George S. Wood, general manager of the Coliseum Summer Garden company, a recently incorporated enterprise.

Some of the features of the scheme for converting the building into a summer garden are huge fountains, rustic bridges, waterfalls and a running stream, an immense stage at the south end of the building, and a band stand at the north end, and ice-cooled atmosphere. An elevated promenade will be constructed at the north end of the building, and on the main floor there will be tables and chairs for those desiring refreshments.

"We shall open about the 1st of June," said Mr. Wood yesterday, "and continue until about the 1st of October. We shall follow the most popular lines of the European indoor gardens, and if current expression is any indication of the reception of this project we shall have a full share of public patronage."

BOAT'S HULK DRIFTS ASHORE.

Vessel Named Dawn Now Believed to Have Been Abandoned—Loss of Life Doubted.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 1.—The hull of the small dismantled schooner which was discovered floating in the lake off this port ten days ago came ashore this morning. Painted on the side of the vessel is the name "Dawn," with nothing, however, to indicate where it was owned. At the time the derelict was first discovered it was feared the boat had been wrecked and its crew lost, but an examination of the hulk indicates that the old boat had been abandoned intentionally. Captain Stevens of the life-saving station says the boat is evidently an old pleasure schooner which had broken away from its moorings in some river when the spring thaw came and floated out into the lake. The only "Dawn" known to be owned on Lake Michigan is a 26-ton schooner owned by A. J. Anderson of Milwaukee.

MAY CORNER WHISKY MARKET.

Julius Kessler of Chicago Causes Excitement at Louisville by His Purchases of Bourbon.

Louisville, Ky., April 1.—[Special.]—Julius Kessler of Chicago today bought 10,000 barrels of bourbon whisky on the local market, increasing his holdings acquired in Kentucky within the last few days to 60,000 barrels. Mr. Kessler says he is buying for his own use, and that he is acting independently of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse company. His presence here has caused dealers and distillers to advance the price of their holdings, and the rumor has started that Mr. Kessler is trying to corner the bourbon goods. He says he wants 75,000 barrels. Local whisky men say the goods cannot be found on this market.

Today's special offering—200 beautiful Costumes and Suits, no two alike, at from $45.00 to $125.00.

CHAS. A. STEVENS & BROS.

"THE SILK STORE"—111 TO 115 STATE STREET.

Hundreds of handsome novelties in Suits, Costumes and Wraps. Strictly Stevens ideas.

The Correct Thing in Women's Dress—the Advantages in Selecting from the Made-up, Ready-to-Wear Garments.

IT is but a short time ago that it was considered the height of folly to even think of finding a good garment from the made-up kinds. And so it was, for they were not to be had.

Today, however, the conditions are entirely the reverse. The disadvantages of then have been overcome, and there is now every advantage in selecting from the made-up, ready-to-wear garments.

In the first place, the made-up costumes and suits of today are the equal in workmanship and finish and superior in style to the best made-to-order garments.

The prices are much less.

Then, instead of choosing from between a few styles the tailor will tell you about, you have here hundreds of beautiful costumes all complete to select from. At best the tailor can only give you his ideas and you will not know whether you like them or not until you see the gown finished.

Then what? Disappointment.

Here you have the ideas of the world's greatest designers shown in the finished costumes. You try them on until you find the one that just meets your fancy and becomes you most.

Now comes the matter of fitting. Here again you are relieved of all anxiety and responsibility.

After our expert fitters have done their part we simply require that you put the suit or costume on. It is for you to decide.

It must then meet your approval in every respect—entirely satisfactory to you.

It is now that we expect you to say whether the costume shall become yours or remain ours.

And so it is with the coats, the skirts, the waists and every garment that is bought at Stevens.'

Special offering today of 200 fine costumes and suits for spring and summer wear—no two alike—ideas from the world's most noted designers at from $45.00 to $125.00.

STUDENTS TO MEET IN DEBATE.

Annual Oratorical Contest Takes Place Tonight at Sodality Hall of St. Ignatius College.

An oratorical contest takes place tonight at Sodality Hall of St. Ignatius' College, Eleventh and May streets, which is open to members of the senior class. The debate will be on the question whether the City of Chicago should own and operate its street car systems and lighting plants. The event is an annual one and known as the John Naghten debate. On Wednesday night of next week the junior oratorical contest will occur.

ANOTHER CLEW IN ELY CASE.

Missing Evanston Woman and Her Nephew Are Reported Seen in Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., April 1.—[Special.]—It is thought that Miss Florence Ely and her nephew, Frank Ely Rogers, who ran away from Evanston, Ill., were seen here a few days ago by Mrs. D. M. Burgess, an attendant in the State library. One of the endless chain letters sent out from Evanston reached Mrs. Burgess, and she at once remembered having seen a couple that fitted the description perfectly. She is firmly convinced that those she saw were Miss Ely and her nephew.

The Evanston police said last night they had not heard of the Richmond clew.

Mandel's Daily Store News.

Careful attention given to all mail orders.

Special items of interest in Mandel's store.

Fasso corsets, exclusively Mandel's. The ideal corset is the Fasso—containing every requisite to perfect ease, comfort and symmetry, while the contours are ultra-fashionable. It is the favorite of all correct dressers and very moderately priced.

What Paris says about the new modes.

"It's a little thing," said the delightful Comtesse d'Arbelle the other day, speaking of the new modes, "but I consider lace mitts the most enchanting innovation of a year unusually rich in pretty fancies.

"I am charmed to notice that this mode has been accentuated and adopted for the theater, concert, and ball.

"They far surpass the openwork sheaths for the hand and arm in which the Marchionesses of the Trianon took such pride.

"They are similar, yet more refined—modernized with the delicacy of art and equipped with the seductions of richest lace.

"I greatly approve of the lace mitts, for they enhance the beauty of the arm and impart a certain aristocratic grace that hitherto seemed impossible of complete attainment."

The foregoing is quoted from a letter just received from our Paris office. The Countess is one of the leaders of the Parisian elite and her opinion is considered authoritative. What she says about the styles is always based upon critically good taste, and, while she is slow to favor the bizarre or outre, she has a very keen appreciation for new ideas when in harmony with art.

Fashion leaders in Chicago will agree with the Countess, for all who have seen our assortments of lace mitts express admiration, and orders are coming in very fast.

"We hasten to inform you of the Comtesse d'Arbelle's opinion," says one agent's letter, "for we shipped you by last steamer a large consignment of lace mitts.

"We purchased them advantageously, and feel confident that you can sell them at lower prices than any other house in America."

Blouses made to order.

Have you given yourself the treat of looking at the large collection of charming, modish blouse models shown on the third floor in our shirt waist section?

In them is expressed all that the best modistes have devised in blouse beauty and style.

Artist experts, whom the private dressmaker cannot afford to engage, superintend the origination and execution of our own many choice designs and the faithful reproduction of Paris, London and New York modes.

This fact, coupled with our extraordinarily moderate pricing on making blouses to order, renders our facilities in this line the finest in the city.

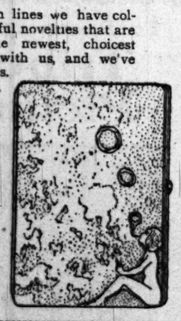

Exposition of Paris leather goods.

An unequaled collection of handsome Paris leather novelties in the new Lissa shade, generally known as coffee color.

After a careful review of Parisian lines we have collected a vast assortment of delightful novelties that are thoroughly representative of the newest, choicest modes, many entirely exclusive with us, and we've priced them at unusually low rates.

Sterling silver in rich gold or dull soft gray finish, combined with real walrus and Russian seal leather, forming every variety of leather novelties; all very desirable.

Purses, pocket-books, tuckbooks, women's and men's card cases and many other exclusive little novelties, made up in the soft brown that all Parisians are now wearing, 95c, others up to $5.

Wrist bags, chatelaine bags, coronation bags, in effective, clever models embellished with art nouveau or clever serpentine effects, $2.50 to $8.

Fine furniture at a saving of 25% to 50%.

This furniture was bought for our great March sale. It was priced very moderately then and proved remarkably good sellers—so good that but few pieces of each kind remain.

These must be closed out at once, so we cut below the original cost to us, and offer you the greatest furniture bargains of the entire year.

The pieces are all of the most substantial quality, made in exact accordance with our own orders. The saving is in all cases at least a fourth, in many it's a half. It's a rare treat for furniture buyers, and one that all will want to take advantage of. We divide these into lots at uniform prices to make selection easy.

Parlor suits, odd pieces and suits will be marked on same basis.

Wash petticoats, 1.25.

Basement.

Our immense stock of summer petticoats includes a variety of new styles and materials sufficient to meet all demands.

And the moderate prices quoted on these well-made, stylish garments are a wonder to all.

A choice showing of attractive gingham and mercerized sateen skirts—trimmed with ruffles, accordion plaiting and rows of stitching—prices range 50c to 1.25.

Good corsets at 25c.

Basement.

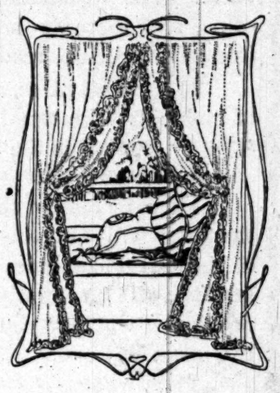

An immense collection of durable corsets in drill and summer mesh, form fitting, stylish models, all of them.

It's a really uncommon chance in corset buying and one that many women are seizing.

The unparalleled low prices that prevail in our basement corset section are a surprise to even the most inveterate shoppers—large assortment of corsets at 25c.

Luxurious creations in lace curtains.

You can't afford to choose your new lace curtains until you've seen our late importations in luxuriously rich Arabian lace with fashionable deep beige tintings.

Our annual April sale of lace curtains is now in progress, and the lowest prices of the year prevail.

The curtains we tell you of today were made in Mirecourt, France, where the beautiful art of lace making is a precious heritage, bequeathed from parent to child. They represent the most perfect attainment in fine lace-curtain effects.

We employ experts especially to aid our customers in the selection and effective hanging of lace curtains, and will place their services at the disposal of any of our patrons.

Direct importation, of course, materially lowers our scale of prices, but, besides that, the name of the Mandel house has a very potent influence in securing special price concessions from the makers. From $7.50 to $225.

Weather indications: Generally fair.

Mandel's editorial comment.

Wednesday, April 2d, 1902.

"Daily self-surpassing," was the motto proposed by a Greek philosopher as a guide to the successful life. This apothegm states succinctly one source of the superiority of the Mandel store. Each day we try to do things better than the day before; to sell better merchandise, to exhibit it more attractively, to make shopping more pleasant, to expedite deliveries and to eliminate every possible cause of dissatisfaction. Gratified with today's achievements, we are yet alert to grasp the limitless possibilities of tomorrow.

The past year has confirmed the assertion we made at its beginning—Mandel storekeeping is no experiment—it has added new laurels to a brilliant yet never flashy career.

We look forward into the future with utmost confidence that in the year to come a far wider recognition will be won by our modern store.

You can best serve your own interests by trading where you have absolute assurance of the reliability of the merchandise.

The progressive policy of this great organization is evident in the methods by which we constantly endeavor to make shopping more pleasant for our patrons.

Rare collection of the finest Oriental rugs: great saving advantages.

Our grand assortment of Oriental rugs from Turkey, Persia, Afghanistan, and India is admitted by connoisseurs to be the finest and most beautiful gathering of rugs in America. Every wanted Oriental weave is here for your choosing in the most wonderful variety and at prices the lowest. All shown in Chicago's greatest rug bazaar, new building.

The Mandel methods revolutionized prices on Oriental rugs. We buy direct from the rug weavers themselves and thus save the middleman's profits, which formerly made an Oriental rug an almost prohibited luxury. This year we were unusually fortunate, securing a very large stock at a price that enables us to sell the finest Orientals on the basis of ordinary rugs.

We will show you those beautiful Kermanshah weaves in almost any size to suit your drawing room or parlor, also those rare ivory and rose ground Tabriz rugs for your parlor or drawing room. Hundreds of Turkish, Persian and Indian rugs for libraries, dens, dining rooms and chambers and Khiva rugs for small apartments that are in such demand just now. A beautiful showing of these exquisite Oriental weaves from $40 upwards to $100.

We call your attention to a wonderful collection of antique Bokhara rugs, silky and rare, also a rare collection of antique Persian stair rugs. We can show you thousands of genuine Oriental rugs at almost any price you wish to pay, beautiful designs, suitable for doorways, halls, hearth rugs, etc., prices ranging upwards—$6, $7, $10, $12, $15, $20, $25, $30, $35, $40, $50, $60, $70, $80 and $100.

Torchon laces at 3c.

Basement.

An extraordinary opportunity to secure fine imitation torchon laces at low prices.

They're machine made torchons, but so nearly like the real that it's very difficult to detect any difference.

There is a vital difference, however, in the prices, as you will observe. Exquisite machine-made torchon laces, 3c to 10c per yard.

White china silk, 25c a yard.

Basement.

Advertising fine white silk for 25c a yard would have provoked a smile of incredulity a few years ago.

Even now it's rather daring, but this is actually the real white China silk, worth every cent of 50c a yard.

An importer had urgent reasons for immediately closing out the last of a consignment, so we bought it on a basis that justifies us in offering it at 25c.

Ingrain carpets at 39c.

Basement.

Lots of attractive new patterns in all-wool ingrains—the brightest and best carpetmakers send 'em to us.

Our showing of moderate priced ingrains is particularly large this year.

It shows you positively, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that our prices are absolutely the lowest—we're quoting 50c values at 39c.

Sash curtain goods.

Basement.

The fresh, snowy daintiness of the sash curtain well merits the housewifely pride bestowed upon it—its charming neatness adding greatly to the appearance of the room which it graces.

The low prices prevailing here in sash curtain materials will quickly dispose of the old ones—new ones replacing them.

Choice curtain materials, including all the new designs and weaves, most notable of which are: imported laces in Brussels, Irish point, muslins, and tambour styles, regularly worth 75c per yard, at 25c.

Women's fashionably tailored suits for spring.

Have you visited our costume section and seen the magnificent array of new spring garments shown here in charming variety for the completion of my lady's wardrobe?

If not, a treat yet remains, for our assortments are fairly overflowing with new and effective designs, and the opportunity for pleasing selections at low prices was never so good as now.

Everything shown here fittingly exemplifies the skill of the Mandel artists and evinces those made to order attributes so seldom seen in garments that are ready-to-wear.

Twine cloth blouse suit, fancy corded, self satin vest, girdle and revers, plaited bishop sleeves, skirt made pointed, tailor stitched flounce, drop silk skirt, self color, black and new blue at $35.

Blouse suit, made of cheviot, with moire collar and revers, fancy sleeves, blouse finished with peplum and sleeves trimmed with straps of moire and buttons, fancy plaited panel skirt, trimmed with moire, colors blue and black, price 23.75.

Single breasted Eton walking suit, made without collar, bell sleeves, trimmed with bands of self material and fancy stitching, fancy pockets, skirt made gored with clusters of stitching at bottom, colors blue, oxford and grey—$25.

Cheviot blouse and moire Gibson blouse. The cheviot blouse is handsomely trimmed with bands of peau de soie and white braid, tucked front and back; the moire is made postilion back and bell sleeves, trimmed with peau de soie. The garment cannot be equaled for style or value—13.50.

Taffeta ulster, three capes trimmed with stitching, bishop sleeves and cuffs, full flare skirt, price $25.

Unlined cheviot skirt, seven gore, each gore with wide plait, —shaped flounce, a very seasonable and stylish garment—8.75.

Superior values in carpets.

If you want to get the best carpets—all the newest, exclusive ultra designs, wrought out in strong, reliable textures—of course you'll come to Mandel's—conceded to be Chicago's carpet center.

We'd like to have you compare our carpets with those sold elsewhere at our prices—for we know the comparison would be more convincing than anything we could tell you beforehand.

We've all the new effects in every desirable kind of carpet, at the lowest prices for the qualities, and a lot of attractive fall patterns that we're quoting a little lower than this spring's.

Bigelow wiltons—220 extremely beautiful new patterns in this soft, lustrous floor covering, at 2.50—excellent styles of last fall, $2.

Bigelow body Brussels, 25 handsome new patterns in this staple carpet at 1.35, last fall's patterns at 1.10.

Smith velvet carpets, elegant yet extremely well wearing, 75 fine new designs at 1.00. A few of last fall's leaders, 85c.

Women's and misses' Paris pattern hats.

We've bought up the originals of those elegant new hats that are now attracting so much attention in the world of fashion and place them on sale today.

The marvelous thing about it all is that the original models cost you very much less than the copies which the people are raving over.

Clever originations of the Parisian designers, which cost $20 and $25 to import, are here today in great variety at 7.50 and $10. (These hats are shown separate from our regular stock).

"The mushroom hat"—we are the first to proclaim this new style—fashion's latest fad. Its peculiar shape suggests its name, but you must see it to feel its charm.

One style of this hat has drooping brim, with clusters of flowers on draped braid crown, but there are myriads of varieties, all exceedingly attractive and marvels of art at the price asked, $10.

Engraved invitations and cards.

Easter's over before April, so the month of showers will this year be a month of weddings, too.

Weddings, of course, demand faultlessly engraved invitations, announcements, and cards, and Mandel's stationery section is recognized headquarters for the finest work of this class.

All the papers and letterings sanctioned by smart society will be found represented in our specimen books, from which you may select styles. Attendants may be appealed to with confidence, as they are authoritative advisers in matters of correct taste.

As items of special interest to buyers of stationery we mention:

100 engraved invitations, best stock, beautiful workmanship, both sets of envelopes, folded and tissued, prices range from $7 up.

100 engraved cards and copper name plate, 1.25 up.
100 cards printed from your own plate, 65c.
500 cards printed from your own plate, 2.85.
Dainty luncheon cards from 1.50 dozen up.

"Colonial vellum," an elegant correspondence paper, in the popular Winthrop size, 120 sheets paper, with envelopes, 95c.

Samples and estimates cheerfully furnished on request.

Sale of women's sample shoes, $6 values, 2.95.

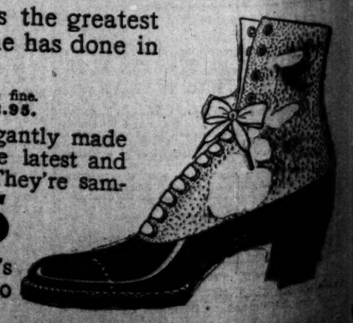

This is that great sale of sample shoes that all Chicago is talking of as the greatest bargain chance of the year. The maker sold us his entire sample line, as he has done in seasons past, and the shoes are here now awaiting your selection.

Never have we had quite so perfect an assortment of sample footwear—never before were the values quite so fine. Every known style for spring and summer is included in this immense collection, and you take your choice at 2.95.

Shoes—Oxfords, colonials and slippers, elegantly made from the very finest grades of leather and in the latest and most approved shapes, all sizes and all styles. They're samples, that's why you buy them at so low a price, but their workmanship has never been equaled in high-grade footwear—it's a wonderful money-saving opportunity, a chance to buy $6, $7 and $8 shoes at 2.95.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO RENTERS.

I have new 4 to 8 room houses, best construction, containing modern improvements, beautifully decorated, and in good neighborhood, north, south, or west, that I will sell on monthly payments from $18.50 to $27.50 per month, including interest. Only $100 to $150 cash payment required. You can pay for a home with your rent money. Call or write for plans of new houses, located in all parts of the city and suburbs, for sale on monthly payments same as rent. Do not rent until you have seen what a cozy home you can pay for with your rent money. It costs only 1 cent to find out. Drop me a postal and I will send you plans. Write at once.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE—
If you have an eye out for the future you will appreciate the advantage of getting out of debt in the present, and the best way to get out of debt is to place it all with one company and pay it gradually in small installments. This gives you one account only to satisfy instead of several, and you can readily see how much easier it will be. We will loan you the money with which to do this on your FURNITURE, PIANO, HORSES, WAGONS, ETC., without delay or publicity and without disturbing the property in any way and you can pay it back by our special plan of repayment, which is the fairest ever offered. NAVIGATION OPENS ON LAKES.

Regular Insurance Rates Go Into Effect and Most Ports Send Out Fleets.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 1.—[Special.]—Navigation opened today, the regular insurance on vessels going into effect. The ports at Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Mich.; Oswego, N. Y.; Alexandria Bay, Erie, Duluth, Cleveland, Detroit, and Holland report the opening the regular navigation and departures for this port.

The Soo reports the ice in the strait's rotten and no trouble is anticipated. The Soo passage is not entirely open.

The big fleet here is being put into repair and will depart as soon as the heavy icefields off Windmill Point are ready to break through.

RABID DOG CAUSES A PANIC.

Keeps Six Men Prisoners Half an Hour, Then Leads Chase and Escapes in Lake View.

Standing at bay, armed with clubs, bottles, and chairs, six men were kept prisoners for half an hour on Monday night by a mad dog in the saloon of Johnson & Peterson, at Barry and Sheffield avenues. When the men sought to escape through a side door, the dog, a Great Dane, faced them. Then the dog leaped for its owner, Peterson, and he took refuge behind the bar. Then the other men made a rush for the street followed by the dog. The dog ran west in Barry avenue, followed by Peterson with revolver in hand. The animal escaped and is still at large.

OBJECTION TO EXECUTRIX FAILS

Caroline Patterson Will Be Appointed by Probate Court as Directed in Jonathan Clark's Will.

The protest on the part of the heirs of Jonathan Clark against the appointment of Caroline Patterson as an executrix of the will came to a sudden ending in the Probate Court yesterday morning, when the court refused to receive as evidence a number of affidavits attacking Miss Patterson on her business abilities and other points. A formal order covering the ruling and granting letters testamentary to Miss Patterson will be made in court this morning. The family of the testator attempted to prevent her confirmation as executrix.

TRAFFIC CHIEFS DENY CUT RATES

Tell the Interstate Commerce Board They Maintain Published Tariff.

BLOW TO AN ASSOCIATION

Western Passenger Loses the Rock Island and Probably Will Disband.

REPORTS OF EARNINGS OUT.

At the session of the Interstate Commerce commission, held in Chicago yesterday, the traffic managers and General Freight Agents of the Rock Island, Santa Fé, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago and Alton, Burlington, Missouri Pacific, Wabash and Chicago Great Western railroads were examined as regards their knowledge of cutting rates on export traffic from the Missouri River to the Atlantic seaboard.

Only Commissioners Yeomans, Prouty, and Fifer were on hand, Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Clements being absent. Commissioner Prouty conducted the examination and brought out the fact that few of the roads published their export tariffs, and that if they did publish them they paid little attention to the published rates.

Question Meaning of the Law.

Some of the traffic officials took the position that they were not compelled, under the law, to publish export tariffs for the reason that they had to make the rates in conjunction with the ocean rates and the latter fluctuated from day to day. Commissioner Prouty, however, thought that export rates must be published the same as domestic, and each road in turn was requested to file export tariffs whenever changes are made hereafter.

The export business, Mr. Prouty said, amounted to fully 80 per cent of the total seaboard business and unless export tariffs were filed it would not be possible to secure the maintenance of any rates to the seaboard.

It appeared during the investigation that the Rock Island filed a tariff on packing-house products, to be in effect from Feb. 15 to March 15, from Missouri River points to New York, of 42½ cents a hundred pounds, while the rate filed by the other roads was 48½ cents, and as most of the latter managed to get a full share of the business, the commissioners surmised that the rates had been cut by these roads. This, however, was denied by all of the witnesses.

Assistant Traffic Manager Gores testified that the Rock Island's reduction in rate was made because it could not get any business at Kansas City at the 48½ cent rate.

Deny Cutting of Rates.

The testimony of the officials of the other roads was that they faithfully maintained the 48½ cent rate and refused to take any notice whatever of the Rock Island's action. Each road submitted to the commission a statement showing export and domestic shipments and what rates made on them from Feb. 15 to March 15, 1902.

The commissioners go from here to Louisville, Ky., to investigate complaints of shippers regarding switching charges.

Passenger Association Near Finish.

The Western Passenger association received a blow yesterday which is likely to end its existence. It had been known for some time that several of the leading roads meant to withdraw from the association because they had been informed by their attorneys that some features of the agreement were in the nature of a pool and might bring the roads into conflict with the interstate commerce or the Sherman anti-trust law. The Rock Island took the initiatory step yesterday in getting out from under by serving Chairman MacLeod with the following notice:

"Please accept this as notice, under article 16, Western Passenger association agreement, of the withdrawal of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad company from said association. We will continue, however, to remain members of the Clergy and Mileage Ticket bureaus. This notice will take effect on April 16."

It is understood that the Illinois Central and one or two other roads intend to follow the lead of the Rock Island in a day or two by serving similar notices of withdrawal. This will mean a dissolution of the present association, but it is probable that an effort will be made in a few days to bring about a complete reorganization, with all illegal features left out. The immigrant clearing-house and the local passenger bureaus are doomed, it being generally admitted that they are in a measure illegal, the former on account of its division of business arrangement and the latter on account of the penalties imposed for violation of agreement.

The association has been in existence twenty years and is the oldest organization of the kind in the country.

Rock Island Earnings Gain.

There was quite an improvement in the earnings of the Rock Island railroad system for February. Owing to a large decrease in the operating expenses, the increase in the surplus for the month is over $500,000. Following is a detailed statement for February and for the eleven months ended Feb. 28:

FEBRUARY.

	1902.	1901.	Increase.

Surplus	6,381,350	4,611,737	1,769,612

Burlington earnings for February were disappointing. There was a moderate decrease in freight earnings, but the handsome increase in passenger earnings saved gross earnings from showing a decrease. Following is a detailed statement:

February—	1902.	1901.	Increase.
Frt. earnings....	$2,464,945	$2,476,192	$*11,247

*Decrease.

Earnings of the Milwaukee and St. Paul for February were unsatisfactory, there being a decrease in both gross and net. Following is a detailed statement:

Transportation Notes.

A San Francisco dispatch says: "It turns out that it was George Crocker and not John W. Gates of Chicago who joined Edwin Hawley of New York in the recent purchases of the controlling stock of the Colorado Southern railroad system."

J. M. Daly, former Superintendent of Transportation on the Illinois Central, and who went to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway, and lately was General Manager of the Cape Breton railway, has returned to the Illinois Central as Superintendent of Transportation.

HOTELS ON A 'PIECE' PLAN

LELAND THE LAST TO ADOPT THE EUROPEAN SYSTEM.

Gradual Shifting in Chicago from the American to the Other Method Leaves the Victoria the Only One of the Larger Hostelries Which Clings to the Older Idea—Guests Demand the Innovation, Which Also Means More Profit.

Hotels conducted on the American plan are almost a thing of the past in Chicago. It was announced yesterday that when the old Leland Hotel reopens under the name of the Hotel Stratford it will be conducted on the European plan exclusively. The change leaves only one of the larger downtown hotels, the Victoria, still conducted on the American plan.

A few years ago there were only one or two of the first-class Chicago hotels in which it was possible to stop on the European plan. About the time of the World's Fair many of the hostelries began entertaining their guests on both the American and European plans. Then there was a gradual shifting to the European plan.

For a time the Great Northern followed both plans, as did the Palmer House. Then both hotels gave up the American plan, and recently the Auditorium made the same change, and now is conducted on the same plan as the Annex—always European. The same change was made in the Sherman House, and now the Leland is to follow suit.

The preferences of the guests and more profit for the hotels are the reasons assigned for the changes. The new plan is more satisfactory as well as more lucrative.

"The change is a natural one," said Clerk Capen of the Annex. "Twenty-four out of twenty-five people now prefer the European plan. The day of the American plan has gone by in Chicago."

The guests of the Leland Hotel moved yesterday. They knew nothing of what was in store for them until they arose in the morning, when they found the following notice posted over the clerk's desk:

This hotel will be closed forthwith, and all persons are requested to remove their belongings therefrom. THE PARK HOTEL COMPANY.

There were many complaints on the part of the fifty guests who were compelled to hunt other homes. Most of them declared it would have been the proper thing to have given them at least two days' notice instead of twelve hours'. The hotel will be reopened on May 10 as the Hotel Stratford.

RISK MEN SPEND THE DAY ACTING ON RATE PROTESTS.

Western Union Tries to Clear Away Entanglements Resulting from the Recent Advance of Charges.

Most of the time of the Governing committee of the Western Union was taken up yesterday with questions and complaints regarding the 25 per cent advance. Until these things are out of the way little can be done in the line of acting on the authorization of the union at its recent Philadelphia meeting to employ as many inspectors as can be secured to expedite the application of the new schedules.

Few men qualified for the work are at liberty, and it has been proposed that the difficulty be solved by all the companies contributing the services of their special agents for a time, until at least the places most in need of rating can be cleaned up.

This is reënforced by the almost unanimous request of local boards that the schedules be applied in their towns, so as to do away with the flat advance, all wanting it done at once.

Conditions at Springfield, which have been badly demoralized for some time, are believed to be improving. Arthur Melton, the new stamping secretary, took charge this week, and all the agencies formerly in the local board are now reporting through him, except E. S. Sherwood. His is a non-union agency, and the Illinois Field club, the non-union organization, intends to hold its next meeting in Springfield in hope of getting him in line if his companies do not bring him in before that time.

A committee of the Illinois State board visited Arcola yesterday to straighten out conditions there. Rates have been cut and there has been much demoralization.

A special and secret meeting of the Executive committee of the Chicago board was held yesterday morning to consider questions connected with commission and brokerage violations. It is reported that some decisions may be expected today from the Investigating committee.

HAVE TO GET UNION PIANIST.

Annual Ball of Knights and Ladies of Honor Interrupted When Non-Union Musician Is Discovered.

"Union musicians or no dance" was the decree that 500 members and friends of Leader Lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor were forced to accept when they gave their annual ball at the West Side Turner Hall, 770 West Chicago avenue. The band had played the grand march and the first waltz when the ultimatum was issued by a representative of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, and for half an hour confusion, harangues, and threats usurped the places of waltzes and two-steps.

Throughout the row that came with his decree the representative of the federation—a small but sharp-tongued delegate—stood his ground and demanded that the pianist, a non-union man named Herman Schmulk, be put out of the hall and a union man take his place. No union musicians could be found outside of the band, and the crowd which had paid for entrance began to clamor. The trouble was finally adjusted by one of the union violinists giving up his instrument and hammering the ivories.

Trouble Settled at Hammond.

There will be no strike at Hammond, for the packers and butchers employed by the G. H. Hammond Packing company and officers of the concern have come to an agreement over John Palm, the foreman of the hog killing department. It was decided in a conference between President Mike Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' and Butchers' union and General Manager H. K. Bell that Palm will be allowed to continue in his position provided he does not continue his alleged tactics of the past, but that if he does he will be dropped by the company.

New Wage Scale in Force.

The new wage scale of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners went into force yesterday. When that organization and the Master Carpenters and Builders reached an agreement a year ago it was decided that the scale of 42½ cents an hour be the rate for the first and 45 cents an hour for the second year. The last rate went into force yesterday, but was not accompanied by any trouble.

Engravers May Join Strike.

There is a prospect of the Photo Engravers' union joining with the Commercial Artists in their fight against the engraving and decorating companies of the city. Over a week has passed since the Commercial Artists walked out, and as there is no prospect of a settlement they have decided to call upon the photo engravers for aid if some agreement is not reached.

Fire Causes $180,000 Damage to Voss Manufacturing Co. and Other Tenants at 130 North Lincoln.

Damage amounting to $180,000 was caused early yesterday morning by a fire in the factory building at 130 to 138 North Lincoln street. The fire, an account of which appeared in an extra edition of THE TRIBUNE, was discovered shortly before 4 o'clock, after it had gained such headway that the Fire department had a hard fight to save the building from total destruction.

BURKE'S HELPER TAKES A REST.

Secretary Lutzenkirchen of Public Works Department Off for Six Months.

GOSSIP SAYS OUT TO STAY

KNOWN FOR "EFFICIENCY."

Henry Lutzenkirchen, secretary of the Public Works department, called the "Apollo of the City Hall," but known chiefly as Robert E. Burke's "man Friday," filed application yesterday for a "six months' leave of absence." His desire for rest stirred a storm of gossip, for it was admitted that Mayor Harrison and certain members of his official cabinet had assisted Mr. Lutzenkirchen to form his desire to "take a rest."

Following up the Mayor's denunciation of the "petty blackmailing" methods which he held had marked the Coliseum ball of Saturday night, which Burke aided in arranging, Lutzenkirchen's step caused further claims that the Executive is preparing to separate from Burke politically. Friends of City Sealer James A. Quinn said: "I told you so."

Mr. Lutzenkirchen for years has had a "soft" job, owing to his position as Mr. Burke's personal lieutenant. He has been drawing $2,500 a year. It is supposed his retirement will be permanent.

His Efficiency Record.

City Hall employés know Mr. Lutzenkirchen as the man who kept the "efficiency records" of the Public Works department and invariably marked himself 100. Then the Civil Service commission expressed a desire to exhibit this paragon, and found that the secretary for days merely called at the office long enough to see that no one had carried off his desk, and then departed to aid Robert E. Burke. Lutzenkirchen has been named as partner in a number of political firms that sought public contracts.

The eligible list for the place has expired, two years being the limit. Should Lutzenkirchen not return to his old place a new examination will have to be held.

Wants One-Fare Rule Enforced.

Alderman Race will ask the City Council, when that body convenes tonight, to direct that the entire police force of the city be used to force the Union Traction company to grant one-fare rides between Austin and the down-town district, in accordance with Judge Ball's decision. He will enter an order, he asserts, demanding that Mayor Harrison and Corporation Counsel Walker be required to take steps to this end.

Alderman Race, W. E. Golden, and other crusaders assert that to collect more evidence against the companies they must adopt disguises. They are known now by the conductors, and no effort is made to collect extra fares from them.

Attorney W. W. Gurley of the Union Traction company insists that the line is the victim of a misunderstanding. He contends that Corporation Counsel Walker agreed, when the suit was instituted, to file no suits until the matter could be settled in the United States Supreme Court.

ENGAGED COUPLE IS KILLED: GROOM DEAD: BRIDE DYING.

Carriage in Which Happy Quartet Is Returning from a Dance Is Struck by a Train Near Rossville, Kas.

St. Mary's, Kas., April 1.—[Special.]—Three persons were killed and another probably fatally injured when the carriage in which they were riding was struck by a train two miles west of Rossville early this morning.

The dead are Edward Smith and Miss Minnie Mainey, who were to be married next Sunday, and Fred Smith, who was married a week ago. Mrs. Fred Smith was so seriously injured her recovery is doubtful.

The two couples had come to this city to attend a dance and were on the way home when the accident happened.

The bodies of the killed were terribly mangled, and Miss Mainey's head was severed from her body. Both horses were killed and the carriage was splintered. The engineer did not see the carriage until after the engine had struck it. He brought his train to a standstill and the bodies were taken on board and were carried here.

Mine Disaster Kills Twenty-seven.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 1.—[Special.]—Sixteen bodies have been recovered from the Nelson mine at Dayton, where the explosion happened yesterday, and it is believed ten more dead are buried under the heaps of slate in the shaft.

The explosion came close upon the announcement, after an inspection, that the mine was perfectly safe. The Nelson shaft, however, has been the most dangerous of the mines at Dayton on account of the presence of mine gas ever since the explosion of Dec. 20, 1895, when twenty-eight men were killed. Since then the miners have been supplied with safety lamps, and fire bosses have been employed to fire the shots after the miners finished their work. The explosion yesterday is believed to have been caused by the unintentional firing of a shot by two experienced fire bosses.

The explosion blew sheds, scalehouses, and cars over an embankment 100 feet from the mouth of the mine.

WISCONSIN LAW TAXING ICE TAKEN FROM STATE INVALID.

Contest Made by Knickerbocker Company of Chicago Results in Defeating Recently Enacted Measure.

Madison, Wis., April 1.—The law passed by the last Legislature, imposing a tax of ten cents a ton on ice shipped out of the State, was declared invalid in a decision handed down by the Supreme Court today.

"The decision is undoubtedly a just one," said President John S. Field of the Knickerbocker Ice company. "Our company is more directly affected by the ruling of the Supreme Court than any other Chicago ice company, because we draw on the Wisconsin waters for most of our ice supply.

"Aside from the measure allowing the State 10 cents on the ton, we pay the State 40 cents for every ton of ice that we ship out of the State. When the law which was declared unconstitutional yesterday was passed we felt that it was an injustice, and as a consequence we never attempted to meet the requirements. Two months ago we shipped a carload of ice out of the State merely to test the law, and the man in charge of the car was arrested. The prosecution which followed resulted in yesterday's decision.

"The State of Wisconsin can consider itself fortunate, for if the decision had not been in our favor we would have removed our ice harvesting plants to Illinois waters. The decision cannot possibly cause any change in the price of ice."

WHITE SOX USE SHOVEL AND HOE

Griffith Compels All Able-bodied Men to Help Clear the Diamond.

NEGROES ON A "STRIKE."

Election Enables Colored Voters to Make Money Easier than Working.

PRACTICE GAME ON TODAY.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Excelsior Springs, Mo., April 1.—[Special.]—Ball players, newspaper men, hotel guests, and small boys were pressed into service this afternoon to rake and level the diamond of "Griffith Field," preparatory to the first practice game of the season tomorrow afternoon.

Toiling in the hot sun this band of volunteers raked all the dried clay from the surface, and then shoveled the lumps into wagons, which others carted to the outskirts of the field. After two hours' work the infield was in reasonably good shape and ready for the roller, which appeared after the players stopped practice.

The draft for laborers was due to a local election. Griffith had contracted with six colored men to rake the field in the morning. They then were expected to have the diamond level for the roller by noon. Meantime the contest between the regular Democratic ticket, headed by J. H. Samples for Mayor, and the Citizens' ticket, headed by William Crockett, was becoming keen. Campaign committees began to bid for the six votes, and the laborers marched off in a body.

One of them stopped at the hotel long enough to say to the clerk: "You tell the boss we think we kin make moah money at the polls today."

About noon "Grif," still in ignorance of the miniature walk-out, drew himself up proudly and said: "Well, boys, I guess I'll go over to the field named in my honor and see how my force is getting along."

He returned, angry but determined, and declared himself: "Every member of the team is ordered to report at the ball park in uniform and ready for work at 2 o'clock. Every newspaper man who does not want to get 'scooped' will do the same. Every guest who wants to be admitted to practice better come along and help. Small boys will be given 50 cents each for two hours' work."

"Grif" Leads Shovel Brigade.

"Grif" directed the work himself, leading the shovel brigade, which dug holes for the home plate and bases. Isbell and Patterson were prominent with the rakes, which prompted "Issy" to say: "It makes me feel as if I was at home on my Minnesota farm." The others were divided around in various places of usefulness. Not one shirked the order, and that is how the diamond will be ready for tomorrow.

In spite of the time taken up in manual labor, the practice was spirited. Garvin and Piatt both felt ambitious enough to speed a few over the plate for batting practice, the former especially letting out his speed in a way that baffled the yet undeveloped batting eye of his team mates.

Tom Daly displayed the same coltish tendencies as yesterday, but confined his work to catching flies and infield practice. His fellow-Gothamite, Davis, appeared for the first time in uniform, but was careful with his arm. He enters the work with more enthusiasm than expected in a veteran who has conditioned for years, and appears popular with the men. The differences which often impaired the usefulness of the Freedman aggregation during his sway there promises to be missing among the champions.

Callahan took no chances with his arm, but contented himself with infield work, along with Daly, Davis, and Isbell. Jones, Green, and Patterson caught flies. Eddie McFarland and Sullivan did the watching stunts, and occasionally unkinked for a winger to the bases. Positions were shifted around enough to give both batting and fielding practice, but by Griffith's advice the work is still limited.

MAGNATES TALK PEACEABLY.

National Leaguers Get Together—Talcott's Presence Gives Strength to Rumors of Selection as President.

New York, April 1.—The National league magnates tonight began at the Fifth Avenue Hotel what has been termed a peace conference. It was late before the meeting began. A. J. Reach of Philadelphia, just before the managers got together, summed up the situation thus:

"There must be no mistakes made at this meeting. Past differences must be forgotten and the club owners must bring about harmony. The National league is in danger, serious danger, and cool heads must devise a plan to put the old organization on the right track again. I believe this will be accomplished before we leave New York. Concessions must be made on both sides, and will be."

The meeting was called to order by N. E. Young. There were present A. H. Soden and W. B. Billings of Boston, John I. Rogers and A. J. Reach of Philadelphia, F. A. Abell, Charles Ebbetts, and Ned Hanlon of Brooklyn, Andrew Freedman of New York, James A. Hart of Chicago, Barney Dreyfuss and Harry Pulliam of Pittsburg, John T. Brush of Cincinnati, and Frank De Haas Robison of St. Louis.

The presence of Edward B. Talcott, former owner of the New York club, at the hotel during the day gave rise to considerable speculation. It was surmised he might be induced to again take part in the game. Today was the first time in a number of years that Mr. Talcott has been present during a league meeting. He said:

"I have just come back to New York and dropped into look things over and talk to some of my old baseball friends. I shall probably remain in the city until the meeting is ended."

Asked if he would accept the Presidency of the league, he responded: "I don't care to answer that. It has not been offered me as yet. Everybody knows the interest I take in baseball. I want to see this muddle straightened out."

The meeting adjourned in an hour, and according to "Nick" Young was perfectly harmonious. He said the magnates unanimously chose him chairman of the meeting and at once took up the matter of a playing schedule. Three were submitted—one by himself, one by Robison of St. Louis, and another by Ebbetts of Brooklyn. Another session will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow. A. G. Spalding was not present.

John M. Ward, Alfred Kiddle, John I. Rogers, and Mr. Northrup, counsel respectively for the Brooklyn club, A. G. Spalding, and the Philadelphia and Pittsburg clubs, held a conference tonight and decided to take an appeal from Justice Truax's decision in the baseball injunction case. In a decision handed down last Saturday Justice Truax overruled Spalding's demurrer to the complaint in the injunction suit. He gave Spalding permission, however, to file an answer to the suit upon the payment of costs.

EIGHTY-TWO HIGH GUNS

WINNERS OF NITRO-POWDER HANDICAP DIVIDE PURSE.

Entries for Second Day's Event in the Great Live Bird Tournament at Kansas City Number 419—Only Twelve Birds Are Shot At and Only Straight Scores Count—Gilbert and Marshall Fail to Get Inside Money—What the Women Shooters Did.

Kansas City, Kas., April 1.—There were 419 entries in the Nitro-Powder Handicap, the event scheduled for the second day of the Grand American Handicap live bird tournament, and eighty-two high guns, each with a straight score of twelve birds, divided the purse of $4,190.

Never before in the history of wing shot contests has so large a number of shooters participated in any single event. Nearly all of those who are entered for the Grand American Handicap faced the traps today, and each one was subjected to the same handicap he will have in the big shoot which will begin tomorrow.

The day was clear and cool enough to make the birds active and most satisfactory in their flight. Because of the large number of contestants today who shot from the 26, 27, and 28 yard lines, a larger percentage of shooters made higher scores than yesterday, when all shot from the 30-yard mark. At the end of the fourth round 238 of the shooters had not missed a bird. At the end of the eighth round 125 had a straight score.

The Nitro-Powder Handicap was intended to be a sixteen-bird affair, but because of the large entry list it was cut to twelve birds, and only those who had a straight score at the end of the eighth round were allowed to shoot out the match.

Crosby on a Long Mark.

Many of the prominent wing shots were among the winners today. W. R. Crosby of Ofallon, Ill., shooting from the 32-yard mark, made a straight score, as he did in the Kansas City sweepstakes yesterday. W. D. Batts of Ridgetown, Ont., who shoots with a 31-yard handicap, is another man who has not missed a bird during the tournament. Bates won the Grand American in 1900 and he is looked upon with favor this year. J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City and E. D. Fulford each made a straight score today.

Among those who failed to make a straight score were Fred Gilbert, Rollo Heikes, C. W. Budd, and T. A. Marshall. After killing ten straight Gilbert lost his last two birds. Marshall, who has won the Grand American Handicap at two of the annual tournaments, missed his sixth bird.

Annie Oakley of Nutley, N. J.; Lillian Smith, better known as "Wenonah," of California; and Mrs. S. S. Johnson of Minneapolis were in the race today but none of them made a straight score. Miss Oakley lost her seventh and eighth, "Wenonah" lost her fifth, and Mrs. Johnson missed her fifth bird. All three are entered for the Grand American Handicap.

List of the Winners.

The winners were as follows:

J. D. Gay, Pine Grove, Ky.; C. O. Le Compte, Pleasureville, Ky.; H. B. Hill, Aurora, Ind.; J. H. Mackie, Cincinnati; R. S. Rhoads, Columbus; H. H. Stevens, Rahway, N. J.; E. D. Bingham, Chicago; J. No Change in the Rules.

There are 479 entries for the Grand American Handicap, and a few more post entries are expected. The tournament committee met today to act upon the petitions to change the rule governing the distribution of the prize money and decided not to change the rule.

FOUR CHICAGOANS IN MONEY.

Alabaster, Bingham, "Battle Ax," and Northcutt Among the Winners of Nitro Handicap Sweepstakes.

Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—[Special.]—The Chicago contingent in the Grand American handicap tournament was well represented in the Nitro handicap sweepstakes at Elliott's Blue River Park this afternoon, and that delegation fared well, all things considered. Of the 419 entries twelve were Chicagoans, and of this dozen four were straight score men. They were J. L. Alabaster, Ed Bingham, "Battle-Ax," and W. P. Northcutt. E. S. Rice, the head of the Chicago delegation, was highly pleased with the work of his men today and said he considered their performance remarkable. The movement started by Rice's party to secure an added prize list to the grand American handicap was turned down without a hearing. Mr. Rice was sorely disappointed at the action. He had worked hard to secure the change and had a well signed petition, which was shown, but not officially presented, he says, to Secretary Shaner. Mr. Rice declared the end of the fight has not been reached.

WISCONSIN MEN IN TRAINING.

Relay Runners Who Will Go Against Pennsylvania Are Working Hard in Preparation for Contest.

Madison, Wis., April 1.—[Special.]—The men who are to represent Wisconsin in the four-mile relay race to be held under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on April 26 have been in hard training during the Easter recess. On next Thursday Captain Hahn, Keachie, and Breitkreutz will be taken to the training table, the fourth man and the substitute not having been chosen as yet. Fred Schule, who will accompany the team, has been entered in the high and broad jumps and low hurdles, and will probably compete in all three events. In proper condition, he will undoubtedly win points for Wisconsin.

The relay team will undoubtedly be the best four mile team ever developed in the West, and there are many at Wisconsin who firmly believe that they will win in the East. Hahn and Keachie easily won first and second at last year's intercollegiate. Breitkreutz won the mile open for high school runners at the Pan-American and the fourth man will be but little slower than the rest, as there is an unusually fast field fighting for the place. Smith and McEachron, both two-milers, are the more promising candidates, but are being pushed hard by Brummell and Kinney.

"Kid" McCoy Returns from Europe.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm today was Norman Selby, who is known to pugilism as "Kid" McCoy. McCoy has been abroad for six months, giving boxing lessons to Dukes and Lords, fighting now and then, and, incidentally, "bucking the tiger" at Monte Carlo. Although he did not succeed in breaking the bank McCoy says he managed to win a few dollars at Europe's gambling resort. "I am here to meet all comers," said McCoy on his arrival at the pier, "and especially to challenge the winner of the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons go. McCoy had nothing to say about his late "fake" match with Corbett.

O'Brien Beats McKeever.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 1.—Jack O'Brien and Charley McKeever went the limit in a six-round bout at Industrial Hall tonight. O'Brien had the better of the go and McKeever showed distress in the last round.

ABE FRANK WINS DECISIVE RACE.

Captures the Tennessee Club Purse from Three Rival Derby Candidates.

CONCEDES TEN POUNDS.

Bennett Horse Moves to Front at Half Pole and Comes Away Without Effort.

JOCKEY M'GOVERN SET DOWN

Memphis, Tenn., April 1.—[Special.]—Abe Frank gave weight and a beating to three other Tennessee Derby candidates in a race at six furlongs today, and his victory was so decisive that Redhook, Buccleuth, and Harry New, who finished behind him, can be considered to have no chance to beat George C. Bennett's dependence in the big 3-year-old event of the meeting, which will be run on Tuesday.

Abe was conceding ten pounds to each of the trio, and never left the issue in doubt. The race was the Tennessee club purse and was the feature event of the afternoon's program of six races. Ten went to the post and Abe Frank was an odds-on favorite. John W. Schorr's speedy cripple, Charles W. Meyer, was the first to draw clear of the bunch after a break in which no one seemed to have an advantage. Abe Frank moved up to him before the half pole was reached and Coburn raced along with the Schorr colt to the middle of the stretch turn. He turned Abe Frank loose there and the race was over.

He came away without an effort, and although Coburn shook him up in the middle of the stretch he won with plenty in reserve by a length and was willing to go on at the end while those behind him were all out. The race was hardly a fair test for Buccleuth and Redhook, as both were slow to get going and were virtually out of it before the race was fairly on. Both of them made up a lot of ground, but could not get inside the money. Terra Firma and Harry New had it between them for second money the final quarter, and Terra Firma got it in a nod.

Abe Frank Has Improved.

Abe Frank has spread and developed since his retirement last fall and it is doubtful if there is a better looking 3-year-old in the West than the son of Hanover. He could have gone the Tennessee Derby distance, one mile and a furlong, today without being distressed, and if McChesney starts he will have to be right on edge to give him an argument. McChesney is reported to have been working well of late, but unless Hildreth's colt is seen with the colors up before the day of the race and gives a good account of himself, Abe Frank is sure to be favorite.

Captain Rees is still the Nemesis of the steeplechase brigade. His official graveyard is mostly filled with Jolly Rogers of the infield, and today another was laid alongside Ellison, Bartley, Penn, Gaddy, Corner, and the others, who have not followed the strait and narrow path. McGovern, who had the mount on Golden Link, the favorite in the short course steeplechase, was suspended indefinitely after he let his mount run out of the course at the first jump, and was ordered off the grounds. Captain Rees is convinced he purposely let Golden Link run outside the flags, and McGovern can consider himself out of business.

First race, selling, 5 furlongs — Clorita, 116 pounds [T. O'Brien], 12 to 1, won; Automaton, 116 [Otis], 16 to 5, second; Sir Christopher, 121 [T. Walsh], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:02½. Approved, Fred Hessig, Little Jack Horner, Cadet, Golden Age, Lynch, Hugget, and Bard of Avon ran.

Second race, selling, 2-year-olds, 4 furlongs—Gold Bell, 113 pounds [J. Woods], 6 to 5, won; The Advocate, 105 [Coburn], 5 to 1, second; Allan, 110 [Winkfield], 5 to 1, third. Time, :50¼. John Carney, Transylvania, Overlace, King Dodo, Germany, F. G. Good, Mr. Bender, My Surprise, Pennant, Nimble Nag ran.

Third race, Tennessee club purse, $300, for 3-year-olds, 6 furlongs—Abe Frank, 117 pounds [Coburn], 6 to 5, won; Terra Firma, 107 [Dominick], 30 to 1, second; Harry New, 107 [Winkfield], 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Charles W. Meyer, Red Hook, Lucien Appleby, Merrymaker, Buccleuth, Kaffir, and The Esmond ran.

Fourth race, $400, 1 mile—The Lady, 103 pounds [Birkenruth], 5 to 1, won; Felix Bard, 100 [T. Walsh], even, second; South Breeze, 94 [O'Neil], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:42. Barbara Freitschie and Jessie Jarboe ran.

Fifth race, steeplechase, short course, about 1¼ miles—Daryl, 137 pounds [H. S. Wilson], 3 to 1, won; Henry Gibbs, 137 [G. Wilson], 2¼ to 1, second; Robert Morrison, 137 [Slater], 15 to 1, third. Time, 3:01¼. Gold Link, Fonsoline, Handsqueeze, Precursor ran.

Sixth race, selling, purse, $300, 15-16 mile—Curd Gillock, 104 pounds [Dominick], 20 to 1, won; Monos, 105 [Coburn], 8 to 1, second; H. L. Coleman, 90 [J. Walsh], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:36¼. Ecome, Lee King, Menace, Pirate Queen, Chorus Boy, Eva Rice, Plead, Edith Q., and Sir Rolla ran.

BENNINGS CROWD IS SMALL.

Cold Weather at the Eastern Track—Clever Two-Year-Olds in Prominent Stables.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—[Special.]—Today's attendance at Bennings was the smallest of the meeting. The weather was dry, but cool and generally disagreeable. Four favorites finished as they were fancied, and the thirty-seven bookmakers who occupied stools suffered losses accordingly. Old Filibuster, entered by E. F. Myers of Dayton, O., a former partner of Sam Wagner, was the only outsider that won. He was a 10 to 1 chance. Sam Wagner did not back him.

The Goughacres Stable's Morca and August Belmont's Blue Peter won the second and fourth races, respectively, with remarkable ease. Each finished alone and under restraint. Caithness set a hot pace in the third race, but tired in the last furlong, where Man o' War, the favorite, got the front.

Bennings Summaries April 1.

MANY SCRATCHES AT OAKLAND.

Upsets Frequent After First Two Races, Which Go to Favorites—Sir Tom Tiddler a Surprise.

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—[Special.]—It began raining early this morning, and scratches were numerous in consequence. After two hot favorites had won there were several upsets. The Shattuck Handicap at seven furlongs was taken by Sister Jeanie, with Constellator second and Hagerdon, the favorite, third. Jennings tried to scratch Sister Jeanie, thinking she could not do herself justice in the mud.

The biggest surprise of the day occurred in the third race at six furlongs, when Sir Tom Tiddler, a 30 to 1 chance, finished first and Sir Claus, a 100 to 1 chance, came in third. The winner interfered with Axminster, and no one would have been surprised if Sir Tom Tiddler had been disqualified.

GUN FIGHT BETWEEN TRAINERS

Joe Chinn Shoots at John B. Todd at Lexington and Lames a Yearling Colt.

Lexington, Ky., April 1.—[Special.]—Joe Chinn and John B. Todd, two prominent local trainers of thoroughbred horses, had a fight at the Kentucky association racetrack this morning. Todd struck Chinn a blow behind the ear, and Chinn, drawing a revolver, fired at Todd, the bullet piercing his clothes. They had disputed over a 2-year-old filly by imp. Hermence, which Chinn had bought of Overton H. Chenault, and in which Todd claimed an interest. Todd heard Chinn had said he was "no trainer" and upbraided him for the statement. The result of the encounter may be more serious than was the difficulty in itself. Chinn's bullet entered the leg of a yearling colt by Russell, dam Napranine, by imp. Rosifer, owned by ex-Councilman R. A. Downing, rendering the colt a cripple probably for life. Downing says he will sue Chinn for damages and attach all of his horses.

MODESTY-IMP. BRANTOME COLT

Winner of the First American Derby Drops Foal at Ed Corrigan's Ranch Near Sacramento.

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—[Special.]—Modesty, winner of the first American Derby, has a bay colt at the Corrigan ranch near Sacramento. The new comer is by imp. Brantome, the St. Simon horse which Corrigan brought to California in 1901. This is the first foal Modesty has had since Toah in 1898.

Two Valuable Foals at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., April 1.—[Special.]—The famous broodmare imp. Mintcake, half sister to Melton, winner of the Grand Prix de Paris and $50,000 Jubilee Stakes, by Marcian, dam Mint Sauce, foaled a brown colt at Castleton stud last night. This makes twenty-six foals dropped by J. R. & F. P. Keene's broodmares this year, twelve of which are colts. The noted broodmare Bagpipes, by MacDuff, dam Sonora, by King Alfonso, owned by W. S. Barnes, foaled a brown colt by Jim Gore today. This youngster is an own brother to Moncreith, who conquered Ornament, both as a 2 and a 3 year old, and the Goldfinder, winner of the Expectation Stakes in 1901. He will be entered in the English Derby of 1905.

GOSSIP OF THE GOLF PLAYERS.

Committee to Arrange Contest for the Burlington Cup — Approaching Tournament at Lakewood.

In accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting of the Burlington route suburban golf clubs, Chairman J. R. Griffitts has appointed a committee to select grounds, furnish prizes, and make all the necessary arrangements for the tournament to be held in July for the Burlington Route Suburban cup. The committee selected is as follows: P. S. Eustis of La Grange, chairman; H. K. Allen of Riverside, C. T. Merritt, Hinsdale; W. E. Wright, Aurora; and K. R. Owen, Belmont. The cost of the prizes will be $275, which will be provided from the entry fees and by assessment from each club, should it be necessary. All handicaps will be fixed by a committee of five, which will consist of one member from each of the clubs interested. The Riverside club has already agreed to the conditions.

Jasper Lynch, secretary of the Golf club of Lakewood, N. J., has issued the program of the eighth annual spring tournament of the club, which will be held April 17 to 19 at Lakewood. The first day will be occupied with a qualifying round at thirty-six holes for the Lakewood cup. The second and third sixteens will qualify for the second and third cups. The match play rounds will take place on Friday and Saturday. The Golf club of Lakewood Handicap will be played on Saturday. Members of the U. S. G. A. are eligible to compete.

As this is the first of the big tournaments in the East the form of the contestants will be of much interest to Western players.

Robert Simpson, the professional, who is to be with the Riverside club this season, has arrived in the city and will locate at the clubhouse shortly. He reports the Riverside course as being in excellent condition for this time of the year, the low lying portions being comparatively free from water. Simpson, who has been located in St. Louis for the last two years, is a clever player, who will be an addition to the local colony.

COLD WORK FOR SELEE'S MEN.

Remnants Use Illinois Gymnasium in Morning Work and Baseball Field for Short Afternoon Stunt.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Champaign, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—The Aldermanic election and clear, cold weather with occasional snow flurries during the afternoon made up the April Fool day card at Champaign today. The inclement weather did Selee's battalion little good, as it was altogether too cold to indulge in hard practice.

For a short time during the afternoon "Dusty" Rhoades, who comes from down Memphis way, tossed the ball to the batters. Chance is hitting the ball as hard as ever and is in great shape, having been playing all winter at his home in Fresno, Cal. Lynch and St. Vrain, both of whom played at Tacoma last year, are fast rounding into shape. The former, who is an outfielder, is a big fellow, quick as chain lightning, and can hit some. He swings at the ball hard. His motion is something like Lajoie's, his swing finishing with only the left hand holding the bat. Like most big fellows, he is of a jolly temperament and is fast becoming a favorite.

Kennedy, the ex-Southern leaguer, seems to fit in well at short between Lowe and Dexter. He is fast on his feet and seems to have natural ability. The men have not had a fair chance to show what they can do.

"KID" CARTER AND WEINIG MATCHED

Bout Will Be Windup of America Athletic Club's Next Boxing Show.

DATE IS MONDAY NIGHT.

Buffalo Pugilist Is of the Improving Kind, as Shown by Ring Career.

MAY LOCATE IN CHICAGO.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

Kid Carter, the Brooklyn light heavyweight who created an extremely favorable impression by his jig time knockout of Joe Choynski a little over a week ago, is to meet Al Weinig, the bicycle riding pugilist of Buffalo. The match has been secured by the America Athletic club and will be the windup of next Monday night's show.

Carter is rated quite highly by local critics because of his work against Choynski, but those who have followed Weinig's ring doings of late prophesy the ungainly but rugged athlete from Buffalo is well able to take care of himself against any of the second-rate pugilists. He certainly is of the improving kind. About two years ago nearly every one in the fighting business had Weinig on his record. Billy Stift knocked the Easterner out at the Star Theater a little over a year ago. At Milwaukee in a six-round contest in the first part of the year Weinig secured a return contest with Stift and beat him.

Weinig followed this victory up by stopping big Jim Jeffords in three rounds of what was to have been a six-round contest at Philadelphia. Then followed knockout victories over Dan Creedon and Jack McCormick at Hot Springs. Weinig's last ring effort was against John Willie. This bout was of twenty rounds duration and took place at the Southern health resort. The referee decided the contest a draw, and both men since that time have been complaining that they were "robbed" by the referee's verdict.

Weinig cannot be called a graceful boxer, and his actions in the ring are not pleasing to the eye, but that he is a tough ringster there is no doubt. A glutton for punishment, he is always willing to take a blow in order to have an opportunity of giving one, and, as this is Carter's style also, a six-round battle between the two should be quite the thing.

Carter is in excellent condition and has been training since his meeting with Choynski. Weinig has been training at his home, and will arrive here either tomorrow or Friday morning. If successful against Carter Weinig will probably locate here permanently. Malachy Hogan will referee the heavyweight scrap in the absence of George Siler, who will officiate on Monday night at Louisville.

The card in full for Monday night includes a number of the contests postponed from last Monday night. It is as follows: "Chappy" Moran vs. "Young" Marine, 118 pounds; Pat Kinneally vs. Ed Dickenson, 130 pounds; Joe Sherlock vs. Mike Bartley, 124 pounds; Luke Shea vs. Jim Dewar, catchweights; and the windup.

The falling through of the Martin Duffy-Tom Couhig match because of the illness of Martin brought offers from the Empire and Monarch Athletic clubs of Louisville for the contest. Couhig's manager, Jim Kinney, who did not accompany Tom East, as was reported, was willing to transact business with any club just to bring Couhig against Duffy, but, of course, gives preference to the America club. Martin also prefers fighting here. This mutual favoritism to the America organization will result in the men meeting within the next three weeks.

The club management thought seriously of matching Benny Yanger against some good featherweight to contest on April 14, but it is doubtful if Benny would care to fight so soon before his proposed meeting with "Kid" Broad, which will probably take place on April 22. Charles Houghton, manager and matchmaker of the West End club, under whose auspices Yanger and Broad will fight, was to have arrived in Chicago yesterday to perfect arrangements. Houghton failed to materialize, but wired he would surely reach the city today. Should he select April 22 for the date of the contest, Duffy and Couhig, provided the former has fully recovered from his sick spell, will, without doubt, meet on April 14.

Couhig, before leaving for the East, posted a forfeit of $100 to guarantee his appearance against Duffy at any time the America club may elect. Martin was much improved yesterday and will be out in a few days.

"Kid" Broad, accompanied by "Kid" Thomas, left for St. Louis last night, where, on April 10, he meets Abe Attel before the West End Athletic club. Broad, whose veins have never been known to be clogged with humor, played a practical, or rather an "April fool," joke on his manager, Joe Macias, in the wee hours of the morning. Macias relates it as follows:

"I sent out several telegrams to Louisville regarding a match between Carter and Marvin Hart, and after waiting until midnight without receiving a reply concluded to retire for the night. I was completely fagged out and dropped into a sound sleep as soon as I hit the pillow. About 3 o'clock in the morning I was aroused by a loud rapping on my door, and, opening it, was handed a telegram by one of the bell boys.

"Ripping open the envelope, I read the following: 'Thomas wallopped a bloke in the eye. We're pinched in Harrison Street Station. Get us out. "Kid" Broad.'

"I hustled on my clothes as quickly as possible. Dug down to the Harrison Street Station, only to find I had been made a victim of 'All Fools' day."

"What did you say to the 'Kid' in the morning?" was asked.

"Nothing. Never let on I had been fooled. He asked me whether I received a telegram during the night and I told him 'No.' Guess he don't know he fooled me, but I do."

The Louisville promoters are still dickering with Macias for Carter's services against Marvin Hart, but no match, as yet, has been definitely arranged.

"FITZ" LIKES CHARLESTON BID.

Offer of $26,000 and the Privilege of 75 Per Cent Catches Cornishman—Los Angeles Club Silent.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Bids for the Jeffries-Fitzimmons fight were reopened here today. The Southern Athletic club of Charleston stated its offer in full, guaranteeing 286,000, with the privilege of 75 per cent and agreeing to pay the referee the sum of $500.

The Los Angeles promoters were not heard from, no further offer being made than the $25,000, with a privilege of 75 per cent, which they stated last week they were willing to give. "Fitz" said unlesss the Los Angeles club increased its offer h was in favor of accepting the Charleston bid. It was telegraphed in full to Jeffries.

Sporting men here are of the opinion that if the statement of Matchmaker Joudon of the Charleston club, in which he positively says Governor McSweeney won't interfere with the fight, is true, the bout will take place before the Southern organization.

It is not believed Fitz will not agree to fight before the Century Athletic club, because Jeffries and his three brothers hold an interest in the club, and Jeffries will be benefited financially if the bout be decided at Los Angeles, whether he wins or loses.

Matchmaker Joudon of the Southern Athletic club of Charleston this afternoon gave out the following statement:

"I have every assurance from Governor McSweeny that he won't interfere if the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons fight is held at Charleston. He told me he would take no action so long as the fight is not to a finish.

"Now we never intended to have the fight for any unlimited number of rounds. We propose to hold a twenty round bout between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons, and I am confident we will get the fight.

"There will be no objection to the bout from the State authorities so long as we carry out our intentions to make the battle one of twenty rounds."

Late tonight a reply was received from Jeffries. He said he did not think the contest could be held at Charleston, and he wanted the Charleston men to post the full $26,000 as forfeit. Fitzsimmons immediately sent back the following telegram to Jeffries:

"Charleston is the best bid, and by articles of agreement we are both bound to accept it. Have every assurance of no interference. If you really want to fight accept or think up some better excuse than you have given. Your demand for $26,000 forfeit is ridiculously unreasonable. I am ready to sign and post forfeit now."

HYDE PARK GAME POSTPONED.

Baseball Match Arranged with University of Chicago Delayed on Account of Cold Weather.

The maroon baseball team played an April fool joke on the Hyde Park High School team yesterday afternoon. When the high school lads came over to Marshall Field in the biting wind to play the varsity team they found the maroons huddled against the grand stand, and were informed that it was much too cold to play even a scheduled game. The Hyde Park boys hurried home, but the maroons staid for lively practice work. The game will be played the first pleasant day of the week.

"Red" Carey, the star weight thrower of the maroon track team, made strong records with the hammer yesterday. In three trials he made 132, 134, and 136 feet, the best consecutive record of three throws that he has ever made. Any of the marks beats the Western intercollegiate meet record.

The first meeting of the Chicago Cross Country club to prepare for spring work was held yesterday afternoon. Eli Gale, the long distance runner, who holds the university record for the mile, is the Captain of the team, and he will call out the spring candidates for practice as soon as the cold snap leaves. There are now about a dozen long distance runners who have made fast enough time for mile and two-mile runs to be given places in the club. Contests with the cross country clubs of Illinois, Wisconsin, and possibly Northwestern will be arranged, if the material is good.

CLERKS MAKING THEIR PLANS.

Commercial and Mercantile Baseball Leagues to Hold Joint Meeting to Prepare for Coming Season.

President Bowlus of last season's Commercial and Mercantile baseball leagues, reports the clubs of the two organizations are becoming active, and within the next week meetings will be held to effect organization for this year. Among the prospective teams that will constitute the Commercial are the Swifts, who captured last season's pennant; Sears, Roebuck & Co., J. V. Farwells, Crane & Co., and Armour & Co.

Both the Commercial and the Mercantile will hold a joint meeting at Mr. Bowlus' office, 308 Chamber of Commerce Building, on Wednesday, April 9. All commercial houses who have uniformed baseball teams are requested to send a representative to this meeting.

Foreign grain markets were open and all important markets in this country were doing business yesterday except Chicago, which was closed because of the local election, and the results were satisfactory to local pride and the contention that the speculaive grain trade languishes without the leadership of this market. Business was reported quiet at all domestic markets and the range of prices everywhere was narrow, barely ¼c on wheat in most instances, while the most violent fluctuations did not exceed ⅜c. There was a strong tone to the wheat markets everywhere, moderate advances of ⅛-¼c, except at St. Louis, where there was a loss of ⅛c on May, with July unchanged. There was a decline of 1¼d at Liverpool from the close of last Thursday, leaving the May delivery there 14¾c over the May closing price here of Monday, a wider difference than often seen. The English break was assisted by large arrivals of cargoes, 24 in all since Saturday. Spot wheat in Liverpool was ½d to 1d lower. There was a decline of 1¼c at Antwerp.

Domestic statistics were more favorable. There was a decrease of 2,544,000 bu in the world's available supply, compared with an increase of 451,000 bu a year ago, but east of the Rockies the decrease was 3,244,000 bu, as against a decrease of 849,000 bu last year. Afloat and abroad there was an increase of 700,000 bu, compared with one of 1,300,000 bu last year. Northwest receipts were small, only 173 cars, compared with 293 cars the week before and 352 a year ago. A decrease of 3,000,000 bu in country elevator stocks in the Northwest during March was reported, leaving only 2,269,000 bu. Primary receipts, not including Chicago and Toledo, were 456,896 bu. There was clear weather in Kansas and Oklahoma, with showers and warmer indicated for today. Little interest was manifested by the local trade in other markets. No export sales were reported from the seaboard.

The corn visible supply decreased 689,000 bu for the week, according to Bradstreet's, compared with an increase of 1,001,000 bu a year ago. The oats stock decreased 232,000 bu, compared with an increase of 398,000 bu last year.

Total public and private stocks of grain in Chicago, with changes for the week: Wheat, 11,252,000 bu, increase 21,000 bu; corn, 7,665,000 bu, increase 44,000 bu; oats, 2,286,000 bu, increase 156,000 bu; rye, 1,177,000 bu, increase 27,000 bu; barley, 173,000 bu, decrease 40,000 bu.

Figures on Hog Supply.

From answers to inquiries on the hog situation sent out by George M. Sterne & Son to every county in the nine principal hog raising States it would appear that those who have prophesied a market shortage in the hog crop this summer both in numbers and weight have plenty of evidence or opinion in their favor. The questions and replies, by States and counties tabulated, are as follows:

	Ready for market— More hogs.	Less hogs.	Lighter w'ghts.	Heav'r w'ghts.	Supplies to carry stock to next crop— Eno'h feed.	Not eno'h feed.

Formal announcement of the dissolution of the firm of Logan & Bryan by the withdrawal of Frank G. Logan as special partner was made to the trade yesterday. The business will be continued under the same name by Theron Logan, Benjamin B. Bryan, and Henry Nicolay. Mr. F. G. Logan, in bidding a final good-by to the Board of Trade, explains his withdrawal from the firm as occasioned solely "because, under a new construction of an old rule by the Chicago Board of Trade, I would be required to join that institution again, and, as I retired from that and other active positions on July 1 last, I do not care to reënter them."

PRODUCE TRADE RATHER SLOW.

Receipts Large, Demand Only Moderate—Strawberry Receipts Increasing—Large Stocks of Beans.

There was a slow trade in produce circles yesterday. The offerings were ample, rather large receipts being the rule, and demand was only moderate. Butter and poultry were weaker, eggs firm, veal steady, green fruits quiet. There are increasing receipts of strawberries from Louisiana. Vegetables were fairly steady under better supplies, stock in better condition. The bean market was quiet, but according to late reports from California the outlook is not encouraging. Stocks everywhere are large, and stocks of Lima beans on the coast are reported to be about 200,000 bags, out of a crop of 550,000 bags, the largest crop on record. This time a year ago the stock was only 10,000 bags. The small white beans declined 75c per 100 lbs within a week, due to an overstocked market. Stocks of this description also reported large on the coast. Michigan beans were sent into the Territories usually supplied by California, and this has left the coast markets in bad shape.

IN LOCAL LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Receipts and Shipments of Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep—Figures for the Week.

Average prices of cattle, hogs, and sheep were the highest of the year. The cattle market was active to the extent of the offerings, with prices strong to 10c higher. There was another jump in the price of distillery steers, the top being 15c above last week's top. One load of "stillers" sold at $6.80, being the highest in nearly twenty years for distillery fed stock. Hogs advanced 5@10c, sheep ruled strong to 10c higher, and shorn lambs shaded lower, with wool stock strong. Top hogs $7.00, and best lambs $6.90.

Cattle—Native beef cattle sold actively and values ruled strong to higher, with "cow stuff" barely steady and stockers and feeders weak and mostly 10c lower. Receipts were rather small, with the total thus far this week 6,000 smaller than a week ago. Shippers bought a few cattle, but most of the business was transacted by local buyers. The best cattle on the market were stillers. One load averaging 1,310 lbs sold at $6.80; a load, 1,253 lbs, at $6.60; 18 head, 1,051 lbs, at $5.85; and 33 head averaging 995 lbs at $5.60. Several loads of what buyers described as "just medium" cattle sold at $6.35@6.50, averaging 1,180@1,280 lbs. Some light 1,071@1,123-lb cattle sold for $6.00@6.10, yearlings averaging 863 lbs sold at $5.50, and not many cattle were sold below that notch. Distillery bulls sold as high as $5.20; native bulls, $2.75@5.00; canning cows, $1.50@2.70; fat cows and heifers, $3.50@5.50; stockers, $3.00@4.20; and feeders, $4.25@5.25. Veal calves sold some higher, principally at $5.00@5.75.

Hogs—Values opened 5@10c above Monday's closing, with 272@326-lb averages at $7.00, being within 37½c of the top last September, when $7.37½ was paid, which was the highest for any time since 1893. The market was active and strong early, but finished weak, with 5,000 left in the pens. Packers were good buyers at the start, but they acted indifferent late. Receipts were under what the trade expected and the quality was only fairly good. The average price for the day was $6.75. Pigs averaging 70@90 lbs sold as low as $5.60@5.75, with 110@130-lb pigs at $6.00@6.35 and 150@170-lb averages at $6.50@6.70. Quotations follow:

Selected butchers', 220@270 lbs	6.75@6.95
Light bacon, 150@175 lbs	6.55@6.70
Light butchers', 180@195 lbs	6.65@6.80
Mixed grades, 180@240 lbs	6.60@6.80
Heavy shipping, 260@350 lbs	6.85@7.00
Heavy packing, 280@400 lbs	6.75@6.90
Rough to heavy grades	6.55@6.70
Poor to choice pigs	5.50@6.35

Sheep—There was a brisk demand for sheep at strong to 10c higher prices. Wooled lambs ruled firm and shorn stock weak to 10c lower. Colorado fed lambs touched $6.90 again, being the highest of the year. Most of the lambs sold at $6.60@6.80 for wooled and $6.00@6.30 for shorn. Sheep sold at $4.00@5.85 for natives and $4.75@5.70 for Westerns. Yearlings sold at $5.00@6.15.

NEW ROCK ISLAND STOCK

SHAREHOLDERS TO VOTE ON INCREASE OF $15,000,000.

Proceeds Will Pay for Extensions—Large Expenditures on System Proposed—Move Is a Surprise, as Doubling of Capital Was Expected—Raymond, Pynchon & Co. to Dissolve Partnership—Traffic on "L" Roads Makes High Records.

To provide the means for important extensions to the Gulf of Mexico, and possibly towards the Pacific coast, the Rock Island road has issued notice that at the annual meeting on June 4 stockholders will be asked to increase the capital stock from $60,000,000 to $75,000,000. The additional $15,000,000 of stock will be sold to the shareholders as a preliminary to the construction of the new lines which the present controlling interests in the Rock Island have mapped out.

The proposition will be adopted without a question, as the Moore brothers and their following own enough stock to give them an absolute control of the policy of the system.

In anticipation of this step the Rock Island is said to have parties of surveyors at work planning a new route from its present Western terminus at El Paso, Tex., through Arizona to California. The company's extension to El Paso was put in operation only this spring, and with the inauguration of this service the company has a through route to California by using the tracks of the Southern Pacific from El Paso. A traffic arrangement was entered into with the Southern Pacific for this purpose which will afford through service until a new line can be completed, if the project is carried that far.

The Southern line which is said to be in contemplation will run from Fort Worth, Tex., to the Gulf of Mexico, traversing the oil fields. Besides these the company will add to its lines in Oklahoma.

Large Sum Spent on Road.

The extent of the improvements which the Rock Island has been making and has in contemplation for the future can be seen by the amount of money which is being put into the property. Last July stockholders were given the rights on an additional $10,000,000 of stock, making the authorized sum $60,000,000. This sum was used in the construction of the El Paso extension largely. With the $15,000,000 more which stockholders are now to vote upon there will be a total of $25,000,000 spent on the property, or an addition of 50 per cent over the amount of capital stock outstanding prior to July, 1901.

The announcement of the proposed increase of $15,000,000 in Rock Island stock was a surprise to the street, as it had been generally believed that the stock would be doubled and placed on a 4 per cent dividend basis.

Earnings are ample to take care of the dividend on the increased issue. For the eleven months of the fiscal year ended with February the road showed a surplus of $6,381,350 over fixed charges, an increase of $1,769,612 over the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year. This would indicate that the company will earn for the year at the rate of 11.6 per cent on its $60,000,000 of stock.

If the company does not raise its dividend next year, earnings, should they be equal only to the present year, will be sufficient to meet the dividend requirements and leave a surplus of $3,211,472.

Some Rock Island stock was sold in yesterday's market by traders who were disappointed at the small size of the stock increase. It closed at 179, a loss of 1.

Raymond, Pynchon & Co. to Dissolve.

The firm of Raymond, Pynchon & Co. will be dissolved. Harry Raymond, the senior member, will retire and Mr. Pynchon will continue the business. Mr. Raymond has been in the stock and grain brokerage business for eighteen years and will withdraw from active business for awhile. He has been in charge of the New York office of the firm for some months. The dissolution of partnership will take place in a short time.

"L" Roads Break Records.

Metropolitan Elevated traffic during March made a new record for the road, reaching a daily average of 105,512 passengers a day. This is due to the operation of the new extensions. The largest day in the month was March 21, when 121,000 passengers were carried. The increase over March of last year is 7,173 passengers a day, or 7.29 per cent. Traffic figures since the first of the year follow:

	1902.	1901.	Inc.
February	100,466	97,659	2,807
March	105,512	98,339	7,173

The Northwestern Elevated carried an average of 65,362 passengers daily in March, the largest number since the road began operation. This is a gain of 8,169 over the corresponding month of last year, or 14.3 per cent. The total number of passengers was 2,026,220. Totals for the year so far follow:

	1902.	1901.	Inc.
March	65,362	57,193	8,169

Travel on the South Side Elevated road in March was larger than any month since the World's Fair. It amounted to a daily average of 80,313 passengers, an increase of 4,044, or 5.3 per cent, as against March, 1901. The showing since the beginning of the year is as follows:

	1902.	1901.	Inc.

Little Business in Chicago.

While the offices of Chicago brokers were open yesterday because of the New York stock market, little business was transacted on account of the local election. Traders in Chicago showed small interest in the market, and the absence of business from here was noticeable in a falling off in the volume of transactions in New York. The Chicago element in the New York market has taken the lead in a number of movements recently.

Financial Topics.

Call money ruled in New York at 4¼ per cent, and at the close was offered at 3 per cent. The last loan was at 2¼.

At the annual meeting of the Butte and Boston company yesterday the retiring directors were reëlected.

Boston dispatches say the Calumet and Hecla company is out of the market as a seller of copper below 14c a pound.

Alfred L. Baker, who is in New York, wired the following: "I hear good reports regarding both Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. Those who are nearest to the Southern Pacific policy are confident that they will soon declare a dividend at the rate of either 4 or 5 per cent. Of course, if this is true Southern Pacific will sell much higher. I would not be surprised to see the market generally run into higher prices. Keep long of Pennsylvania all the time. It will come out some time or other the same as Chicago and Northwestern and should be bought first, last, and always, but for the general market conditions Union Pacific and Southern Pacific look favorable."

"The Atchison railway will spend $1,412,000 for betterments this year," says General Manager Mudge.

The market for sterling ruled firm. There is a good remitting demand for the steamers of the middle of the week. At the present price of sterling at Paris gold shipments to the latter are not looked for this week.

The common and preferred stocks of the Railway Steel Spring company have been admitted to quotation in the unlisted department of the New York Stock Exchange.

A dispatch from Birmingham, Ala., quotes President Hopkins of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron company as saying that he would retire from the company. According to the dispatch J. C. Maben of New York will succeed Mr. Hopkins.

Canadian Pacific.

In moving the adoption of the resolution providing for the increase of $19,500,000 in Canadian Pacific stock, President Shaughnessy said at the special meeting:

"The $19,500,000 of new stock is offered to the shareholders of the ordinary capital stock at par on the basis of 30 per cent of their respective holdings when the books closed for dividend in London on Feb. 18 and in Montreal and New York on March 3, 1902. Subscriptions will be payable at the Bank of Montreal, London, New York, or Montreal, as follows: Twenty per cent or $20 per share on subscription; 20 per cent or $20 per share on June 24, 1902; 20 per cent or $20 per share on Aug. 27, 1902; 20 per cent or $20 per share on Oct. 27, 1902; and 20 per cent or $20 per share on Dec. 24, 1902."

United States Rubber.

The First National Bank of New York and Blair & Co. offer subject to previous sale at 98¾ and interest $12,000,000 United States Rubber collateral funding 5 per cent gold notes, being coupon notes of a series of $12,000,000 and denomination of $5,000 each, maturing on March 15, 1905, and redeemable at par on any interest payment date. Interest is payable semi-annually on March 15 and Sept. 15, and principal and interest are payable in gold without any deduction for taxes.

President Colt submits a statement of earnings and disbursements from the company's organization to Nov. 30, 1901. Total earnings were $23,910,551, from which is deducted $4,048,055 paid for interest, $3,082,439 charged off for depreciations, etc., and $14,102,812 for dividends, total of $21,233,306, thus leaving a balance of $2,067,245.

The charge for interest hereafter will be represented by the interest paid on the funding notes, and these notes are secured by a deposit with the Morton Trust company, trustee of notes of subsidiary companies aggregating $12,000,000.

Car and Foundry.

The American Car and Foundry company reports for the three months ending Feb. 28:

	1902.	1901.	Decrease.
Net	$780,642	$918,798	$138,156
For ten months of fiscal year:
Net	2,806,118	3,466,025	659,907

The company has declared regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock and 1½ per cent on its common stock, both payable on May 1.

Larceny Charge Is Dismissed.

Sanford S. Small, the wealthy resident of Minneapolis who was charged with larceny as bailee, was exonerated of the charge in Justice Gibbons' court yesterday afternoon. The warrant for Small's arrest was sworn out by John Anderson, a real estate dealer living at 3633 Vernon avenue. The decision of Justice Gibbons yesterday marked the termination of a complicated deal between Anderson and Small in 1898.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

Current and Closing Quotations on Dry Goods, Coffee, Poultry, Butter, and Metals.

NEW YORK, April 1.—[Special.]—Business in dry goods was quiet today, and little outside of filling orders for current needs developed. The absence of mail orders contributed to the quietness. Prices, however, remain firm and unchanged.

Range of Coffee Prices.

Coffee closed quiet, with prices net 5c lower. The market for spot coffee was dull and nominal, with prices about on the basis of 5⅝c for invoice lots of No. 7 Rio. The range of contract prices in the local market today was as follows:

BROKERS CHARGED WITH THEFT

District Attorney Alleges Embezzlement by New Orleans Cotton House—Expelled from Cotton Exchange.

New Orleans, La., April 1.—District Attorney Gurley today filed information charging Henry Newman and Harry Hyman of the cotton firm of H. & C. Newman, one of the largest houses here, with embezzlement from Captain John A. Buckner, a planter of East Carroll Parish, La. The accused were recently expelled from the Cotton Exchange. It is charged that in selling cotton for Buckner they kept part of the sums received in his behalf.

WALL STREET IS LEFT IN HANDS OF PROFESSIONALS.

Operators Seem Confident There Will Be No Trouble in Anthracite Field, but Coal Stocks Are Offered—Steel Trust's First Annual Report Shows Great Prosperity—Regular Dividends Declared and Surplus Set Aside—Conversion Plan Approved.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—[Special.]—The stock market today developed a reactionary tendency. The railway bond market was active, although the transactions fell considerably short of yesterday's record, and that market retained an almost generally strong tone.

The market is so professional that the movements, at times violent, in either direction, cannot be regarded with much significance as indicating the tendency for more than twenty-four hours. The announcement that the managers of the larger anthracite mining and carrying companies had decided to put in force, beginning today, the now usual spring reduction of 50 cents per ton in prices, was followed by moderate offerings, chiefly of Reading issues; for both accounts.

It is plain that the operators are confident that the prosperity of the industry will not be interrupted by any labor difficulties this year or they would not voluntarily mark down the wholesale price of coal. The reduction was considered to reflect an understanding with the miners.

In railroad stocks a 10,000 share record was attained or exceeded only by Reading common, Baltimore and Ohio, and St. Paul. The first mentioned and the second preferred left off a point lower than yesterday. The net changes in the other two stocks were insignificant. In the local traction stocks declines extended to 1⅞ in Metropolitan Street Railway. Evansville and Terre Haute common on light dealings rose 1¼.

In the industrial list the tendency, with but few exceptions, was downward. Sugar was fairly active, but closed nearly 2 points lower on profit taking. Colorado Fuel and Iron was prominent in extent of dealings, but closed without noteworthy change. There was a continued display of comparative activity in the United States Leather issues at advances in prices extending to 1¼ in the preferred. Consolidated Gas declined nearly 2 points on light trading.

Amalgamated Copper was the most active individual stock, and covering of short contracts was again considered responsible for an advance of 2⅛ per cent.

While only moderately active, the United States Steel issues displayed firmness throughout and closed at fractional net improvements in anticipation of an extremely favorable exhibit of earnings for the last quarter and first year's business record of the company. The showing, while understood to be considerably underestimated for March, was fully up to the most sanguine forecasts.

The directors gave formal approval to the conversion plan, under which it is proposed to retire preferred stock to the amount of $200,000,000 upon which dividends are paid at the rate of 7 per cent per annum and issue bonds to a total of $250,000,000 with interest fixed at 5 per cent. May 19 was fixed as the date upon which the project will be submitted to the shareholders.

The directors also issued a statement showing that the earnings of the corporation for the first year of its existence, which ended on March 31, with the last month estimated, reached a total of $111,067,195.

The surplus, after the 7 per cent dividend on the preferred and 4 per cent on the common stocks, amounts to $24,449,717. It is officially stated that subsidiary companies have in the aggregate a surplus of cash of $56,000,000. The $50,000,000 to be raised by the sale of bonds will give the corporation $166,000,000 in cash, to be used for the best interests of the company. Judge Gary would not say whether it was to be used for the erection of new plants.

The statement of net earnings showed that the record by months was as follows: April, 1901, $7,356,744; May, $9,612,349; June, $9,394,747; July, $9,580,151; August, $9,810,880; September, $9,272,812; October, $12,205,774; November, $9,795,841; December, $7,758,298; January, 1902, $8,901,016; February, 1902, $7,678,583; March, 1902 (estimated), $9,700,000.

The outside market was quiet but in the main displayed firmness. The features included Cast Iron Pipe issues, Dominion securities, Hide and Leather issues, National Bread common, Hackensack Meadows, and Montreal and Boston.

IN NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Railroad Stocks, and Other Securities in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The stagnant condition of the London market this morning still further deferred the hopes of the speculative contingent which has been counting upon an awakened interest. The consequence was considerable selling by tired holders and a dropping market. The sagging tendency gradually permeated the whole list, overcoming the strength of those specialties which rose strongly early in the day.

The bond market was less active, but steady. Total sales, par value, $3,480,000.

Close: Money on call steady at 2½@4¾ per cent; closed offered at 3. Prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent; sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 487¼@488 for demand and at 485⅝ for sixty days; posted rates, 486 and 488½; commercial bills at 484¾@485⅝.

Bar silver, 53⅝. Mexican dollars, 43.

WILL REPRESENT STATE NORMAL SCHOOL IN ORATORICAL CONTEST AT DE KALB.

Miss Mary L. Gay.

Normal, Ill., April 1.—[Special.]—State normal school circles are greatly interested in the outcome of the oratorical contest to be held at the Northern Illinois Normal School at De Kalb tomorrow evening.

The State Normal School here will be represented by Miss Mary Gay, a member of the senior class, whose home is in Rockport, Pike County. She recently won a contest at the local university for the Beach prize of $100 and a gold medal and the honor of representing the school at the State contest. Her oration was successful over four competitors, three of whom were male students. The subject was: "The Knight Ideal of American Politics, Theodore Roosevelt."

The winner of the De Kalb contest will represent Illinois at the interstate oratorical contest, to be held at Warrensburg, Kas., in May. A delegation of students will accompany Miss Gay to De Kalb.

STATE OF GROWING CROPS

WEATHER CONDITIONS IN MOST SECTIONS FAVORABLE.

Season in Central Areas Is Somewhat Backward, but Along Eastern Coast Nearly Three Weeks in Advance—Wheat Promises Well in All Sections—Corn in Texas Already Under Cultivation—Reports from All Sections of Illinois Promising

Washington, D. C., April 1.—[Special.]—Following is the monthly report of the climate and crop division of the Weather bureau, issued today:

The weather conditions of March were generally favorable for farming operations in the States of the Missouri, Upper Mississippi, and Ohio Valleys, and on the Atlantic coast north of North Carolina. The month was also favorable in Florida, Texas, and Oklahoma, but over the greater part of the central and east Gulf States it was unfavorable, largely on account of excessive rains.

Throughout the central and east gulf States farm work is from two to three weeks late, and in many sections much land has been badly washed.

There has been a marked improvement in the condition of winter wheat in the central valleys, although much of the late sown is in poor condition and some will be plowed up for other crops.

Oat seeding is well advanced in the States of the Missouri Valley, and is progressing in the Ohio Valley and middle Atlantic States.

Corn planting has begun as far northward as Kansas and Missouri, and preparations for planting are in progress farther north. In Texas the bulk of the corn crop has been planted and some is being cultivated.

The general outlook for fruit, excepting peaches, is encouraging.

Conditions By Districts.

New England—March favorable for farming operations; season two weeks in advance of average.

New York—March generally mild; disastrous floods first three days of March; snow disappeared by the 15th.

New Jersey—Winter unfavorable to grain and newly-seeded meadows.

Pennsylvania—Both wheat and rye wintered better than was expected and have a good stand and color.

Maryland and Delaware—Fruit outlook favorable, buds swelling.

Florida—Month favorable; much sunshine; moderate temperatures; well distributed rains.

Texas—Ample moisture for immediate requirements in northern, north-central, eastern, and east coast districts, where rain fell; condition of wheat, oats, and rye shows marked improvement and ranges greatly benefited; corn crop mostly planted, some up to good stands and being cultivated.

Arkansas—Farm work delayed first half of month by wet, unfavorable weather; conditions more favorable last half of month and farming operations advanced rapidly, but work about two weeks late.

Kentucky—Wheat greatly improved, but is poor in many central and eastern localities; peaches badly injured, but other fruits promising.

Missouri—Month generally favorable for warm work; oat sowing well advanced, except in some southern counties, where soil is too wet; considerable gardening done; a little corn planted; wheat looking well and making fine growth.

Favorable in Illinois.

Illinois—March has been favorable for farming operations; soil in excellent condition; good rains considerably improved wheat, which is in good condition, except in parts of southern district, where it is still poor, much oats seeded under favorable conditions; fruit, except peaches, promising.

Indiana—Wheat small and in some localities winter killed in spots, but generally fields are green and prospects for good crop are encouraging; peaches believed to be mostly killed; other fruit uninjured; plowing, oat seeding, gardening, and planting early potatoes in progress; ground in good condition, except too wet in extreme southern counties.

West Virginia—Practically no farm work done until third week, which was mild and pleasant; considerable plowing done then, also some oat seeding.

Ohio—March weather favorable and season well advanced; marked improvement in wheat, which, however, is generally small and in places spotted, but only slightly winter killed and now growing nicely; plowing and oat seeding under way, some gardening done, and early potatoes planted; fruit, except peaches, promising.

Good Weather in Northwest.

Michigan—March mostly dry and pleasant; plowing began, but is not yet general, other early spring work well advanced; winter wheat is small, but healthy, and in generally fair condition; fruit buds have generally wintered well.

Wisconsin—Winter wheat and rye generally in satisfactory condition, except in few localities in northeastern counties; clover badly winter killed in some sections; considerable plowing and some seeding done; soil well stored with moisture in central and northern counties; rain needed in southern.

Minnesota—Precipitation light; some dragging in central and southern portions and a little wheat seeded from the 10th to 15th; since 24th weather has been windy, cloudy, and damp, but no heavy rains; wheat seeding in progress in central and southern portions since the 25th; soil in good condition, but it will soon need rain; too early to report condition of small areas of fall sown grains.

Iowa—Month warmer than usual and weather generally favorable for early farm operations; soil in excellent condition for plowing and seeding; well advanced in all parts of State; fall wheat acreage larger than last year and wintered fairly well; stock generally healthy, with abundant forage on hand.

South Dakota—Much preparatory field work done, and in southeastern counties some spring wheat sown; soil amply moist, some lowlands too wet; winter rye generally in good condition; grass starting.

Nebraska—Warm, favorable month, considerable acreage of oats sown; winter wheat continues to look well.

Kansas—Wheat in good condition in east and greatly improved in central and west portions; oat sowing nearly completed in south and well advanced in north; corn planting progressing in southeast.

Oklahoma and Indian Territories—Copious rains place wheat in fine growing condition and crop promises a half to average yield, according to locality.

CIVIL WAR CLAIM TO BE PAID.

Assistant Auditor Eubanks of Illinois Is in Washington to Arrange for a Settlement.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—[Special.]—E. O. Eubanks, the Assistant State Auditor of Illinois, is here looking after the claims of the State growing out of equipping troops for the civil war. The claim of Illinois amounts in round numbers to $500,000, and the Assistant State Auditor is here for the purpose of ascertaining exactly what is necessary to be done in order to secure the payment of these claims. Senator Cullom, accompanied by Mr. Eubanks, called on Secretary Shaw and the Auditor for the War department today in connection with these claims, which have been held up so many years. They learned that the government has done all in its power to pay the funds to the State, but that for two or three years no progress whatever has been made because the government officials were unable to proceed pending the receipt from the State authorities of vouchers and affidavits showing the right of the State to the money claimed. The government does not dispute the amount of the claim made by Illinois, but it requires that conclusive evidence be produced which will show that the State is entitled to all it claims. Mr. Eubanks spent considerable time with Secretary Shaw and the Auditor for the War department, and he learned exactly the nature of the evidence and affidavits required, and will now return to Illinois to prepare them, so that the half million dollars can be paid over to the State without further delay.

DAY IN THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.

Collections from Duties Amount to $13,636, of Which $8,823 Is on Withdrawals.

Collections from duties at the Custom-House yesterday amounted to $13,636.28, warehouse withdrawals paying $8,823.82 and imposts $4,812.46.

The following goods arrived in bond: 839 bales matting, 100 brls herring, 100 cases walnuts, 19 cases millinery, 4 cases hardware, 6 casks wine, 18 cases wine, 2 cases dry goods, 100 cases herring, 6 logs, 127 cases earthenware, 200 cases fish, 5 cases artists' material, 1 case statuary, 3 cases seeds, 1 iron chest, 1 case drawings, 27 cases plants, 51 cases nuts, 5 cases colors, 1 case surgical instruments, 4 cases ironware, 4 cases varnish, 4 cases paper, 3 cases agricultural implements, 6 cases silks, 26 cases chinaware, 54 bales tobacco.

Entries for immediate consumption were made on the following: 31 cases [illegible] of lemon, 1 Aubusson ring, 3 cases lithographs, 1 case books, 1 case toys, 3 cases dry goods, 1 case woolens, 1 case straw braid, 27 cases still wine, 5 cases sparkling wine, 100 cases walnuts, 100 brls herring, 50 cases sardines, 150 cases fishballs, 1 case paper hangings, 8 cases medicinal preparations, 25 cases pumice, 750 sacks salt, 19 cases guns, 17 cases earthenware, 10 bales crude drugs, 15 bales burlaps, 3 cases machinery, 11 brls maple sugar, 4 cases sheep shears, 29 Padonk logs.

Complain of Court-House Service.

The Public Service committee of the Chicago Bar association met yesterday afternoon in the office of Otto C. Butz in the Reaper Building to consider complaints regarding the service given to lawyers in the Court-House. One complaint was submitted in writing, but Mr. Butz refused to make known the author of the complaint or the nature of the charge.

President Morrissey Improves.

South Bend, Ind., April 1.—[Special.]—The Very Rev. Andrew Morrissey, President of the University of Notre Dame, who has been ill for some weeks, is much better, although improvement is slow. He is now able to be up and walk about Notre Dame Infirmary, although he has not yet visited the main building.

BARGAIN MONTH IN COAL

PRICE OF LARGER SIZES IS CUT BY THE TRUST.

Reduction Is 25 to 50 Cents a Ton on Egg and Chestnut, and Beginning with May Prices Will Begin to Crawl Up Again Until Next Winter—East Fares Better than Chicago—Last Year's Cut Made a $6.60 Charge, Against $6.75 This Year.

Now is the best time for the thrifty householder to lay in a supply of large egg or chestnut coal for next winter's consumption. Prices went down to the lowest point of ebb tide yesterday. If the plans of the Anthracite association work, and they have worked in the past, the price will begin increasing after this month until it reaches high tide in the winter.

Local dealers said that the reduction to buyers would be 25 or 50 cents a ton. Twenty-five cents, they said, is the reduction made, but some dealers have been selling higher than others, and in those cases the reduction will be greater.

In the East a reduction of 50 cents a ton is announced. The officials of the Philadelphia and Reading railway made this announcement in Philadelphia yesterday.

Local dealers said that large egg would be quoted at $6.50 a ton and chestnut at $6.75, a decrease of 25 cents in each case. It was admitted, however, that dealers in the outskirts of the city had been selling as high as $7.25 a ton, so that the reduction, if prices were equalized, would be greater.

This rate will prevail only during the month of April. On May 1 there will be an increase of 10 cents and the same increase will be made on the first day of June, July, August and September until the old price has been reached.

In this reduction the trust has not done so well by the purchasers as it did a year ago, when the price went down to $6.60 and then increased 10 cents a month.

"The market is overloaded with coal just now," said the agent of an Eastern company. "The demand has fallen off with the beginning of mild weather and the market is overstocked."

AUTHOR OF "BEN BOLT" DIES.

Dr. Thomas Dunn English, Poet and Playwright, Passes Away at Newark, N. J.

Newark, N. J., April 1.—[Special.]—Dr. Thomas Dunn English, poet and writer, best known as the author of "Ben Bolt," died here this morning.

Dr. English was born in Philadelphia in 1819 and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania as a doctor of medicine in 1839. Later he studied law and was admitted to the Philadelphia bar. He engaged in newspaper work in New York from 1844 to 1859, when he came to Newark to practice medicine. He was a member of the New Jersey Legislature in 1863-'64. He served two terms in Congress from a New Jersey district.

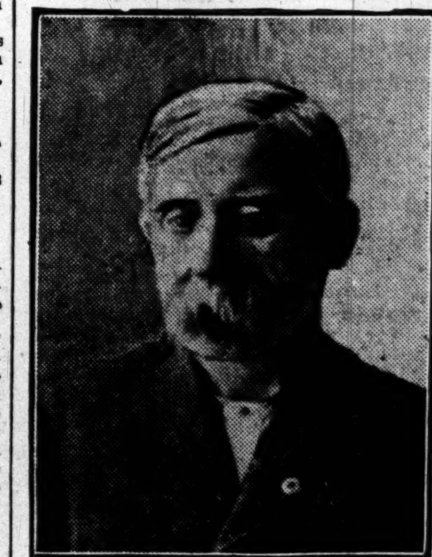

"Ben Bolt" was written fifty-eight years ago at the request of the editor of the New York Mirror, who wanted a sea song. It soon became popular and, when it was incorporated into a play a few years later, its popularity grew until it was sung over the entire civilized world.

Dr. English did not like the song, and in his later years often said he regretted having written it.

Several years ago Dr. English lost his sight and was compelled to dictate his later magazine work to his daughter, Alice English. His poems, published in books and magazines, number over 1,000, and his prose writings were extensive. He wrote more than fifty plays, of which only one achieved any lasting success.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS F. MARTIN, who died yesterday morning at his residence, 1565 Park avenue, was one of the most widely known engineers on the Northwestern railroad. He was for twenty-four years engineer on that road, and was the first to run the fast mail train west of Chicago. His record on that run has never been beaten. Besides being a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers he also was a member of the Knights of the Maccabees. He will be buried in Fulton, Ill., on Friday, to which place his remains will be taken on Thursday on the 12:35 train.

THOMAS F. MARTIN.

MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM DENISON WHIPPLE of the United States Army, retired, died of pneumonia in New York City yesterday. General Whipple was born in Casanovia, N. Y., in 1826, and graduated from West Point in 1851, from which time until the outbreak of the civil war he was stationed in the Southwest and actively engaged in several Indian campaigns. At the outbreak of the civil war he was stationed in Texas, and came across the South to reach Washington. He was present at the first battle of Bull Run as a volunteer aid to General Hunter. Later General Whipple, as Colonel of a Pennsylvania regiment, put through the draft in the Mollie Maguire district. His services were so efficient in western Pennsylvania that he was chosen to enforce the drafts in Philadelphia, where his determination and promptness prevented riots. President Lincoln appointed him Assistant Adjutant General, and made him a Brigadier General of Volunteers. Immediately after the battle of Chickamauga he became chief of staff to General George H. Thomas, commanding the Army of the Tennessee. He served with much distinction, being three times brevetted, and at the end of the war Major General of volunteers. Subsequently he was Adjutant General under Generals Sherman and Sheridan at Washington, St. Louis, Chicago, and New York, where he was retired in 1890. General Whipple married Miss Caroline Cooke, daughter of David Cooke of Philadelphia, and is survived by a daughter and a son, Mrs. Charles Deering of Evanston and Captain Herbert S. Whipple of the Third Cavalry.

WOMAN CRAZED BY CIGARETS.

Mrs. Mary Langlotz, Aged 60 Years, Learns to Smoke Late in Life and Mind Breaks.

Cincinnati, O., April 1.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Langlotz, aged 60 years, has been in humble circumstances all her life. She has worked hard and assisted her husband in making a living. Some time ago a neighbor gave her a package of cigarets. Since then she has been an incessant smoker of cigarets. A few days ago it became apparent her mind was affected. She told the neighbors she was full of electricity. She also said the clock talked and frequently said to her: "You are not a girl." Today she was adjudged insane and was sent to Longview Insane Asylum.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD

WAGNER LECTURE RECITALS DRAW LARGE AUDIENCES.

Musical and Fashionable People Turn Out in Force to Hear Mrs. W. R. Crosby and Walter Damrosch at Rival Entertainments—Wells College Western Association Holds Annual Reunion at Kinsley's—Easter Teas Come as Social Diversion.

Despite the fact of late hours at the opera and the supper parties the night before, society was up betimes yesterday morning to attend the Wagner lecture recitals. There was a choice between hearing Mrs. W. R. Crosby and Walter Damrosch. Mrs. Crosby had a fashionable audience in the salon of the Auditorium Annex, and Mr. Damrosch had an audience composed largely of the musical people of the city at Music Hall in the Fine Arts Building. Except for the presence of Mr. Mansfield, Mr. Bispham, and Clarence Eddy, Mrs. Crosby's audience was composed entirely of women. In Mr. Damrosch's audience the men predominated. Mrs. Crosby was giving her second lecture, but it was the first of the Damrosch series. Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Mrs. Eugene S. Pike, Mrs. John J. Glessner, Mrs. George Meeker, and Mrs. Robert Stone were some of those seen in Mrs. Crosby's audience, while Mrs. Watson Blair and Mrs. Platt Hunt, with a party of North Side people, went to the Demrosch recital.

An entertainment was given last evening in Music Hall, Fine Arts Building, for the benefit of the Margaret Etter Crèche. Miss Everetts of Boston, who is the guest of Mrs. R. H. Babcock of 406 Dearborn avenue, gave an impersonation from "To Have and to Hold," and there was music. Mrs. L. J. Lamson is chairman of the Crèche board, and the patronesses of the affair were Mrs. L. A. Coonley Ward, Mrs. Moses Wentworth, Mrs. J. B. Lyon, Mrs. Charles Conover, Mrs. John B. Herrick, and Mrs. Robert B. Gregory. Next Tuesday afternoon Miss Everett will repeat the impersonation at the residence of Mrs. F. S. Peabody in Evanston. Tomorrow evening Mrs. Babcock will give a dinner for her guest.

The annual reunion of the Wells College Western association was held yesterday at Kinsley's. Thirty-five persons were present at the luncheon at 1 o'clock, among them Miss Piutti, Miss Dolson, and Miss Van Benschoten of Wells College; Mrs. William Peters of Neenah, Wis.; Mrs. Charles Peaslee, Dubuque, Ia.; Mrs. E. L. Williams, Ithaca, N. Y.; Miss Gertrude Reibe, Duluth, Minn.; Miss Anna Felt, Galena, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Cariton, St. Paul; Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Lake Forest; Miss Grace Griswold, Evanston; Mrs. Baum, Galena; Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Walter Pietsch, Mrs. W. Z. Stuart, Mrs. M. A. Vinnedge, Mrs. A. Vinnedge, Miss Browning, Mrs. Alfred Hoyt, Mrs. Frank Pietsch, Miss Julia Martin, and Miss Madge Jenison.

The first of the Easter teas were given yesterday. At one Mrs. Theodore Winthrop Robinson and Miss Grace Sanger were the hostesses at the residence of Mrs. Sanger, 105 Forty-fifth street. The hours were from 4 till 7 o'clock, and Mrs. Sanger Steele assisted in receiving. At the tea table were Miss Helen Stewart, Miss Blanche Estabrook, Miss Zoe Madden and her guest, Miss Carnes of Memphis. The color scheme of yellow in the decorations was carried out with the spring flowers.

Miss Canterbury and Miss Edna Stevens of 4225 Vincennes avenue gave a tea for Miss Edith Jenkins, one of the brides of next week. White and yellow daisies decorated the rooms. The young women assisting were Miss Edith Kohlsaat, Miss Davida Harper, Miss Martin, Miss Shedd, Miss Calhoun, Miss Marion Tooker, Miss Barton, Miss Bobo, Miss Harsha, Miss Belden, and Miss Judson.

Mrs. William Greiner of 63 Lincoln avenue gave a small tea yesterday afternoon for Miss Julia Ernst. Easter lilies in the drawing-rooms and violets for the tea table were the decorations.

Miss Myrtle Batterman of 457 Dearborn avenue gave a Japanese card party yesterday afternoon. Chrysanthemums formed the decorations in one room, and cherry blossoms in another. The receiving party wore Japanese costumes. They were Mrs. Lionel Robertson, Miss Whedon, Miss Mae Press, Miss Louise Sauer, Miss Helen Hays, Miss Beatrice Booth, Miss Cora Engle, and Miss Harriet Clifford.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. H. Batterman will give a similar entertainment, and will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Allen Bower, Mrs. Edward Arnold Furst, Mrs. Warren Keeler, Mrs. F. Wilmer Cannell, and Mrs. Richard T. Whelpley.

At the wedding of Miss Julia Winne and Mr. Rodney Denistoun Chipp of New York on April 16 the bridal attendants will be: Miss Margaret Silsbee, maid of honor; Miss Adelaide Walsh, Miss Marie Rogers, Miss Kathleen McMurray, and Miss Mary Hall of Ogdensburg, N. Y. Mr. H. Armour Ward of New York will be the best man, and the ushers will be Earle Winne, brother of the bride; Groesbeck Walsh, Robert F. Hall, Vincent Walsh, William S. Miller, and Edward M. Dexter.

Mr. Volney W. Foster announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Eva Cornelia Foster, to Mr. Walter Leisenring Richter of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Robert H. Parkinson of 69 Bellevue place gave a dance last evening. It was a young people's affair, given for her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who is home for the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Archibald Kemp of New York is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. C. Lyman of 314 Walnut street.

CHICAGO YOUTH WINS HONORS.

C. A. Sawyer Jr. Chosen Second Marshal for Class Day by Seniors of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Charles A. Sawyer Jr., a Chicago youth, who is a senior student in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, has been honored in the election of class day officers. The election was one of the closest contests that has been held at the institute for years, and resulted in young Sawyer being chosen Second Marshal.

Mr. Sawyer is 20 years old. He is the son of Charles A. Sawyer of 605 Pine Grove avenue, a prominent real estate dealer, and has had a most successful record of honors held during his college career. In his freshmen year he was manager of the class baseball team. In his sophomore year he was Vice President of his class and a member of 1902 track team. His junior year at the institute saw him a member of the Technique Electoral committee and of the Executive committee of the Mining Engineer society.

In a literary way young Sawyer has been prominent among his fellow-students as editor-in-chief of Technique and assistant editor of the Tech. He belongs to the Phi Beta Epsilon fraternity.

MARSHALL FIELD & CO.

Perfection of Styles, Materials and Workmanship at Popular Prices.

Practical Millinery, Spring Coats, Tailored Suits and Shirt-waist Skirts.

The wonderfully complete and varied stocks of popular-priced merchandise in these sections are a surprise to the great numbers of purchasers that are daily making pleasing, thoroughly satisfactory selections from each line.

Popular-Priced Millinery.

The appreciation of our efforts to excel in this class of millinery has been very gratifying. The smart new styles that are being constantly introduced, the general excellence of the materials, and our determination to have our prices always the very lowest consistent with quality, are bringing customers in greater numbers than ever to the divisions of this great salesroom.

Trimmed Hats, in all the pretty plain and fancy braids, dignified in the very evident simplicity of the exclusive styles; in shaping, outlining, in the combining of colors and the manner of trimming, the best efforts of our artists are represented in these hats; the materials are the best of their kind and are specially selected for service and durability; a few of the prices, $7.50, $8.75, $10.00.

Straw Shapes—The attractiveness of the new styles in straw and the great variety of different braids in the collection offer opportunities that are unexcelled to secure shapes which, with just a touch of trimming, will be most appropriate for street hats or dress occasions; all the favored colors are represented both in plain and two-toned effects, 95c, $1.25, $1.75.

Flowers and foliage, specially selected for the trimming of these shapes, a very special value, bunch 25c.

Beautiful Silk Pompons of soft fluffy petals, ea., 75c.

Large bunches of cherries, as natural as if just plucked, with foliage, each 45c. Annex Second Floor.

Long and Short Coats.

Of these we have now a greater variety and by far greater values than we have ever displayed in any previous season. While the prices are surprisingly low in every instance, there is clearly evident in every detail of these garments, the same careful attention as is bestowed on the garments selling at higher prices.

The styles are entirely new and nearly all of them have been confined to us for Chicago.

At $10.00 we have the very best value obtainable in Short Jackets of moire velour; they are collarless, have the popular wide shoulder plait, are lined with satin, and trimmed with white stitched bands of black satin.

At $13.50—A very stylish Short Coat of fine cheviot trimmed with bands of moire velour and silk braid; an attractive feature being a little vest of white moire velour; lined entirely with taffeta.

At $15.00—An exceptionally attractive value is offered in Short Jackets of moire trimmed with satin bands stitched in white, and with vest of white moire velour.

At $16.00—There is an opportunity to secure a very serviceable and attractive Long Coat of taffeta silk; wide collar opening low in front, latest style sleeves and cuffs; close fitting back with short belt, attractively trimmed with fancy black and white braid, an extraordinary value at this price.

At $35.00—A special value in Ulsters for early spring; this is one of the best of the season's styles, made of an exceptionally fine quality of peau de soie and lined with a durable grade of taffeta; shoulder capes and chiffon collar. Fourth Floor Main Store.

Tailored Suits and Shirtwaist Skirts.

With the facilities of our own factory, and being in close contact with the largest and most successful designers and manufacturers of these popular street garments, we are enabled at all times to display in this section the largest, most desirable collection of practical, serviceable Tailored Suits and Skirts at popular prices to be found in Chicago.

The value is in the character of the styles as well as in the materials.

A very pleasing style in Blouse Suits is made of an entirely new weave in a fancy material; the blouse has a large sailor collar effect and silk vest; new gored flare skirt, drop silk lining, black or blue, special, $25.00.

Shirtwaist Skirts of fancy weave material in gray mixtures and stripes, trimmed with folds of self material and braid, $12.75.

Shirtwaist Skirts of fancy Granite Cloth, effectively tucked, black or Royal blue, $12.75.

Shirtwaist Skirts of fancy crash materials with the latest flare, special, $10.75. Fourth Floor Main Store.

A Special Value in Silk Waists.

Tailor-made Waists of black moire velour, a handsome and attractive style trimmed with tucks and clusters of crocheted buttons, one of the best values ever placed on sale in this section, $4.95. Fourth Floor Main Store.

"Eyes Tested Free."

A much displayed sign seems the stock in trade of some dealers. A dry goods merchant would as well say: "We wait on you free." Opticians' tests are always free. But it's the glasses, the fit and the price. The test is in the wearing. "To glasses or not to glasses," that is the question with you. To advise you unerringly is the purpose with us. It's conditions to deal with, not theories. Our glasses fit the conditions.
